It is with a broken heart that we share our story. On Saturday March 27, 2021 we experienced one of the most painful and difficult times in our lives. Our dad passed away unexpectedly after suffering a massive heart attack, he was 79 years old. It was an unbelievable situation to us being informed that he was doing well and then suddenly told by the doctor that due to the heart attack all of his organs were failing. He passed so rapidly that we truly didn't get to say goodbye as he was comatose and he couldn't speak. We were in shock for many reasons but most especially because he was so strong, so full of life, very active, and still drove himself from place to place. Although he wasn't a wealthy man he had a giving heart, he was always lending a helping hand to those in need and he was always the first to offer to help someone. He would pick up bags of food from the senior center and gave some to his neighbors who were also in need and didn't have the means to go themselves. He truly enjoyed being apart of the senior center, it was part of his livelihood until the pandemic hit. He truly missed it and stayed very optimistic that soon he and the others would be able to return. He was super excited that he was now fully vaccinated and was very hopeful for the future. For the past year he tried to stay busy with his home's maintenance and yard work, he loved his plants and was very proud of his beautiful garden. It is heartbreaking to know he didn't get to see his friends at the senior center to enjoy the meals and activities they shared. He was a man of faith who always prayed

My Brother suffered with Scizophrenia for many years, since he was only 17. He just turned 50 on June 3rd. Unexpectedly last week, he went to the hospital with Chest pain and heart attack symptoms. 2 days later they sent him home, saying it was his blood pressure. My father thought everything was ok, then took him for a Covid vaccine on Saturday. The next morning we get a call he was found deceased. They won't pay for an Autopsy. Because my father lives on Social Security and my brother was Disabled, there are no money saved for burial or cremation costs. We would like to have a Memorial for him, so we can say goodbye. Our hearts are breaking. He deserved better from that Hospital. And we can't afford to pay for Autopsy ourselves so we will never know if it was the Heart Attack or the vaccine. We are grateful for any help anyone can offer. He's in heaven with our Mother now. I wish I had a recent picture of him.... he rarely let us take pictures of him. Please pray for our family. He had 2 Brothers, 2 Sisters, nieces and nephews and our Dad.

ACUTE MYELOID LEUKEMIA

My parents (Bill and Julie Peterson) just celebrated their golden anniversary. It was such a beautiful evening with family. It was also the first time we could tell my dad wasn't feeling well. A few days later I took him into the ER with what we thought were severe Covid vaccine reactions. They ended up admitting him to the hospital in Waimea, and ultimately diagnosing him with acute myeloid leukemia and a case of pneumonia. His blood counts have been dangerously low so he has needed several transfusions.

August 6 at 11:25 AM ·

After second Moderna vaccine began to feel tired a lot. Things got worse from there. I just felt very sick but could not explain symptoms. It was a feeling that I had never had before. At times, I felt like my body was shutting down and was afraid I might die. My pulse rate became rapid after just walking across the room and sometimes was 157 for no reason. My taste changed and foods that I normally ate were not palatable. My nails stopped growing and my hair fell out by handfuls. I now wear a wig when I go out in public. I had 3 negative Covid tests. Has anyone else experienced similar symptoms?

Hi. My name is Crystal. I have been an RN for 20 years. My job recently mandated that we take the Covid 19 vaccine or we are terminated. I am not anti-vaxxer. I am someone with a medical education and I do not trust the vaccine. It was made pretty much overnight, not approved by the FDA and forced on us like lab rats. I hold no ill will if you took yours. You are trying to do the right thing and I get it. I also gave in and decided to take my 1st Pfizer vaccine. 10 minutes after they injected me my vision went completely blurry and I almost passed out. The my had to lay me down and put wet wash cloths all over me and they could not get my blood pressure to read. I was pale as a ghost the rest of the day. The next morning I woke up and could not see at all. Everything was double vision very blurry and I was seeing double faces. This has been going on 1 month. I have been to ER, mult drs. An eye specialist who basically told me that well since I'm 44 my vision would go bad anyway eventually. I was up hauled. I've had 20/20 vision all my life. Yes it will decline for us all but not 10 min after I had poison injected in my body. I've had Cat scans and MRI. My PCP referred me to an Eye Surgeon who is an MD. She told me she is seeing this happen with the vaccine. She said it may take 6 months to heal. It may be permanent. I was told by other dr it is permanent. Eye MD says I do not need glasses. Although I have tried I can not see through any prescription. I can not work because I can't see.

I have lost my livelihood as an Rn and my higher pay I am now suffering to pay bills and care for my family. I ask for this amount to pay my bills and care for my family. Also FYI Have never worn glasses these were forced by our Job as u can see there are plastic covering to protect Covid from getting in our eyes through air molecules.

My name is Dawn Fisher. I live in Lawrenceville Ga. with my husband of 25 years and my autistic adult son. I'm trying to raise funds to cover my monthly expenses. Rent, utilities and groceries. and also help with the mounting hospital bills that happened a month ago after I got my COVID19 vaccine. I went to the emergency room after experiencing dizziness and shortness of breath going on the 24th of June. Blood test were administered along with a series of tests. I was admitted because I needed a blood transfusion. I was put in isolation when the tests revealed my white blood count was dangerously low. Two days into the hospital stay my doctor orders a bone marrow biopsy. That made me break down. I knew that it was a serious matter then. The vaccine affected my bone marrow causing it not to make white blood cells at a normal rate.

I stayed 6 days but really didn't feel to much better, I went home and tried to return to work. I became weak and dizzy and short of breath yet again. The Dr. put me out of work for 3 weeks. I am returning to work on Monday July 26th. I am left with a compromised immune system. I will always need to wear a mask.

Medical, Illness & Healing

Hi,

My name is Tracie Hodge I am asking for help with medical bills and money for eye surgery. On May 11, 2021 I received my 2nd Covid-19 shot after work. The next day May 12, 2021 I went to work, my arm that I got the shot in began to hurt really bad. I took a Tylenol and the pain slowed. At around noon I started to have trouble breathing then my vision started to fade. I left work immediately and by the time I got home I was completely blind. My sister took me to Memorial Herman Hospital and they could not tell me why I was having breathing problems and why I was blind. I was there about seven hours. The doctor told me I had a UTI and that's all he could tell me. I questioned him and asked how could a UTI cause vision loss and breathing issues. He had no answers. This happened on a Wednesday and I was not able to see until Thursday evening. When my sight returned it only returned in my right eye. I have no vision in my left eye. Although I wear glasses I could see out of both eyes. I don't have insurance and I can't afford to see an eye doctor. Also to add insult to injury I later received bills from the Hospital for more than 11,000 dollars. I am struggling to make ends meet and now I have this bill plus due to the COVID-19 shot I have vision only in 1 eye. I have been trying to fight the bill from the hospital with no luck I also have tried to get help other ways. I am afraid my sight may go in my right eye and then what will I do. I cry almost every day I have to pray hard to keep going. This is not something I did to myself I was trying to be safe. Please find it in your heart to help me.

I wasn't going to say anything but, I feel like I should. Last week things took a turn for my family and I while I was at work. My son mom Marieta Calvert took the second vaccine and she ended up in the hospital. She's been in the hospital for pneumonia, chest pain, stomach and more for over a week close to two weeks. I've been with our kids every since. She's slowly recovering. It's been ruff for me but, it's ok because, the kids are happy and also in good spirits. If you haven't made plans , I think you should do this now.You should have a plan on what to do if one of the parents passes away or get really sicc. Basically make a will.. You need legal documents for your belongings and kids.. Life is to short for beef or disagreements. Bury that sh*t. That's why I don't have nothing against none of my kids mothers or anyone in life!!!!

My name is Zehra Michalak and currently I am a full-time student at Rasmussen University. My husband is currently out of work due to him being a DACA recipient and we are waiting for his file to finish processing. After receiving his COVID-19 shot in May, he got horrible reaction from it. He has been in and out of hospitals and seeing doctors due to his side effects. With all these bills piling up, trying to pay for school, and being the only one working it is really getting tough for us mentally and financially. It doesn't help that his license got taken away and that he lost his job due to his DACA status.

I am currently paying for his colonoscopy bill which is $2,000 with insurance, along with some other doctor bills. With this new bill, it is going to make our lives a lot more complicated. All I ask is to please contribute whatever you can, whether it be $5 or $10, anything counts. I will even show the receipt of paying this bill completely off. We just want this one out of our hands.

Hello everyone,

I want to start out saying that this may offend some and start some controversy. If so, please keep your negative comments to yourself. This is my experience of what I thought was me doing the right thing for my loved ones. For those who I encounter everyday at my place of employment. For some sort of normalcy of not wearing a mask anymore. So here goes...

On April 6th I made the decision to receive the J&J vaccine. On April 7th, I got out of bed and the bottom of my feet hurt so bad I could hardly walk. I took pain reliever to help ease my muscle aches and the pain in my feet and for the headache that had developed. And since that day I have been taking prescription strength ibuprofen and Tylenol around the clock. As days went by I could feel a difference in my legs. They started to hurt with the slightest touch, when I had pants on, or even the blankets at night. Any sort of pressure brought me to tears. They became weaker as days passed and it became difficult going up and down the 25 steps I have in my house. My knees felt like they were going to buckle. But I kept pushing through my 10 or more hour workdays and managing my household because I am stubborn. I figured it would go away. But on Friday May, 14th I called my dr because the pain had reached mid thigh and my hand and arms were beginning to feel heavy and painful. Made an appointment for the following Friday. On Monday the 17th, I called the dr back and said I don't think I can wait until Friday the pain is to my hips. Went in on Wednesday the 19th and was told to go to the emergency room and to pack an overnight bag.

From here on out my life will forever be changed...at this point my legs were extremely weak that I need assistance getting from point A to B. I chatted with a neurologist from Boston who put me through some pretty rigorous testing, blood draws multiple times a day, 4 MRI's, EMG, spinal tap, physical therapy, and occupational therapy(not all in one day, 3 of the MRI's were in one day) and a blood patch for the massive headache from the spinal tap. All of my test came back normal. Normal?? How can they be normal when I feel this bad?

It wasn't until July 13th that he found out that he and his wife Cecile had tested positive for Covid. They spent the weekend caring for each other while in quarantine. Unfortunately for Jose, his symptoms worsened. It wasn't until July 21st that he started to have problems breathing. He was immediately taken to the hospital in an ambulance after seeing that his O2 saturation was low.

It was at the UMC hospital where he spent the next 2 weeks fighting for his life. Covid had progressively gotten worse and his lungs had become inflamed. At the end, he fought long and hard, but his body had to embrace the inevitability. He was announced deceased at 11:50pm, August 6th. They were able to escort him out with pride and honor as he was shielded by the cloth of the country he had avidly fought for.

Ana Lenig is organizing this fundraiser.

Starting on June 1st, Zek started feeling ill and under the weather. As the week progressed, he became unable to move around the house without being incredibly winded. He was having issues eating and could not sleep due to the coughing that had developed. Although Zek is fully vaccinated against COVID-19, we were concerned about it, so on June 3rd, we went to a local urgent care for testing. They performed a rapid test, which came back negative. They checked his vitals and saw that his oxygen was dangerously low and that he had a very loud, high grade heart murmur. They immediately directed us to the emergency room.

Once checked in, they started Zek on oxygen and diagnosed him bacterial pneumonia. With that news, he was hospitalized, being told he would probably be discharged with in a couple days of starting antibiotics. Because of the high grade heart murmur, they ordered a CT scan and an ECHO of his heart.

Late morning on June 4th, we met with a cardiologist who explained that Zek's mitral valve had failed and he needed an open heart surgery as soon as possible to attempt to repair the valve. If the valve is unable to be repaired, he will need it replaced, which we are told will potentially need to happen every 10-15 years (unless medicine makes large strides between now and then).

This was very shocking news as Zek is 38 and has never had heart problems in the past. Throughout the day, we spoke to numerous doctors and specialists. We asked how something like this could happen. They called it the "perfect storm". They think that the pneumonia and the valve issue are purely coincidental and not related. The valve issue could of been minor for a while or it could of just started, no one knows. The cardiologist explained that if Zek had not shown symptoms and been seen so soon, his heart could not of been fixed which would of eventually been fatal. After speaking with the cardiac surgeon, we set surgery for Monday, June 7th.

Shortly after her vaccination she ended up in a wheelchair . Only able to walk short distances to the bathroom. She has multiple attacks every day and it has started to effect her brain. She has been in and out of hospital weeks at a time with no treatment that can fully treat her. We would like to try different treatments like stem cell treatment, ozone treatment,detoxes, and doctors that aren't covered by our insurance. We have already received a 200 thousand dollar insurance bill and insurance isn't going to cover 50 thousand of it. My mother has been suffering for months now and I would like her to start receiving the treatment that she needs. So I can have my mom back. We said goodbye to Norma Cordova this week. Norma went to be with the Lord on August 15th at 6:05 pm. Norma was taken off of Life Support and expired due to Covid-19 complications at the age of 65 despite being fully vaccinated (Pfizer). Norma leaves behind 6 children and 18 grandchildren. Norma's immense love for her family and her devotion to her church and community was unmatched. She loved to cook and care for anyone she came in contact with. She would never hesitate to offer help and prayer for anyone that needed it, and would literally give you the jacket off her back if you were cold no matter how cold she was. Norma loved to watch dog movies and enjoyed singing every night before bed, She was a beacon of love, hope, and unity to all those around her. She knew that one day she would meet her Savior and she was READY. Though we did not get to verbally hear her parting words, we know what she would have said:

"Hola!!!! My babies, don't cry for me. I am where I have always wanted to be. I'm dancing with the Lord."

🏠 Rent, Food & Monthly Bills

Hi, my name is Jonathan Bartholomew. I need your help. Jose and Benilde Ramirez have been close friends of mine for almost 20 years. They have both been battling Multiple Sclerosis (MS) for the last several years while working endless hours cleaning houses, sometimes 7 days a week, so they can give the best life possible to their kids (now young adults): Monica, Erik, and Christopher. They found out today that they both have contracted the COVID virus even though they are vaccinated, which is not surprising since MS is an immune system disease that can make the vaccine less effective. They are both in isolation for the next 14 to 20 days, or until they both receive a negative test result, and will not be able to work during this time. Presently, their symptoms are loss of smell and overwhelming fatigue. My hope is that this is as bad as it gets and they have a speedy recovery. They are very concerned about falling behind on their rent and other bills which total around $4000.00 per month, but they are presently okay with food. Jose told me he thinks they can get by with $2,500.00. He did not ask me for help, but I'm asking for yours. Please give what you can. I would love to relieve any financial worries they have during this time so they can just focus on resting and recovery. I'm asking we try to meet a goal of $3000.00, a little more than what they are asking for. Thank you.

Thankfully the newest brain MRI looked good with no evidence of clots. She will go back to the neurologist next month for another follow up.

She also underwent a day long series of VNG testing at the Univ of Colorado Anschutz Medical Campus in Denver. The official name is Videonystagmography, a vestibular assessment of inner ear and central motor functions. Very high tech.

The doctor said it showed that there is constant nystagmus when wearing light blocking goggles. If you remember spinning in circles until you couldn't see straight when you stopped, that rapid bouncing motion in your eyes was nystagmus. Christy has it constantly. :(

There is also hearing loss. They believe that the inner ear damage is an overreactive immune response to the J&J vaccine. It has caused vestibular damage and severe swelling. This is the most likely cause of the debilitating, near-constant vertigo, nausea, and headaches that she has endured since April.

<https://t.me/covidvaccineinjuries>

Vestibular PT started this week, which is no walk in the park. I'm constantly amazed at Christy's strength and persistence in handling the ongoing challenges, even though she's exhausted by it all.

Christy has worked so hard to try and maintain a positive outlook, but it has been a struggle fighting against so much discouragement. It often feels like she is just lying there while the rest of the world goes by outside her window. One of the most difficult things was that she missed almost all of Lindsay's amazing summer on a competitive softball team, only able to distantly watch games that were streamed online.

It is also hard to believe that she has missed a third of the year with her kids at school. She remains on indefinite medical leave of absence from work; it is so hard for her hard to know that she won't be seeing the kids again for a while. It has also greatly compounded their financial issues with the ongoing and overwhelming medical bills.

Holly Woodill Lindberg Thank you. My son has been on Pepcid twice a day (trying to help with GI issues, but it also has antihistamine properties). He has also taken Unison some with doxylamine succinate for insomnia, and occasionally taking Benadryl, but no regular/consistent antihistamines. He has been on a low-histamine diet and stopped drinking any caffeine.

Hi everyone, my son has been having many symptoms (inverted sunburn, off-balance, brain fog, muscle cramps, muscle twitching, pressure in head, chest pain, GI issues...the list goes on) since his J shot 7 weeks ago. We have an appointment with an allergist/immunologist next week, and I am trying to prepare with questions and testing requests. For those of you who are ahead of us in this journey, what should we be asking of the allergist/immunologist? Any specific tests while they are doing a blood draw? Thank you in advance for your help! So thankful for this group!

I went to an immunologist and was tested for 75 different environmental allergens and have no allergies to anything. They did a test to make sure the testing process was working and injected me with histamine and I got a huge welt requiring hydrocortisone cream. I would ask for a histamine test, an MCAS test, they also did a covid antibodies test and a test to see if I had covid previously. Definitely ask for all of those. What they did not test me for is food allergens. Sadly, he said everything looks great but it sure doesn't feel great. I would ask the doc if they have experience with MCAS. Wishing you all the best for a great doctor and an amazing outcome!

So here's my story (sorry in advance for the longevity). I had my first (and only) Moderna vaccine on March 8th and immediately felt a shooting pain in the veins in my right eye (shot was in my left arm). The very next day I had severe acid reflux, stabbing stomach pains, diarrhea, nausea, cramping and muscle spasms as well as tongue swelling and numbness. This lasted about a month and I lost 27 pounds the first month which resulted in dehydration and a trip to the ER. They sent me to a gastro-interologist who found nothing wrong and since I have a colonoscopy every 5 years due to a family history of cancer, my last one in 2018 was clear. After about 2 weeks I had insomnia, anxiety and... More

Anybody have red sores on the roof of their mouth? Also, the blood vessels on the back of my throat around the tonsils and back of my throat are red and busted. Wondering if this is small vessels busting or inflammation.

Where to start. Had the first M. V Jan 8 and second Feb8. Never connected the dots until the last 2 mths. In Utah. Debilitated, down 45 pounds. 30 + doc appts. MRI with contrast..will to see a doc virtual in person anywhere on the planet to help. Where do I start? I can hardly feed myself let alone digest all the information on this page. Last year this time I was taking my kids backpacking, had been to Paris, Africa and Portugal before borders closed. Now I can't even stand due to Erythromelagia in my feet. Sun hits them and game over...all I can do is be still. Trying to keep a healing mindset but after 6 mths.... I'm willing to spend my life savings on a doc. Any recommendations?

Hopefully a very positive day. He has slept a lot. He was seen by a haematologist and Infectious disease doctor. A whole heap of blood tests, cultures, CT scan and ultrasounds done today. The ID doc thinks he has a diagnosis but is looking to confirm with some further tests. His background interest is vaccines and he's already done research. He thinks there's a definite link to the vaccine as well as culture negative endocarditis. He doesn't think it's EBV at all. Irregular heart beat, bouncing BP and heart rate. Temps holding under 38 and white cell count coming back down again. Starting on two new antibiotics to treat the heart diagnosis. Fingers crossed

This is our dad. We lost him in January unexpectedly 24 hours after he received the M sh0t. He was healthy, no medical problems. No one cared to investigate, I begged and pleaded with the Coroners office and they did not care. He died at home so they refused to do an autopsy and just put their best guess on his death certificate. This has been devastating for our family.

My point is not to tell you to not get the sh0t. I think it's wonderful you may have found an option that works for your family and your personal health history! This is not black and white, nor Republican or Democrat.

My point is this: just because someone does not want to get the sh0t, that does not make them dumb, ignorant or a conspiracy theorist.

It should be everyone's own personal choice and no one should be forced into this.

Almost 13,000 Americans have died from a side effect from this sh0t and no one seems to care enough to look into it, media is silent. These people mattered. My dad mattered!

My doctor has advised me against getting the sh0t after what happened to my dad and also I've already been positive. Does that mean I shouldn't be allowed to go travel, go to restaurants or lose my job? Everyone's story is different and unique and should be respected. America can do better than this.

The toxicology report for my brother Ky Metsker came back clean. The Coroner said there is no way to prove it but the covid 19 shot given 8 days before his cardiac arrest was the only contributing factor. The pathologist said he was a healthy adult, no heart or liver disease. He was 34 years old and killed by the vaccine. I can't even breathe. 🤔💔

When I got vaccinated in March, I was happy to take that step to protect myself, my family, and my community from the virus. I understood there would be a minor chance of an adverse reaction- but, like most people, I thought it would not happen to me. Now, four months later, I still have inflammation in my brain.

Perhaps I would accept this outcome quietly if I felt supported by the medical community, congress and regulating agencies. I have written to the FDA, NIH, VAERS, Moderna, members of Congress and press. I applied to participate in multiple studies at the NIH. And have heard absolutely nothing back from anyone. If the regulating agencies refuse to acknowledge that these neurological side effects exist, doctors do not know how to treat us, and in many cases, don't believe us.

You may think that in America, surely there would be a network, compensation, medical teams and support designated to help those injured by a vaccine. There isn't. In this case, because it is so highly politicized, you are mocked, censored, gaslighted and silenced. Some of us even pretend to have "longhaul covid" instead of a vaccine injury, in order to get treatment and respect from the medical community. It's socially acceptable to get injured from COVID, but not from the vaccine.

No person who gave their health to help their community deserves to be ostracized, criticized and ridiculed in return. We need support.

CHRISTINE'S STORY

Few days ago I got a vaccine. 20 minutes after my chest became numb. My knees are shaking. My neck got stiff; I had difficulty breathing and talking. I thought I couldn't do it. I was so scared, it seems like there's something stuck on my chest and a sharp head. Doctors say probably to my goiter they can't even say what's really going on. said bell's palsy, mildstroke maybe or something to my hyperthyroidism. but still no answer what happened to me after the vaccination I'm scared to death to think that covid vaccine is still being studied and I have this feeling after vacation that I should be okay.. 1 out of 100 Vacation, I am one of those who experienced this. HOW AM I? THE WORLD CAN MOVE ON LITTLE BY LITTLE BUT I'M LEFT BEHIND BECAUSE THE KNOWLEDGE OF THE SITUATION IS NOT ENOUGH TO AVOID THE PAIN OF THE CORONA. HOW AM I?

ONE LIFE FOR MANY? AM I STILL IMPORTANT? HOW IS MY FAMILY? HOW ARE WE GOING TO SPEND IT?

Being in the hospital is not a joke. Someone will help (maybe) but how about the daily routine how about me. how about my child how will I overcome I pray that this is just a joke. But I am living proof. I feel something that hurts inside me physically and emotionally I'M TIRED. (what if I say I'm okay but when it takes too long I suddenly fell and disappeared. What am I going to do? )

So many are asking, so many are kuro kuro kuro but what is the disease that this vaccine brought to me, how will I be healed? What is the way to be healed? not enough laboratory to see the pain i feel.

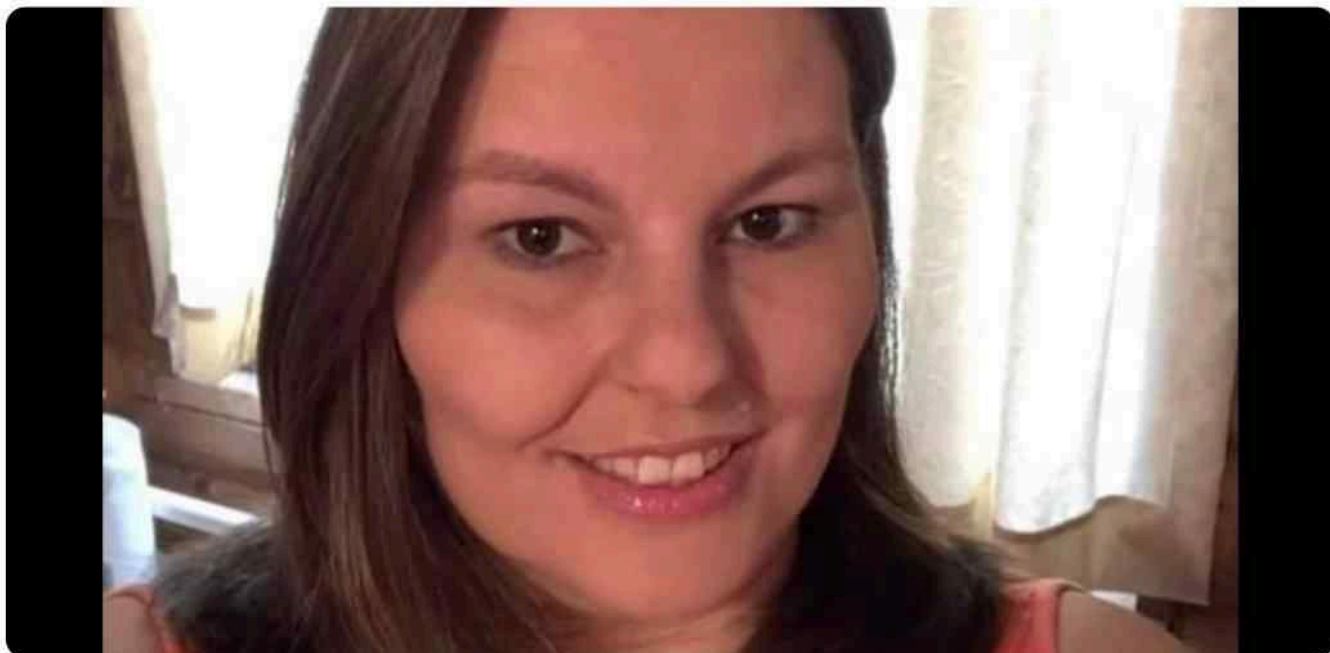

I'm slowly getting weak, it seems like my inside is beating but there is no evidence, how will I overcome this. maybe when time passes the world will forget me. How about me? how about those who don't have enough courage to say how about them. ❤️

Hello all, I experienced what I believe to be a psychotic episode 10 hours after receiving my second Moderna shot. I began to hallucinate, violently shake uncontrollably, hit myself, and pull out my hair. I ran out in the street in my underwear and called 911 and I was screaming/biting/shaking and I ran from the police after being handcuffed. The hospital gave me a sedative and told me I just had a panic attack but I have never experienced anything remotely similar and I was not in the least bit concerned about the vaccine as I trusted it and had zero symptoms from my first dose. Just a thought...

The vaccine is bs completely
5 of us received it in our family

1 died 3 months after receiving it with a very high count of luekemia that wasn't even in existence 3 months prior to the vaccine (my dad) Pfizer

1 has long term heart and high blood pressure health issues at 44 years old that didn't exist prior to vaccine not to mention severe instant major side effects that lasted over a month (me) Moderna

1 has an unrecognizable constant painful rash that is so painful it's put her in the hospital (Mom) Pfizer

1 has an IBS medical condition that went from moderate to severe almost instantly (daughter) Pfizer

And the one we thought got thru it with no side effects or long term effects ended up in the hospital with covid (husband) Pfizer (possibly placebo)

This is no joke the pain anguish fear and loss our family has suffered with this stupid shot !!!!

Post shot 1 of the Pfizer vaccine, I became extremely fatigued and depressed. This is nearing the three week mark now. Not only did I experience mental symptoms, but physical, hormonal symptoms as well. Parts of my body were experiencing chronic inflammation and soreness. On top of that, my cycle began a week early! Please explain that to me! Let me just add, I'm not on a single medication/prescription, and I have never received a flu shot.

I'm telling you this because I'm a real person with real responses to this vaccine, and that was only the first shot. They won't report the side effects on the news, nor will they list them in the warning packet before you get the shot. I am not anti-vaccine, but I'm sick and tired of doctors and medical professionals pushing this on the public in the name of safety without having ANY idea of the long term/short term health effects. It is COMPLETE ignorance! THE VACCINE ISN'T FOR EVERYBODY.

Get the vaccine they said, you'll be fine they said.

I did NOT want it. Let me just start with that... I'm all for vaccines, but didn't want this one... i only got the first dose and refuse to get the second. I don't trust it and it isn't even FDA approved. Not to mention how many issues people have had after.... YES, some people are fine after. But A LOT are not. Mostly young people who are healthy.

Here I am, 25 years old, sitting in the hospital hooked up to monitors for my heart and getting bloodwork. I'm getting put on a beta blocker because my heart rate is so high and it's hard for me to catch my breath. It's been in the 120's while I've been sleeping when it's supposed to be around 60.

Everyone is trying to do what's best for them or their loved ones, but I 140% regret being bullied into getting this.

They have no idea where this came from but said "It is highly likely this is a result from the vaccine".

I can't reply to everyone right now but I did get Pfizer, 2 weeks ago. I've been having the problems since. I'm being put on a beta blocker to slow my heart rate and hopefully be able to breathe normally again. I have to follow up with a cardiologist and they say I may have to be on this medicine anywhere from 6 months to the rest of my life.

I had my second M V on 5/6. Two days later I had numbness and tingling in my arms, hands, legs and feet that come and goes as it pleases. I'm tired and sometimes feel uncomfortable twitching and spasms. This has impacted my ability to sleep at times. I also feel like I'm in a fog sometimes and forget words.

I have had: a head CT without contrast, chest routine pa/lat, mri without contrast, emg, ekg and lab work. Everything is normal.

They have not found what is causing it. I was diagnosed with an allergy to the v.

I don't want my kids to get it but am concerned that eventually it will be mandated so I'm trying to understand what it is. In hope that they cannot mandate it if it's hereditary.

This is my stepdad, he had the injection (astra and now has a blood clot, swollen leg/ankle and a massive rash.

He is on blood thinners, may have to have his leg amputated and carries a medical card everywhere he goes.

It was confirmed that the injection is the cause of it all from the gp and hospital.

Please, please really think before you take any of these. I did warn family before they took the injections.

As someone who was hurt by the pfizer vaccine, nobody should be forced to take it to continue a normal life. I still deal with numbness in arms and legs now 4 months later after only one shot. Im a Rare case and if you are older and at real risk of dying from covid then get the vaccine but if you are young and have severe allergies or get allergies very easily please don't.

I had my first and only pfizer vaccine March 19 when they opened it up for people with health conditions. I was scared I would get hives or anaphylaxis because of my history so I stayed the 30 extra min. Good thing I did because 30min later I had numbness in right leg and arm. The nurse at vaccine site freaked out and called an ambulance on me and by the time I got to ER my face went numb. They thought I had a stroke but luckily my head Ct was good. We left with no answers and I was still numb for several days... today I still have numbness and weakness in both arms and legs that come and go and sometimes part of my face goings numb for whatever reason. I'm now going to my second neurologist to try and get atleast a diagnosis and hopefully it will eventually go away but hell no I'm not ever getting another one.

Hopefully the new vaccine that should be coming out by end of year will have less problems because it's more of a traditional type of vaccine not using MRNA or spike proteins. These that are out now are just causing too many problems that are not being talking about.

!! PLEASE FULLY READ!!! MY LIFE EXPERIENCE ABOUT THE VACCINE!! !!

I literally only went to get the COVID-19 vaccine so I wouldn't have issues traveling outside of the country.... but I tell you what. My right side of my face might be permanently numb now. I thought there was something wrong with my brain or nervous system (my paternal grandmother died of brain cancer). I paid to see a neurologist and paid to have a MRI of my brain with and without contrast. Thankfully (thank you God) everything was clear. The neurologist said nothing is wrong with me. No tumors. Nothing blocking the nerves. Nothing. She only said she could treat the symptoms (which meant giving me medicine to help with the pain and numbness in my right side of my face).

Now I did more thinking and research. This all started shortly after my COVID-19 vaccine. I literally had a trained professional and MRI imaging done and it proved there's no real cause. This normal happens when there's a blockage or damage to a certain nerve from the brain to your face my neurologist explained to me.

But now as I piece it all together I truly believe this was caused by the COVID-19 vaccine. What other answer is there? I am calling to report my reaction today (not sure if they will even notify the public so I wanted people to know)

Kelley Knouse Geurin thank you, but the numbness and pain won't go away. It hurts to even wipe my nose. And now even anything extremely hot or extremely cold hurts only the right side. It's been since I've gotten the vaccine (I'm fully vaccinated now but nothing changed. It hasn't gotten worse and it hasn't gotten better)

I'm just going to get this off my chest especially now. If you choose to get the Covid Vaccine I support you, if you don't I support you. Please stop forcing this shot on people or shaming them for not receiving it. My mother just received her first dose and with in 3 hours had a mild heart attack. She does not have any heart conditions. I will not get this vaccination nor will my children. I know the risks of a virus with a 98% survival rate. (We have had Covid in this house) I will not shame you for your choices but do not ever tell me I'm selfish or anything else for refusing to vaccinate. My mother is now sitting in a cardiac unit stable thank God and will be there until they can clear her. I am beyond angry that this was forced on her due to her living arrangements. No one should be forced to do anything to their bodies especially not cleared with FDA approval. I'm not here looking for anything other than this can happen and people just don't want to share side effects especially major ones and we are being told we have to and are selfish for not complying. Well she did and now look what happened. I pray for healing and understanding but don't ever come to me about this vaccine.

Sharing this. My mom is this. It started with a heart attack, fluid around her heart and lungs. Now she is in multi organ failure. Again personal choice but info like this is censored. My beliefs are different than yours maybe. However I am living what this man is saying. My mom WILL DIE due to 1 dose of Pfizer.

Today had to be one of our hardest days with my mother. She is on hospice in our home. She requires 24/7 care, that at times is beyond my knowledge of what to do, yet we are left to try to what we know. Today, I had to ask for help, today a nurse sat for 45 min waiting for me to get medicine for my mother that the pharmacy was suppose to have ready. Today I was yelled at while in tears about Covid and the Vaccine. Well we are here because of the vaccine. Today I watched my mother scream in pain and all I could do was hold her hand as I cried. My mom will die, only God knows when, but she will die. My children have seen more than they need to, been through more than they need to. Everyone, has their opinion on Covid and what we should and should not do. I have seen and been exposed to so much hate due to my feelings on this Vaccine. Covid is very much real, we have experienced in our home. I am a firm believer of freedom of choice. But today all I could think of as I was yelled at by an employee who obviously sees things differently than I do, gave no care for my feelings, no care my mother is dying. She was full of hate. In a world that is so torn right now, so divided, stoping judging, stoping hating. You don't know each persons story. Your beliefs do not trump others. Your science may be different than others. Be KIND, you don't know what people are going through. I won't vaccinate, but if you do I support you, I won't question you, so please understand those who don't. Things are pretty one sided right now and God is definitely testing us, so please be

BODY STOPPED MAKING RED BLOOD CELLS

#protectyourfamily My body has stopped making red blood cells right after my first V M, May 22. The week I took the shot I knew something was wrong but I thought it was my weight that made my heart race and heavy breathing but it was different, it was like I would take a few steps and it felt like I had just ran miles. The day that my husband took me to another doctor, my red blood count was at 5, 30 min later at the ER it was at a 4 normal for women is 12-15. We are trying to use steroids to "jump-start" my red blood cells. It was up a point this week, it has been up a point before only to drop. It has 4 points more to be normal, to be honest, I don't see it happening other than a miracle.

I feel like I will pass out and there are days that I just want to sleep. My body feels like it is suffocating or that I will have a stroke from headaches as I've never had before. Everyone should know the pros and cons. I researched before I got mine, but I now know things were hidden, all I saw was how great it would be to not have to wear a mask or not get covid, trust me, there are other horrors. I don't know your risk with covid so I'm not telling anyone to get the shot or not, but I am telling you that you are playing Russian roulette there are many people like me that have major health issues from the vac.

Now I have to get blood every 2 weeks. We won't even talk about the medical bills for someone that doesn't have insurance anymore.

Why are more stories like ours not shown, I guess they are being deleted. May 22, 2021 I took the Moderna I now have to have blood transfusions every 2 weeks. My heart races and I fight to breathe if I walk a few steps. If the vaccine is being pushed they need to talk about major health issues to look for afterward. I guess if I had died they would have said it was a "blood clot", no my body stopped making red blood cells after the Moderna vaccine. Before May 22, 2021 I was healthy other than my weight, I wasn't on any meds at all.

Ughhh I feel the same way. I reluctantly went and got 1st P dose back in May. My decision was based on pressure from family, friends, news etc. I ONLY received it because I was getting nervous about not being able to do things, travel, go out to eat, shop and being in the hospitality industry I knew I was only a matter of time before it would be mandated. After the 1st I decided I was not going to get the 2nd. Again time went on and I started getting nervous about all of the above and again pressured into it again. So I reluctantly sucked it up and went. I initially felt tingling in my finger tips. That was about it. 2 days after the vaccine the muscle under my left eye started visibly twitching. I went and looked in the mirror and could see it. I have had a normal eye twitch IN my eye that was not visible but this was different. It happened on and off for a few days than thankfully stopped. 3 days after the vaccine I noticed a big painful bump (size of a large grape) behind my ear. Next to it 3 smaller painful bumps. I searched it up and they are lymph nodes. 8 days after the vaccine I noticed I was "spotting". It happens-very rarely. I am post menopausal (age 50) I haven't had a menstrual cycle in over 5 solid years. 9 Days after the vaccine I woke up to a full on heavy menstrual cycle with cramps. WTF?! Are these seriously coincidences? I personally don't think so. My head feels like it is going to explode (headache). Still on my cycle, still have the the painful bumps (lymph nodes) and I really just feel blah. I am soooo mad at myself for getting the damn shot. I am not anti vaccine just anti this vaccine. Too soon. I DID NOT WANT THE SHOT! I felt I was pressured/forced into it. I am so damn angry. My children are 14 and 12. There is no way they are getting this vaccine. I know in a few weeks They will mandate it. I just know it. I don't know what I am going to do. Homeschool I guess. This whole thing is not right. Nothing makes sense.

My name is Zeng. I was a chef from Bamboo. In order to help end the pandemic, I did my part by accepting two doses of Pfizer vaccine. After the second shot on June 6, I couldn't walk after 2 weeks, and was diagnosed with a very rare cancer called "boblet cell adenocarcinoma" after a little bit over a month. From July 14 to July 26, 7 tumors grew in my brain, 1 in my right eye, and numerous in my body, organs, and vessels. My hemoglobin dropped from 14 to 7.5. My kidney completely failed. Fluid filled my lungs. UPenn recommended moving me to hospice care and announced the end of my life. My beloved wife flew from Sichuan, China to accompany me on the final journey of my life. I always thought I would take care of my wife until she is too old to walk. I realized I would only leave her with bills, debts, and heartaches. I appreciate the prayers from great friends and customers. Please help my wife and I out with the medical bills, travel and living costs, and my possible funeral costs. Your generosity is much appreciated.

She got really sick from the first shot the second shot made her even sicker. Then headaches started and just not feeling good. Within 2 months she went from this happy healthy girl to having a massive stroke and having to learn to walk and talk again . With her not working at the facility anymore due to having the stroke that meant she wouldn't be covered on their insurance anymore. 2 days after being released from the rehabilitation center she started running a fever and was diagnosed with covid that she contracted from her also vaccinated masked therapist. Someone told me yesterday "I'm sorry about your dad, but the vaccine is still saving more people than it's killing."

That's not how medicine works. We are not herds of cattle where you force compliance that might kill us. You save some and you lose some, oh well type thinking. We are humans who have rights. That includes the right to not be psychologically manipulated.

You can't ethically knowingly give preventative treatment to unsick people when you know that treatment can cause death. Especially not when that person has preexisting conditions which make death from the treatment more likely.

My Dad, My Protector and My best friend

It has been 14 days since my dad passed away. On August 7, 2021 at 2:50PM, Jorge Isaac Dominguez Nieto passed away at age 74, in Veracruz, MX. He would have been 75 years old September 28th. He is survived by 5 children. Linda Libertad , Maria de Los Angeles , Jorge, Sanat and I. He has grandchildren and great grandchildren.

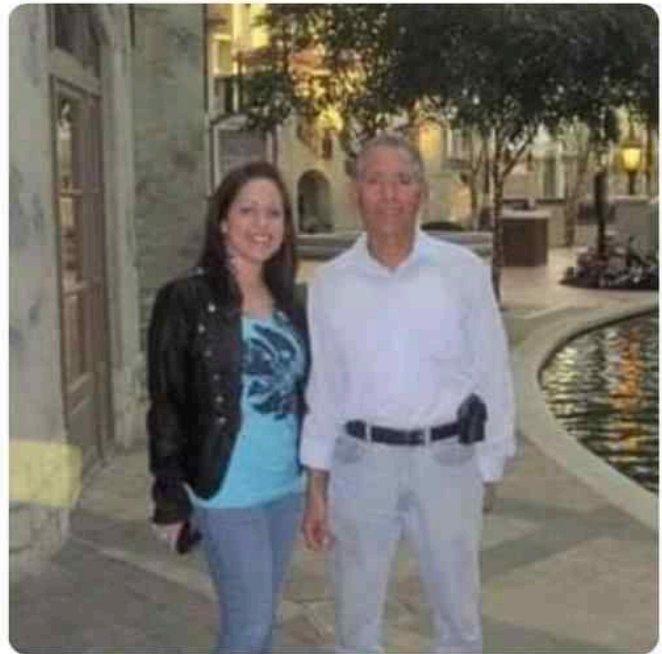

I would like to thank everyone who reached out to me who found out through friends and relatives. I did shut down and really did not tell anyone. But your calls, text, emails all meant so much. I apologize for not saying anything to anyone my heart has been heavy and I was shocked!

I had just gone to visit my dad July 1-6th. It had been about 3 years due to life and COVID. I usually see him once a year for about 2-3 wks. At a time. I did not know I was having the last dinner with him, the last car ride, the last laugh or getting the last long hug good bye from him. About a week or so after I left he became sick with COVID. He was given medicine and he was fully vaccinated. I had the worst feeling in the world and I felt I was losing my dad but he assured me he was getting better. He even sounded better and was talking again. It was a regular check up at the doc to see what COVID did. He told me to stay calm he is a healthy guy, vaccinated and he will be OK. I said "OK, Love you DAD! Oh and don't forget to call me as soon as you are done with your check up! He said , Yes I will..don't worry.. love you bye" Those were his last words to me. We were told he had a untreated heart attack and his heart was weak. The hospital kept him. He was not allowed a phone or anyone to be there in the room with him. A couple days later he was gone.

I want to thank my aunt Linda for taking care of my dad and my sister Maria, Jorge Dominguez my brother for being amazing while I was out there. It brought us together when we had not seen each other in years. And I look forward to continuing to nourish those relationships.

My dad was known as a healer, a wise man, a welder or a passionate Kung fu guy!

He lived in Mexico but not always as I was born and raised in California where he met my mom. To me my dad was my rock, my best friend and counselor and biggest cheerleader. He has always been the one I called for comfort, advice, the one I trusted the most. The first one to call me on my birthday and sing to me. When he answered the phone he always said hello beautiful how is my darlin doing? I am going to miss him everyday, every hour and every minute. I know he would not want me to be sad and want me to continue succeeding in my career so that is what I will do but I will miss him with all my heart. I won't say good by because I know his energy and spirit will live on forever!!!

#protectyourfamily and also learn from my mistake. I will NOT be getting the 2nd round of Pfizer, nor will my family be getting it or any other kind.

Saturday, August 7th, I got the 1st dose of Pfizer around 5 PM. Everything was fine, we enjoyed the night at RR Days. I went to lay down at around 1 AM and BOOM! It hit instantly. I was having hot flashes, my throat started to become sore and I mean within 5 minutes or less. I started having difficulty swallowing and everything was becoming hazy. I couldn't feel my face and my body was tingling all over. It was a feeling I've never experienced.

Before 10 minutes even went by I was on the phone with 911 and my husband was putting me in the car. I was gasping for him to go faster because I honestly thought I was going to die. The rescue squad couldn't make it there in enough time so they let the ER know that we were on the way. Apparently we were doing almost 100, but it felt like we were moving through the twilight zone. My air flow was quickly closing. We finally arrived and I was given the medications listed below. That was also a wild ride! We also had our son with us, thankfully he was asleep through all of this. The verdict? On top of anaphylactic shock.

While everything above is absolutely terrifying, I'm wondering what would have happened had I fell asleep? Would I be here now telling my story? We all have an expiration date, but I would like to stick around a little while longer if I can help it. ** I also recieved word that a dear friend passed away in their sleep the same day they got their 1st round.

The nurses advised that I get up with my physican to see about getting exempt from the 2nd round if it becomes "mandatory." So a question that I have for my fellow nursing, NP, or doctor friends on here- is that even a thing yet? Can you be exempt? Either way, I will not be getting it again.

And don't come after me. I'm only sharing my awful experience. Everyone reacts differently. If you want it, get it. I'm not going to give my horror story every time I hear someone say they plan on getting it. You are free to do as you choose. But for the love of God, please stop pushing "GeT yOuR vAcCiNe So We CaN gEt BaCk To NorMaL." Unfortunately, these vaccines are much like a game of Russian Roulette.

This happened to me in January from the Moderna vaccine. Ironically everything you described and more. I had hives and felt like my body was being bitten by fire ants as well. It was awful and it landed me in the hospital for anaphylaxis as well. Steroids and lots of atarax later I'm here today. My doctor and team at the hospital signed off on me not getting the second vaccine. I also was contacted from Moderna and they told me that I cannot get the second vaccine. I was told at a later time if they can figure out what cause the reaction I may be a suitable candidate for a vaccine in the future. I have 30 years in healthcare and work with Covid patients. I can't imagine being forced to take a vaccine that would kill me the second time or potentially get sick from getting the virus due to co-morbidities. Prayer to you and your journey. To answer your question yes you can get an exemption if you are proven medically unable to get the vaccine due to anaphylaxis. Please call Pfizer and let them know your reaction too so they can figure out why some of us are having these rare or not so rare dangerous reactions. Good luck

I took the Pfizer vaccine because my daughter in law who is pregnant with my first grandchild told me she would feel better if I got it before interacting with my grandchild. I had little confidence in the shot. I was sure it would become a year booster needed just like the flu shot which was also introduced originally with the title flu vaccine.

But I'm old, I've fought breast cancer, have a dead thyroid, and am dealing with autoimmune disease rheumatoid arthritis, so what's one more health issue side effect, I figured. I didn't want to be denied access to the maternity ward, I went and got the shot.

For those of us taking medication for RA, we are instructed by our rheumatologists to refrain from taking our medication a week prior and a week after getting the shot. Our medication suppresses our immune system, and since this shot was supposed to jump start it, it would be counter productive to take our meds. I followed the directions my doc gave me.

First shot, no side effects. They advise you not get it in your primary arm, I'm right handed but I'm not allowed to get shots in my left arm due to lymph nodes were all removed from cancer surgery. So I got it in my primary right hand arm.

Second shot same as the first, except the following morning I was awoken, soaking wet with sweat, had great chills, and a desperate need to vomit. This continued all day long. Fever, aches, chills, vomiting. And Ofcourse no energy. Middle of the afternoon I suffered a horrible sharp pain in the chest bone. Now I know bone pain. I have RA. This was worst than any thing I have ever experienced....and at the same time my right hand became numb and my fingers tingled. I couldn't pick up anything with my fingers. I thought to myself, I'm having a heart attack, and I laid still trying to calm the terror I felt. And then time to throw up again hit.

This continued throughout the day. I rode it out. The following morning I was fever free, aches gone, and vomiting stopped. I was exhausted but no longer felt close to death.

I had double checked all the ingredients in the vaccine, making sure I had no allergies. I had already had covid first week in January 2020, before it was announced in USA. I had an antibodies test months after and it proved me positive for antibodies. So I did have covid. The only symptoms I had was a tickle in my throat and tiredness. No fever, no other symptoms.

If I have antibodies already, there was no reason to get the vaccine as far as I can understand.

At the time I received my vaccine, early summer, CDC along with Pharmaceutical companies had announced autoimmune patients would only receive up to 40% protection from the virus by taking the vaccine. It doesn't even give me 50% protection people!

My long term effects from the vaccine is I now have developed an issue with my lungs, a fluid settles nightly. This never happened before in my health history. But now I find myself gagging for breath in the morning, and for an hour coughing up mucus. The week before my first shot, my doctor said my lungs were clear and my breathing normal. Now, I have a wheeze and a rattle in my lungs. X-rays of my lungs are planned later next month. But I am certain this vaccine either awoken a dormant covid virus in me or it did some damage to my health. 🤔 1

I had a severe reaction after the first Moderna. About 30-40 minutes after I started to feel my lips swell. Within the hour my tongue and lips were swollen and my throat scratchy. I took Benadryl and called my PCP. I stayed awake as long as I could but after a second dose fell asleep for the night and woke up to extreme rashes all over my body. I was recommended an allergist since I have never had a reaction to any medication or vaccinations in the past, but they aren't testing for the ingredients in the specific vaccines so the results came out inconclusive. The company I work for mandated the vaccine and I was lucky enough to get a medical exception, but how long will that hold against the new mandates?

I been having this weird rashes too this past weeks and I never had this before the the 2nd shots of moderna last March. It come and go in different part of my body this past few weeks, accompanied by leg spasm at night and sometimes knee joint pain that last for hours. Experienced the weird vertigo for first time after the shots too last month. My doctor has no clue and said that its probably something I ate and prescribed me antihestamine. Im now getting concerned and doing all this research myself because now my employer is recomending about the booster shots. I have no known alergy of any kind before.

Im so glad that more people are speaking up about the affects. I recieved my first Pfizer vaccine June 21st, I ended up in the ER for chest pains, difficulty breathing, and palpitations. After blood work and back and forth with my doctor, I saw my rheumatologist and was flagged for Lupus (SLE). My doctors are saying that this is an aberrant inflammatory response caused by the adjuvant.... I have never had Lupus or any kind of autoimmune/arthritis condition. My life hasnt been the same since. I can barely walk, go outside without being in pain from light sensitivity, My body hurts all over... I sleep constantly...I have terrible night sweats...I can't even open water bottles, it's hard for me to shower without feeling weak and tired... Just Two weeks before I took the first vaccine I successfully climbed one of the largest mountains on Oahu (Koko Head) I took a nuclear bone scan the other day, and there is also signs of degeneration in the joints in my hands. These effects might not happen to everyone but they do happen... please acknowledge them! #protectyourfamily #protectyourself 🙏🙏

He died two weeks after carrying out the Covid 19 vaccine with Pfizer. 14-year-old Maximiliano Marcacci, from Lesa, died on Monday, June 14, at dawn around six. Of course at the moment nothing demonstrates the possible correlation between injection and death.

The man had received the vaccine on Sunday, May 30th at PalaGreen in via Monte Zeda in Arona. On the same day, mid-afternoon, an illness had killed 52-year-old Andrea Pirali, a resident of Mercurago fraction, who had just been vaccinated always at the PalaGreen #protectyourfamily My husband (85 y/o) and I both received the Moderna vaccine in February and March. Five months later, he has been experiencing extremely low blood pressure, fatigue, dizziness and mild chest pain which he never had before, ever!

We are concerned he is experiencing myocarditis which is consistent with reactions due to the spike protein accumulation in the myocardium.

We pray this may subside and not actually result in irreversible damage to his heart. Trusting! Yet having reservations! Needless to say we won't be getting the 3rd!

In May of 2021 I got the Moderna vaccine. I was so desperate for the world to go back to normal that I would have done anything to help that along.

Before the vaccine I was a perfectly healthy 32 year old woman. I hiked to the top of steep mountains, rode bikes with my family, walked 20,000 steps a day, worked a physically demanding full time job, and was a busy mom of 2 always running from place to place for whatever anyone needed.

Just 2 short weeks after I got the vaccine everything changed. Suddenly I couldn't feel my legs and walking was a struggle. I have pain in my legs all the time despite taking pain medication. I need assistance getting in and out of the shower, I rely strongly on handrails and other things to grab on to when I lose my balance and feel myself nearly falling, I am unable to walk around a grocery store, unable to drive, unable to do the outdoor things that I love, and I can't be the mom or the wife I used to be.

The only explanation they have for these debilitating neurological symptoms is my receiving the COVID vaccine. That one thing that I thought would make life normal again has actually made it so much worse.

I'm not trying to sway anybody one way or another on getting the COVID-19 vaccine, or any other vaccine for that matter. I will however tell people my story so that they know that this IS a possible adverse effect to the vaccine. This is my reality and not enough people are talking about it.

Two weeks ago my world was turned upside down when I suddenly lost feeling in both of my legs.. After countless tests, doctors visits, and 2 trips to the ER they have finally solved the mystery and are treating me for Guillain Barre Syndrome. This is a rare neurological disorder that causes your body to attack your nerves.

After 7 days in the hospital, I'm finally going home today. I have a long road of recovery ahead and a lot of physical therapy, but I'm feeling positive that I'll get stronger everyday and be back to myself in no time.

I have only told my family and close friends because I wanted to focus on my recovery. I'd like to acknowledge Geisinger St. Luke's hospital in Bethlehem for taking such incredible care of me. I also want to thank everyone who has texted, called, sent flowers, and visited me while I was here. Special shout-out to Scott Whalen for keeping the house afloat and taking care of our girls so I can take care of myself. I appreciate all of the support I've gotten this far, and I'm going to need continued support while I continue the healing process. ❤️❤️

I'm at a loss.

Finally got to see internal meds for my issues after the shot, only to be told that most of my problems are not shot related, the others may or may not have been shot related. Nothing he can do to help, no diagnostic. And you should get a second shot.

You have problems getting by in life, but no we are not able to even relief your symptoms, but go get another shot.

I'm so so angry. How is this happening in Canada.

I was so happy that I finally get to apply for Canadian citizenship. But now I don't if that would be a good choice anymore.

Ronald Dixson thank you for your kind words, for sharing your experience and this information. I would like you to send me that information on the long hauler side effects support group, please!

Luckily my husband's blood pressure is historically always a touch on the low side, but within normal range, and so far that hasn't changed. I have told him he must keep on top of asking for his blood pressure to be tested during all of these medical appointments, and in between he can run up to Walgreens a few blocks away. I have a professional background in holistic health, as a practitioner and in nutraceutical sales, so I am diving deep into what I know best, in order to help heal him.

I have him on 200mg CoQ10 right now to support his heart, as well as Vitamin D3 (5,000IU) with K2-MK7 added to support clotting factors / regulation.

I also have him taking the following:

- Bacopa and Lion's Mane to help with restoring any possible demyelination that may have occurred as a result of vacc injury... think Guillain Barre syndrome symptoms in upper extremities. This syndrome HAS been associated with some J&J vaccines, most commonly in men 50 and over...
- Magnesium to support nerve health and nerve signalling
- Potassium (just 99mg) to support heart health and muscle and nerves
- Zinc + Copper, 50mg + 2mg for immune support
- Vitamin C + bioflavonoids 1-2,000mg daily for antioxidant and immune support
- Milk Thistle to support cleansing and liver support

Hoping this supplement information is useful to you and anyone else on this thread / this group.

Melissa Millman Skinner

keeping him up at night, chronically. It's taken a few weeks for the medication to build up in his system enough, and to find the right dosage (600mg seems to be it!), but as of three days ago it seems to have finally reached the sweet spot and he's SLEEPING again!! 🥳😄 (he's been suffering since May 18th, but especially so since June 24th when the additional Hep B booster shot was added to the Covid vacc mix... everything went extra crazy after that). He is a side sleeper, and until three nights ago, he was having to sleep on his back exclusively, and often propped up on three pillows, and often even that wasn't enough to calm the pain (if his arms were bent at all it was excruciating) so he would sleep in our leather recliner chair. 😞

I should also mention that his worst episode of nerve pain (nearly went to hospital is was so bad) occurred a couple of weeks BEFORE he got his Hep B booster. He had begun recovering but then, the booster, and everything spiralled out from there getting worse and worse.

So I have been quiet since January 19th 2021. That is the day my life changed. Also the day I got my second covid vaccine. I am not an "antivaxer" I have had every vaccine available to me including the flu shot yearly. This is about choice, what goes into your body! I researched, I read, I felt comfortable that no government would cripple the healthcare system. So I did my part, and now my life for the last 8 months has been a challenge. My family, children and husband have watched me suffer. Here is my story. Tell me you have had the vaccine without telling me you have had it. I will go first. I was on Zero medication prior to the vaccine. I was in line the day it came out, believing I was doing the right thing for my community, my staff, my patients and my family. My first dose of the Moderna vaccine, was last December. Within 3 mins of getting it, I felt a warm sensation come up my neck (like ct scan dye) and all the way over the top of my head where I could feel it meet in the middle. So they kept me 30 mins and I had ZERO other issues, I never even felt sick after, not one day of work missed. On January 19th 2021, I had my second dose, within 2 hours I had a migraine, within 24 hours I had ptosis, Anisocoria and was headed to my pcp. She immediately sent me to the ER. I have had CT scans, MRIs, 2 eye exams as the first one picked up a depression in my eye that was non functioning. I typically ran 90/60 for blood pressure, I am now 160s/100 and on my 3rd increase of blood pressure medication. Shortly there after, 3 days maybe I came down with trigeminal neuralgia, occipital neuralgia and the left side of my face was numb. I was started on neurontin 100mg tid, and was increased to 600mg tid. I have seen a neurologist, who sent me for nerve block injections in my head which I started July 7th. They helped until about 2 weeks ago, after another fall. I am word finding, falling, confused, I get electrical impulses in my face and over my head which brings me to tears, 2 courses of steroids, and no one can tell me if this will ever go away. The last fall I had, I was injured while trying to get my grandson out of the car. I have gotten up in the middle of the night looking for my husband, the man laying beside me in my head was not him, I have searched cars looking for him. I am angry, mostly at myself for giving in, thinking the government would never start with Healthcare workers if it wasn't safe! I have tested covid pts, I have been in the homes of positive patients, prior to the vaccine. I never got covid, I have been a nurse for 21 years. I have had the CDC call me several times, I have 8k in medical bills piling up and this is far from over for me. Workers comp won't help with medical bills, because it was my choice. So yes I am vaccinated, I am not in danger of termination however the truth needs to be told so you can make YOUR OWN decision. If you want the vaccine, I respect that, if you don't I respect that. This mandate is ridiculous and we will lose, you will lose your healthcare system as you know it, and believe me, its pretty broken already! This is not about a vaccine its about your body your choice. I am sick of being quiet about what I am dealing with!

#protectyourfamily

My fiancé got the first Pfizer shot five weeks ago and the day after she experienced constant muscle twitching everywhere. She also has a vibrating buzzing sensation. Neurologist, cardiologist, internist and ER docs all attribute it to anxiety not vaccine. Hematologist thinks it's a cross reaction to the vaccine and told her to wait to get the second shot and just track antibody levels. All the other doctors told her to get the second shot now. The symptoms persist and she doesn't know who to believe.

My dad received his second dose of the Pfizer shot April 24th, and just a week later the problems began. No one has really figured out what he has. The only diagnosis they gave him was eczema but none of the medications he has been given work. They have tried steroids as well, nothing works. His skin peels 24-7, it is extremely dry in some areas as you can see— to the point where it scabs, his skin burns, itches... the sun makes it worse. His body is starting to get extremely swollen now. His hands hurt when he holds anything. Everything is getting worse instead of better. He has this rash ALL over his body, including his face.

Anyone with similar symptoms?

She was referred to a neurologist who sent her for an mri and eeg Brain scans, results have come back today all clear! No indication of epilepsy at all, they won't say that's it's a reaction to jab, but we are now totally convinced that this was the cause, She will not be having the second dose! June 6 - June 18 - Severe lower back pain while bowel movement (consult doctor and got some medications)

June 19 - June 21 lower back pain that radiates to my right leg and calf muscles but my backpain remain same whole bowel movement till today

After June 21 to till today, my right knee, calf muscles and foot are paining like anything, doctor prescribed venous Doppler scan, am waiting to take that, did anyone feel this kind of leg pain while even sitting and standing everytime, if I take complete rest it reducing a little but I can't rest all the time ...

Just wondering how many on here have suffered / are suffering from post-vaccine nerve issues. I developed neuropathy after getting the J&J shot on April 7. My neuropathy got progressively worse and I have flare-ups every time my body has an immune system reaction - like a cold, bee sting, anything. It's like my immune system is high- strung. I've been taking medication (pregabalin/Lyrica) for a little over 2 months, but it comes with its side effects and I don't want to be on it forever. Wondering if there are others with similar symptoms like mine and have either gotten better over time or found some effective treatment that made them improve significantly. Not getting any answers from my doctors since they don't seem to know what's going on either, hence the question to the group. I had no health issues prior to the vaccine.

denhamhitchcock I've battled over whether to send this post from hospital or not. But decided after 27 years of being a journalist who's primary goal is to discover the truth - it would be hypocritical not to.

disclaimer first - I'm NOT anti vax. But I'm really not pro vax either. I'm pro choice - and pro information to make that choice.

above all I'm PRO opening the bloody country up and to do that I don't see any way around getting the majority of Australia vaccinated.

So I got the Pfizer shot.

The first week was like any vaccine. Feeling off. But nearing the end of the second week my heart started to race, I was getting pins and needles in the arms, extreme fatigue and a very strange sensation of dizziness. I took nurofen, and I kept working.

By the end of the third week i was getting steadily worse - sharp chest pain - cold shivers and chills - and the dizziness was intense.

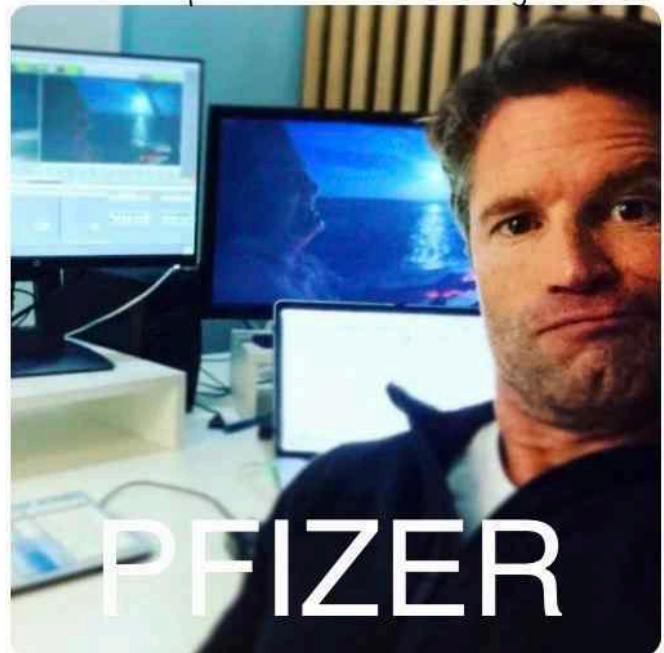

25 days after the shot and probably a little late to hospital - but here I am - diagnosed with pericarditis - hospital - but here I am - diagnosed with pericarditis - or inflammation of the heart due to the Pfizer vaccine. Since being here I've contacted health professionals I know in Sydney and while It's rare - it's certainly not isolated. One hospital has had well over a dozen cases like me.

This is not a post for sympathy - the hospital and staff at the Gold Coast uni hospital have been beyond great and although it's all new territory I'm told I'll make a full recovery although I could be like this for months. Thankfully I have the worlds smallest nurse keeping an eye on my ever present ECG.

But my present thought would be - in the current vaccine frenzy, no one is talking about this but it's clearly happening - and if you want the vaccine and have any heart history it would be worth talking to your GP about your vaccine choice, especially as AZ is readily available and does not have this side effect. If you don't want the vaccine - i don't have a problem with that either - but life and travel will get difficult for you.

Hi all, had my 1st shot of the pfizer vaccine 2 months ago. Tinnitus started a few days after. Just had an horrendous spike and the loudest it has ever been. Had constant ear fullness also. Feeling very helpless at the moment. Doctors not interested and told me it can't be the vaccine. On a waiting list for an ENT app. Biggest regret of my life taking this vaccine that has limited testing. Much preferred to take my chances on the virus than this hell! Any advice or good recovery stories much needed right now. Thanks guys

This is our nana, she is 85yrs old. I've cared for her on and off for many years. 2 weeks ago she got the Pfizer vaccine. On Friday she had a strong allergic reaction and her body shutdown. She went into anaphylactic shock and was admitted to hospital with low blood pressure. In hospital they flushed out the vaccine and monitored her heart rate which had increased. They discharged her with new blood thinning medication to prevent blood clots and stroke, and a new pill to regulate her heart rate. She has never ever had any issues with her heart or signs of stroke and other than diabetes which is strictly managed, she has always been extremely healthy and fit given her age. I am not anti or pro vaccine as I believe it is a personal choice! Most of us will get the vaccine and be completely fine. You hear the odd story about ppl having unfortunate side effects. But never did I expect it would happen to someone I know and love. But it did! I'm not trying to scare anyone. But I believe ppl deserve to know about the possible risks so they can make informed decisions. THIS IS NOT A CONSPIRACY THEORY!!! This is real life sht and actually happened to us. I wasn't sure if I wanted to post this because I see the division the vaccine topic has created on my timeline and it hurts my soul. Unfortunately ppl who are talking about their experiences or trying to spread awareness about the side effects are being marginalised, ridiculed and ostracised. Just remember that every individual is different. What works for you might not work for others. We have enough societal pressures. Please respect everyone's choice and free will x.. Forever grateful that our nana was strong enough to pull through and is back to her usual self enjoying her favourite pastime (cards)

❤️❤️❤️ please do your research and if you experience any symptoms see a doctor asap.

Johnson & Johnson 24th May 2021
Severe Adverse Reaction: Chronic Inflammatory Demyelinating Polyneuropathy - a very aggressive form of Guillian Barre Syndrome

Steve had a severe reaction to the covid vaccine. 10 days after being vaccinated on 24th May, he began to experience numbness and tingling in his legs and feet. This resulted in his legs giving out, and him collapsing and experiencing some pretty serious falls.

He went straight to the ER, and hasn't left the hospital since.

He is now completely paralysed from the waist down, and has some paralysis in his upper extremities as well which is gradually getting worse.

He started out in his local hospital where he had 9 treatments of Intravenous Immune Globulin (IVIg) therapy, and they did not help. Things continued to get worse.

He is now being treated at The Mayo Clinic in Phoenix. He has had 2 spinal taps, multiple tests such as MRI, CT scans, nerve conduction tests, etc.

The news from these tests was not good. He is showing severe nerve damage, and it continues to linger and cause further damage.

Steve has a team of the top neurologists in the nation working with him. After 2 long months, we finally have a diagnosis...we think. It is called Chronic Inflammatory Demyelinating Polyneuropathy...a very aggressive form of Guillian Barre Syndrome.

This disease is a neurological disorder that destroys the myelin sheath that protects the nerves and nerve roots. It causes severe motor and sensory disturbances, as well as paralysis.

On July 23rd, he had a port surgically placed, and has begun an invasive procedure called Plasmapheresis. He will have one treatment each day for 5 days, then more of the IVIG.

We are praying this will be the treatment that turns things around. The doctors believe that he will need IVIG treatments indefinitely, and he has a very long and difficult road ahead.

Anyone else experiencing blood clots from phizer?

I took the phizer shot back in May, and it gave me blood clots in my leg and I have vein issues now, amongst other issues. I am devastated because I am young and I was very healthy and before I got it and I have never had medical issues like this before the shot and hadn't been to the hospital in a very long time. Since the shot, I have had to go to emergency 3 times due to extreme pain and swelling in my left leg. My veins pop out and are red hot to the touch, it's the freakiest thing. It feels like fire is running through my veins and the pain in my leg is like a vicious charley-horse that doesn't go away. The clots move around, and are sometimes so painful that I can't walk. If the clots move up my leg they could go into my lungs and kill me. I saw my doctor and he is "concerned" about my symptoms, says someone my age should not be having these kind of problems, especially all of a sudden like that. I didn't even bring up that it was because I had taken the shot because I dont know who to trust anymore. I have to go see a vein surgeon now, and I will have these problems for the rest of my life - if a blood clot doesn't kill me first. I am young and have to wear compression stockings like an 80 year old man and be on medication probably for the rest of my life now.

Has anyone else had this with phizer?

My girlfriend in the photo died from the vaccine but it's being covered up. It's apparently a coincidence that she had a heart attack/stroke and blood clot the same day she had the vaccine at 28 years old. No previous heart problems. Quite healthy other then epilepsy.

We just received the PF4 as positive. (Received the J and J vaccine). He definitely has Thrombosis with Thrombocytopenia Syndrome (also termed Vaccine-induced Thrombotic Thrombocytopenia) - which the hematologist, PCP, and surgeon all said he had and which i was certain of as well but you have to have the last piece of the puzzle and it came today. No he DOES NOT have any other medical or underlying g medical conditions that would cause this. A perfectly healthy male. Now who is Laying in a hospital bed because he thought he was protecting himself. Who will probably be on blood thinners the rest of his life. Potentially other issues which haven't been discovered or reared their ugly head. We pray for complete healing. And make no mistake i will work to get this vaccine off the market. #comingforyoujandj #pissedoffwife #youvepissedmaryoff #CDCandFDAremovejandj

Whatever you do - DO NOT AND I REPEAT - DO NOT GET THE J AND J VACCINE. Getting the vaccine is not the issue - it is THIS VACCINE.

Jeff has what is called Thrombosis with thrombocytopenia syndrome. Very rare syndrome caused by the j and j vaccine. Those that have been reported are female, under 49 and on birth control. He is none of those yet here we sit in ICU. This needs to be taken off the market. This is unacceptable. Call the governor, email, demand this be take... See More — with Jeff Thompson and 5 others.

They made it back here nicely. No feeling.. The next day papa started to have fever and mama also felt the symptoms of the side effect of the vaccine..
Feeling weak and tired..

After 2-3 days they are okay.. My dad has a stomachache and is feeling weak.. I thought he had a tumor or didn't melt.. I put efficascent and hot water in his stomach.. It's a bit of pain gone.. But he is feeling weak..

Dad's weakness lasted long.. I asked a question if this is the effect of vaccine. Many said that it is like that.
Someone also said that I'll have my check ip because my dad is feeling for a week now.

Tuesday came, papa is so weak because he is having a fever.. he is already urinating in his pajamas because he can't take his body anymore..

When Wednesday arrived, we took her to the vaccination site to know why she is like that.. She was taken with blood and said BP is low and high sugar..
She was taken by an ambulance along with a nurse at JBL hospital in San Fernando.. And he was admitted there..

He was given oxygen and dextrose. It's been a few hours of xray and it's found that he has mild pneumonia and symptoms of covid.. that's why the doctor lined him up to move to another room and get antigen..

Most of you know, my sister was practically paralyzed from the waist down & battled guillan barre type symptoms for FIVE MONTHS after one dose. She now has permanent nerve damage & still gets shooting pains and tingling even though she's recovered (still Thank God for her recovery every day).

I encourage everyone to search the hashtags #protectyourfamily and #notrare and #wedid and #learntherisks. Read through the testimonies. (Click on each of those hashtags!)

This is not a debate post.

I don't even need your comments.

I don't want arguing.

I'm not here to tell you what you should or should not do - only you can and only you should be the one to decide that.

I know many who had had it and been fine--- but I also know more than a handful who haven't been so lucky && it's wrong that those who weren't are SILENCED.

I believe EVERY side should be heard no matter the situation.

There truly is more to this than any of us know. Seriously, click the hashtags and read for yourself!!!

3 months to this exact date and time.. I was forced to leave work and shortly after was paralyzed with loss of bladder control. What can I say about this journey... well not the way I planned things but blessed to be making a recovery! I can't believe this all happened after a vaccine I was hoping to protect me from an infection I was scared to ever catch as an ER nurse with a very scary past medical history.. before this all happened I made it public that I was unsure if I would get it and pondered if it was a good idea. I reached out to every specialty of mine with a response of "I can save you if you get an adverse or anaphylaxis but I dono if I can save you from covid response" so I said alright let's protect me and my premie children... then my appt got pushed 3 separate times and I joked this is Gods way of telling me DO NOT do it. But then boom I got in off wait list at work to get it and I said well okay I'll get it tonight.... little did I know it would be the start to 12 MRIs, 2 Lumbar punctures and over 100+ prob even close to 200 now tubes of blood... not including being forced of work and extensive medical bills! Literally turned into my worst nightmare. I am blessed to be alive as I've heard of ppl dieing from it but sad it went this way. As far as updates: well I have a brain MRI may 11th with and without contrast, a nerve biopsy of hip, knee and foot on may 18th! I have put in my schedule to return full time on may 30th and I can NOT wait!! Just praying for some nerve pain relief as everyday it's unpredictable! Tonight I got to spend date night with my husband as he's taken soo much stress and work these past 3 months. Thank you all for your constant love

Thank you for the add. I wanted to join the group to see if anyone else out there has had health issues since receiving the Jansen shot.

Here's my story:

I was vaccinated on March 14, at 12:30pm.

Other than a sore arm at the injection site, I didn't have any issues throughout the day. By the evening around 8pm I was experiencing muscle cramps (felt like I worked out too much during the day).

I went upstairs to take a shower and then hop in bed. Took my temperature and it was 101. I went to text my wife but I couldn't control my hands. My entire body began to shake uncontrollably. This continued off and on for several hours. My fever at its highest was 103.7

My dreams were bizarre and scattered for 15 to 30 mins at a time before my next seizure like shaking. Around 4am I fell asleep. At 8am I woke up with the worst headache I've ever experienced.

Since the vaccine I've had several emergency room visits for bouts of tachycardia and high blood pressure. I was in good health prior. Yesterday I had tachycardia for approx 18 hours and was given 3 ECG's. The cardiologist feels it's myocarditis from me fighting a viral infection. I'm not sure...

I'm curious if my experience is similar to anyone on here. For the record, VAERS called me after my first hospital visit and got records from my doctors that treated me. But they have disappeared since calling me in April.

HEART ISSUES

My husband got his J&J probably 3 weeks ago. He's in the navy on deployment currently. He's now stuck in the medical ward of his ship with constant afib and they are sending him to the hospital asap. He can't even stand without his heart flat lining on their monitors. They say it's unrelated. But of course we all see possible heart issues as a rare side effect of some of these shots. I was just wondering if anyone in this group has experienced any of this. It may very well be unrelated. But didn't hurt to investigate.

I've been diagnosed with inappropriate sinus tachycardia, my heart started acting up 2 days post-vaccine doing things it's never done before (I'm a healthy 22 year old). I need to have a 24hr ECG to check for things like Afib - it's one of the most common side effects in my country after vaccination according to monitoring reports hello I'm here at maybe a bad reaction to the vaccine.. first of all I didn't get vaccinated by choice but almost by obligation to be able to go back to class in September

I'm almost 18 years old, I'm usually never sick yet since July 21th I've gotten sick 2 times (over 3/4 day then since last night 22 pm) then that when I get sick usually it's in winter

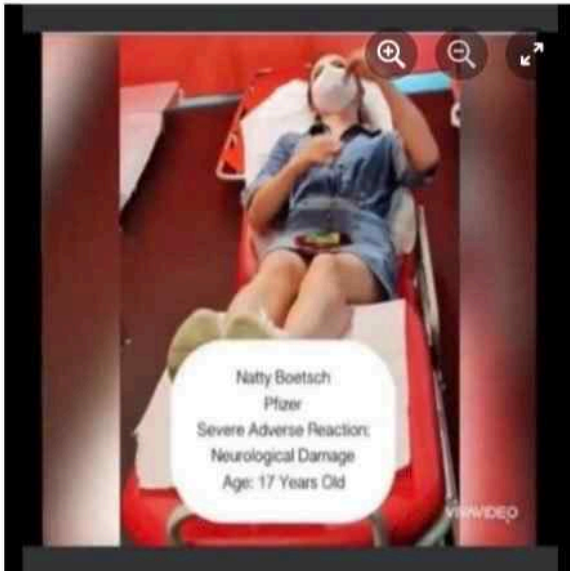

On the 21th I started feeling burns on my skin about 40 minutes after getting my first dose I was like vertigo in the day but nothing serious, at night my shoulder is starting to get numb but nothing serious neither I go to bed and wake up very early but impossible to move I had a lot of trouble breathing 29,2 nausea cramp fever I even collapsed wanting to head to the toilet but above all a horrible headache that persisted 4 days old

Of course I went to the doctor who ordered me a contraindication for the second dose.. but the contraindications changed the same day..

Today and since last night I've been salivating a lot like throwing up but nothing comes out and above all I have a stomach ball like I haven't eaten anything since 2/3 day while I even eat more than usual

I tested negative on 24 and just took a new test, I'm negative but then why am I this sick?! Second pic shows the plate burning me 3rd is the temperature that I had July 22th and 23th

RIP Mrs Yong, may your family get the answers soon

Alvin Yong: 6 days since my dear mother left us.

My mother was only 64 years old. She is a woman of service, she lives her life for my father and the 3 of us. Even at the point where she collapsed, she was cleaning the floor at home so that we have a clean house to return to.

It is difficult for us to accept that she has left us. She took her first dose of COVID-19 vaccination at 10.05am and she collapsed about 8 hours after.

My mother leads an active life and is mostly healthy except for controlled hypertension and mild diabetes. What could have happened during the course of the vaccination that robbed her of her life?

Or was it just pure coincidence that she has to return to Jesus on the day where she received her first dose of vaccination?

I used to be an advocate to the COVID-19 vaccination And was largely convinced with how safe our authorities have wanted us to believe in the vaccination. In fact, in my own course of work, I speak positively about the benefits of receiving the vaccination. I even debunked many speculations that the vaccination is unsafe and has little studies done on it. Little can I imagine for my own mother to succumb to death on the day where she received her first dose.

I have really battled over sharing this. This hit way to close to home. Do your research before you get the vaccine!!

I am attaching the side effects of the Pfizer Vaccine because it was given to Granny.

Granny was tested for Covid and tested negative on the 18th of July. She was given the vaccine on the 18th of July. On Tuesday the 20th, she tested positive. On Wednesday the 21st she started having severe Chest Pains. On Thursday the 22nd Cody went to get her. He called the ambulance. They took Granny to the hospital. Her lungs were clear but her heart was showing enlarged. (At Granny's last heart checkup, she got a great report and at no time did they say her heart was enlarged.) The Hospital started treating her symptoms and doing test. Granny's oxygen kept dropping but her lungs were still clear and working fine. They had to keep turning her oxygen up. In the testing, they found she had had a Heart attack. We lost Granny Tuesday the 27th.

WHAT ARE THE BENEFITS OF THE PFIZER-BIONTECH COVID-19 VACCINE?

In an ongoing clinical trial, the Pfizer-BioNTech COVID-19 Vaccine has been shown to prevent COVID-19 following 2 doses given 3 weeks apart. The duration of protection against COVID-19 is currently unknown.

WHAT ARE THE RISKS OF THE PFIZER-BIONTECH COVID-19 VACCINE?

There is a remote chance that the Pfizer-BioNTech COVID-19 Vaccine could cause a severe allergic reaction. A severe allergic reaction would usually occur within a few minutes to one hour after getting a dose of the Pfizer-BioNTech COVID-19 Vaccine. For this reason, your vaccination provider may ask you to stay at the place where you received your vaccine for monitoring after vaccination. Signs of a severe allergic

I took some time to review through #protectyourfamily I bawled and I feel like it's time to share my story. I'm so very tired of the controversy and the hate!!! You choose the path for yourself and your family!! After that friends... continue to live and love your family, friends, and neighbors!

I received my 1st Pfizer vax on April 12th. The headache, brain fog, and exhaustion set in on the 13th. For the following 8 weeks I battled fevers, dizziness, nausea, heart palpitations, anxiety, headaches so bad I thought my brain was about to explode, tingling sensations in my legs and arms, my energy was depleted, and I could barely form a thought. I went to urgent care, visits with my PCP, the ER, the neurologist, and later the neurosurgeon.

It was a LONG 4 months of battle!! Not one doctor can agree why I had these reactions. The neurologist says it was this and the the neurosurgeon says nope. The only common agreement is that it was induced by the vax. The only certainty is that my B12 and D were depleted. I am so very thankful to be almost back to myself!! I'm still experiencing mild headaches and missing my usual drive, but I've come so very far!!

Don't dismiss that people really are experiencing side effects. It could be your neighbor or the friend you haven't seen in a bit. Maybe it's people who just haven't been vocal on social media like myself. Maybe instead of throwing out judgement you could throw up a prayer!! Choose what's right for you!! Either way you've got my love and support! ❤️

After receiving my second Pfizer vaccine in December, I was at work the next day and was checking my patients vital signs. I remember looking straight at my patient and only being able to see half of his face. It kind of worried me bc I was unsure what was going on. I finished getting his vitals and left the room. I asked a few of the nurses what they think could be going on and they said they don't know. I called my mom about 30 min later and my peripheral vision started to come back. She told me to check my blood pressure, being that a sign of stroke and high bp is loss of peripheral vision. I did so and my bp was 150/95. To some people, this bp sounds normal. However, my normal is 110's/60's. This was after my peripheral vision had come back, which means that it was probably even higher, probably closer to stroke level when I lost peripheral vision. I went to the ED just to be sure nothing was going on and they acted like I was stupid. I stayed down there for like 5 hours and they sent me home with an "ophthamologist referral". IT WASNT AN EYE PROBLEM IF MY VISION CAME BACK AFTER ABOUT AN HOUR.

I will not tell people whether to get it or not, however if I could go back in time, I would not have gotten it. It will soon be mandatory for all healthcare workers, as it is now mandatory for military and a lot of schools. In my opinion, I think people should wait until more research is conducted. If I would have been someone who struggles with blood pressure issues, I probably would have stroked out that day.

I got my first Pfizer dose Thursday August 19th I held out but I work for a hospital mandating it so I went. 30 mins after I noticed my breathing was off I was beyond exhausted felt like I could hardly keep my eyes open which is typical with a vaccine.

I developed extreme chest pain radiating to my back that would come and go along with shortness of breath migraines every single day lightheaded (brain fog). After a week I went to the emergency room nothing found..no heart attack no PE's nothing.

I am seeing my primary tomorrow and hoping to get some answers. I'm 27 years old and this is the scariest thing I've ever experienced. It seems like a lot of people on here experience chest wall inflammation but nothing can be done about it?

After Covid-19 vaccination

This is my friend Trentyn Good, 20. I invited him to the group. 10 hours after Moderna had a psychotic episode. He was always very healthy. His brain told him "go get the guun" ran into the streets in his underwear, handcuffed by police, hospitalized, toxicology report proved he wasn't on drugs. My friend's sister in law did the same, same vaccine. She ran into the street nude, kissing neighbors. I hope to interview them both soon and share with you, with proof. Trentyn is young and recovered. The sister in law is older and still damaged.

MODERNA

Trentyn Good asked a question

Hello all, I experienced what I believe to be a psychotic episode 10 hours after receiving my second Moderna shot. I began to hallucinate, violently shake uncontrollably, hit myself, and pull out my hair. I ran out in the street in my underwear and called 911 and I was screaming/biting/shaking and I ran from the police after being handcuffed. The hospital gave me a sedative and told me I just had a panic attack but I have never experienced anything remotely similar and I was not in the least bit concerned about the vaccine as I trusted it and had zero symptoms from my first dose. Did anyone experience something similar to this??

Post shot 1 of the Pfizer vaccine, I became extremely fatigued and depressed. This is nearing the three week mark now. Not only did I experience mental symptoms, but physical, hormonal symptoms as well. Parts of my body were experiencing chronic inflammation and soreness. On top of that, my cycle began a week early! Please explain that to me! Let me just add, I'm not on a single medication/prescription, and I have never received a flu shot.

I'm telling you this because I'm a real person with real responses to this vaccine, and that was only the first shot. They won't report the side effects on the news, nor will they list them in the warning packet before you get the shot. I am not anti-vaccine, but I'm sick and tired of doctors and medical professionals pushing this on the public in the name of safety without having ANY idea of the long term/short term health effects. It is COMPLETE ignorance! THE VACCINE ISN'T FOR EVERYBODY.

Yes, I hit 6 month mark on 25 august but I do feel I'm on the home straight, I've had burning/nerve pain as my main issue plus others which are mostly resolved (eye pain, loss of appetite, pins & needles, all the usuals). My body feels more peaceful now, I can wear more clothes comfortably (pain of clothes touching the skin has been my main nerve pain issue) . I have gratitude for every moment of comfort now, from enjoying the sheets on the bed, which previously felt laced with razor blades 🙄, to wearing soft denim leggings again 🙄🙄 Not perfect yet but life is getting sweeter! 🙄🙄🙄

Hello! Thank you for stopping by to show your support. It's greatly appreciated.

My name is Beth and I am organizing this GoFundMe on behalf of Randy Edson's children.

Last night (8/26/21), these two wonderful children unexpectedly lost their father, Randy Edson. They are devastated by his sudden passing and are struggling to find the funds to cover the cost of the service.

On Wednesday evening, their father was rushed to the Emergency Room with seizure-like symptoms. A few days earlier, Randy tested positive for COVID. He was fully vaccinated and thought he could ride out his symptoms at home. Upon arrival, he was admitted to the hospital for his symptoms and COVID. I spoke to him in the early morning hours of Thursday (8/26) and he said he has never felt this sick before and was worried. We didn't expect that his journey would end so abruptly as it did. Just twelve hours later, I received word of his passing. We have been told that he ultimately suffered from multiple seizures and the final one, a Grand Mal seizure, was too much to recover from.

I am raising money for Michael (Mick) Dyer. He is fighting for his life in a Columbus hospital. Mick had the Covid Vaccine. He was unable to get the second shot due to rare complications resulting from the vaccine. He can only be on the vent for 14 days. Mick had a major stroke that resulted from the blood clots that went to his brain. He then caught Covid-19. Mick also has infections in his lungs. He will have disabilities if he can make it through. The doctors may have to put in a tracheostomy. The family will have a lot of medical bills. The house will need to be wheelchair accessible. Mick has always been such a kind soul who would give his shirt off his back to help anyone. Growing up, he was always such a sweet uncle. He is so very much loved by many people. If you are able to donate, the family would really appreciate it. Please keep Mick in your prayers.

God Bless

My sister posted this, so I am doing this go fund me to see if we can try and get some help for my dad.

This is very hard to write and totally out of my comfort zone. I'm letting all of my vulnerability come through. I would never do this if it didn't think it was necessary... with that being said, please read til the end.

So, for starters I am not this type of person and this is so not me and makes me so uncomfortably vulnerable, but everybody goes through situations where they need some help (so hard to even say). Here is ours, so bare with me while I open up some with my vulnerability. The last 4 months have been nothing short of a nightmare. My dad has been in and out of the hospital after being vaccine injured and suffering a major stroke with a blood clot to his brain. Our lives changed so fast with those 16 hours and has never been the same since. He has aged 30 years, cannot walk, has to depend on depends as he has lost all feelings/control. It's one of the hardest things to watch someone slowly die being in acute and CHF heart failure and more. He is now on 17 different medications morning and nightly, wears a life vest as his life line currently that will shock his heart if it catches it below or above depending on the situation. We have TWENTY, yea TWENTY seconds before he is shocked and ambulances are called. It's so intense. Besides his best he will have this the rest of his life until they do surgery to implant the original one. He is miserable and hates it. It looks uncomfortable and quite frankly it is and it has made him become extremely depressed (sorry for those who have called, just give him some time as he is still processing this himself. He will never walk again, he is the lowest of low and it breaks my heart. His brain function is not great either. He remembers some days and doesn't others with being in and out of it, and bc of all the dead tissue from lack of oxygen during his stroke. We never know which one we will wake up to.

Brittany has been through hell the past 2 weeks. Here is her story....

I'm not writing this & sharing it to tell you it was or wasn't the injection because I don't know. Doctors don't know. All I know is this isn't normal, I'm not normal & this isn't okay. This past week has been the hardest & most confusing week of my life. I don't wish this upon anyone.

Get the injection or don't get the injection that's completely your decision and I respect it. All I know is I regret mine & want to spread awareness about it, as well as update friends and family who've been wondering. I refuse to stay quiet about it any longer. Here is my story, it is long so buckle up.

I'm a healthy 23 year old with no underlying health conditions. I decided to get the Pfizer vaccine on Monday August 9th around 6:30pm, at Walgreens. I waited the recommended time of 15 minutes to make sure I was okay. All was fine.

I drove home and on the way home, I was feeling a bit dizzy. I got home safely and just wanted to rest. I had a pretty bad headache, was dizzy on and off as well as numbness and tingling in my extremities. Of course, my immediate reaction was "These are just side effects of the shot, I'm just going to take it easy and get some rest". I went to sleep and was awakened around 5:30am with my whole body being numb, still a headache, confused, still tingling and had really sharp pain behind my left eye. My brother took me in to the hospital - St Lucie Medical Center and as soon as I got there, they tested me for COVID, did not await the results for it and was released within 20 minutes because the nurse claimed "there are too many COVID positive patients in here right now, we don't want to potentially expose you. Come back if symptoms worsen."

I stayed home and again, just was tired and wanted to rest. I fell asleep to take a nap, my boyfriend stayed with me as well to make sure I was going to be okay. A few hours later, I woke up to use the restroom. I stood up out of bed, got really dizzy, passed out and then woke up at the hospital.

George Died 18th May 2021

Georges Story shared by his wife Janet:

I begged my husband to stay away from the vaccines. Indeed, he found himself constantly consoling me the night before his injection. I pleaded with him to look at the evidence I had uncovered that showed that this was still experimental. The phone call from the doctor did not mention that it was still being "studied" and would be until 2023, the NHS website did. I had the site up on my computer screen, he would not look, called me a conspiracy theorist and laughed.

He had COPD and all he wanted to do was to stay alive. He was the love of my lives (yes, I believe we went back through many life times) and all I wanted was to keep him alive. He bought the hype about the virus and that it would kill him. I didn't. It was the only thing we argued about in the last 15 months of his life.

His injection was given at our local surgery, he was classed as "shielding" which meant that he was offered the jab there rather than at a "hub".

The first was given by a nurse who said the only side effects were "a headache, pain in the arm and sometimes mild flu symptoms". Nothing was said about the possibility of blood clots, stroke, heart attack or death. "It's safer than taking your chances with the virus". The virus that killed 3 in 8,000 people world wide and whose main victims were, in the UK, over 84 where life expectancy is 82.

He did have a headache, he did have slight flu symptoms for two nights. I asked him to let me log it on the MHRA Yellow Card system and he would have none of it.

Then came time for the second one. By this time, April, many countries in Europe were questioning the use of this so called vaccine and I again suggested he read some of the "alternative news" before he went ahead. Again he assured me he was going to be fine, he just wanted to stay alive. Our life was all about having fun and we had a long schedule of touring planned for the summer.

A few days after the second jab he cut his hand and the blood dropping on the floor looked to be separating, like oil from water. I made a note to photograph it after I had sorted out the cut on his hand. He cleaned it up before I got the chance. I have since found out that this is a sign of thrombosis.

Two weeks later he woke up during the night with an itchy rash on his leg, the itch was so bad it kept him awake. I suggested we record it in the MHRA Yellow card but he said it was "just a rash" and the jag was a couple of weeks ago. No dots to connect here.

Five weeks after his second jab, I'm not going to call it a vaccine, because it's not, I found him dead. I had gone to waken him because we were going away for the night, so I went from a total high to the bottom being pulled from my world in a nano second. This was on 19th May, 2021. When I found him he had clearly been dead for a long time, the body was stiff, blue and ice cold, still I begged him to come back to me. 47 years of love, ripped from me.

The house became a bustle of police, one paramedic was the first to arrive, then the police, as is the case with a sudden death at home. They realised that he had an air rifle licence, more police arrived, then my family and within an hour of me finding him our family doctor was on the phone telling me that there would be no post mortem because it would be too "traumatic" for me. I was already traumatised and his words really meant nothing to me at that stage, all I wanted was to wake up and find this was a nightmare. The doctor said he was declaring it a heart attack.

In the days that followed we received the death certificate with "possible Myocardial Infraction". I was convinced that the vaccine had killed him. A neighbour, who is a doctor, agreed with me and said he thought that the lack of post mortem was a "cover up" My husband was only 65, sudden death at home, no covid outbreaks at this time, he had no symptoms of even a cold...

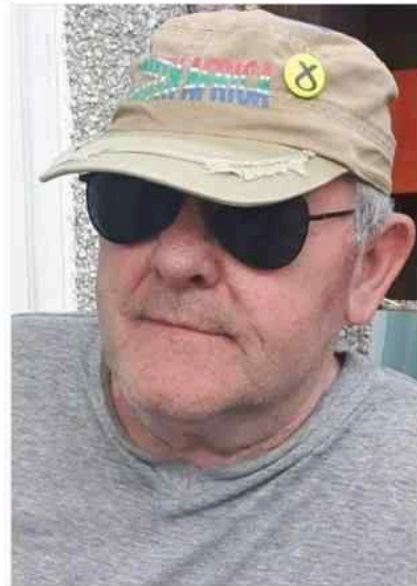

The MCCD was also full of fabrication. The doctor said he had been in attendance, he wasn't, it was a telephone call with a paramedic. He said my husband had diabetes for 33 years, he had it for 54 years. He said he was found at 9am, he was found at 11am.

The doctor called me six days later to "check up on me" by this time I was furious that they had killed the love of my life, I mean, how am I supposed to carry on living when he is not? I asked the doctor what he was thinking about (my language may have been coloured by my inner Irish Navi), giving Astrazenica to a man who was on blood thinners. He said that "they had done their best given the information at the time".

In the end I called him a murdering whatsit and put the phone down.

I am still furious that they took my soul mate from me.

The last time I seen him was a couple of hours before he died. He appeared to be having a hypo (low blood sugar) and I helped to bring him right. He said "I'm sorry, I think I really fucked things up". I thought he meant because he would need to sleep late the following morning and assured him that we could go away if he felt up to it and if he didn't it was ok, his health comes first. Now I don't think that's what he meant. Now I believe he knows that they murdered him.

Dorothy's Story Told by Her Granddaughter

Amanda

My precious grandma before and then one week after second one, this photo only shows her face. Her body was emancipated. I can hardly get it out of my mind. Breaks my heart. It literally sucked the life out of her. She couldn't even talk.

She went to Heaven 10 days after second one, she was my world.

It Still feels like a dream. I miss you more than I could ever explain. You were my place of peace. My encourager. The one who always had a way to cheer me up when I needed it the most. The world lost a true diamond.

Livia Bowman telling the story of her Great Aunty:

My great aunt received her 2nd dose of the Vaccine on May 8th and by May 9th she was bedridden, unconscious and never regained it. The photo of her and I was on Thursday and the next photo was the following day on Monday on May 9th.

She passed 2 weeks later, on May 20th 2021. Prior to the vaccine she was healthy, independent and showed no signs of slowing down or passing any time soon but she died the day before her 101st Birthday.

She didn't agree to it, she didn't want it but her doctor convinced her.

Look at the time stamps on these photos, very conscious and aware, the next day bed ridden.

Please listen to the added video to my post of a nurse saying my aunt was in the state she was BECAUSE of a reaction.

The nurse said because she passed 2 weeks AFTER having it they weren't classing it as a c death surprise!"

I think I made a mistake!

I got the first shot of Pfizer yesterday 2pm and 6hrs later I feel like my body started shutting down. It's 3am and everything hurts. I have a fever and can barely move.

A little background, in January 2021, I was 14wks pregnant when I tested positive for Covid I was sick for approx 5-6weeks but never like this. At 8 months pregnant (approx 6 months after Covid, I no longer had natural antibodies.

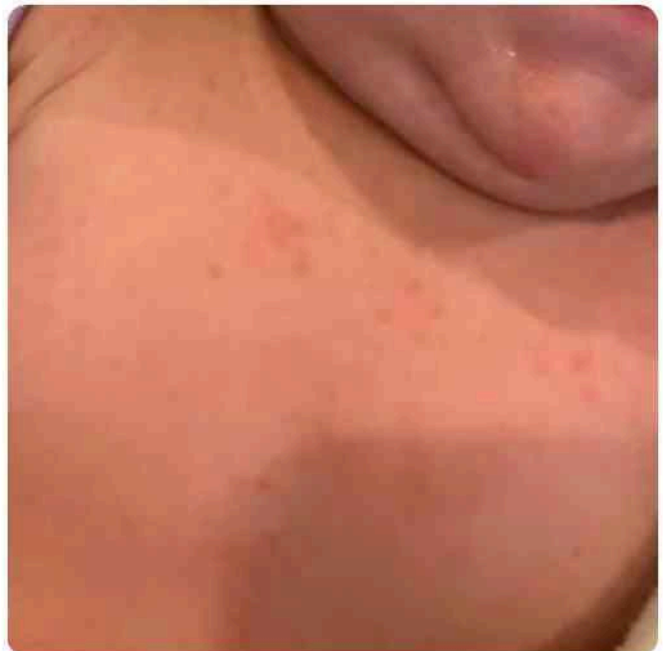

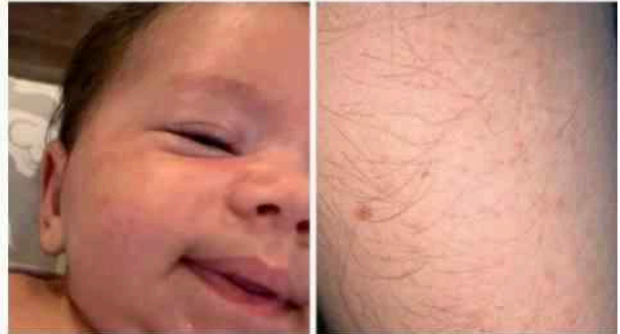

1 month ago, I had my baby naturally & had postpartum endometritis (uterin infection) which caused me to be hospitalized for 3 days on heavy antibiotics.

It's been 1 month and I decided since the infection was resolved and I felt healthy and even started going back to the gym, that I would finally get vaccinated because of all the scary stuff you hear about the delta variant.

What I'm feeling right now (after just the first shot of Pfizer) is no where near how I felt while I actually had Covid (while pregnant) and no where near how I felt with the the uterus infection after birth (since that infection was more or less localized to the abdomin. I feel severe pain EVERYWHERE! My headaches, my chest, my back, my arms, my ankles, even my toes!

Update* 24 hrs after the first shot of the vaccine, baby has developed a rash. Is this normal? Should I stop breastfeeding?

Update** 3 days after the first shot, I have now developed a similar rash to the baby all over my arms. Pediatrician informed me that my body's overreaction was due to my prior exposure to Covid. She explained that it acted as though I were getting the 2nd dose of the vaccine cuz it my body was familiar to it already.

My grandson 29 had his first Pfizer shot the end of May. An hour later he experienced chest pains. His work was threatening that everyone had to have it so he felt he had no choice. He eventually ended up in emergency, He has had endless tests, X-rays, an echo cardio gram, ct scan and mri. It's been 3 months of pain and deteriorating health. He's been totally incapacitated and unable to work. Results show a stroke or brain tumour. He is now waiting to see a neurologist. Ivermectin has helped him walk again but has not helped his brain since that damage has been done.

Day 24: today I finally received validation for my symptoms. The cardiologist has diagnosed me with heart inflammation caused by the v a c c i n e. I've been off work for 3 weeks, can barely take care of my own children, and the biggest task of my day is getting in the shower. I have severe shortness of breath as if someone is pushing on my chest. Any small task makes my heart rate shoot up as if I was on my peloton for 45 mins already. The 2 days after receiving *it* my heart rate was 140-200 for 48 hours. Today is day 2 of a holter monitor and still waiting for the echo to make sure I don't have permanent damage. I went to emergency 5 times where I was sent away 4 of them with an Ativan to help with my "anxiety".

This is NOT an anti anything post. Except maybe our medical system actually. Oh and also I guess I'll see everyone in February since even though I've been told to NOT receive the second vaccine I'm unable to be part of society even with medical exemption.

Love that for me.

Bonnie Keefe is one of about a dozen Canadians believed to have suffered from cutaneous vasculitis – inflammation of small blood vessels that can cause painful skin lesions – most likely associated with a COVID-19 vaccination. PHOTO BY ASHLEY FRASER /Postmedia

It started just days after she received her second dose of Pfizer COVID-19 vaccine. Red, blistering spots that were painful and burned began showing up on her legs. Within weeks, she was in the hospital, unable to walk because of the pain.

Bonnie Keefe said she was initially told by a local public health worker not to talk to the media about her case. That worker later apologized and the region's medical officer of health emphasized that she should feel free to talk about her experience. Keefe and her husband head back to their Renfrew home. My 17-year-old son got the Covid Pfizer vaccine and ended up having to spend a week in the hospital with blood clots in his leg.

It all started about a week and a half after getting his second Covid shot. He started having tingling and numbness in two of his toes which spread to his other toes and his foot.

One morning, before we even had a chance to get in to see the doctor, he had pain in his calf and his foot was white as a ghost with purpling toenails. We rushed to the emergency room, and they found blood clots in his arteries behind his knee and his ankle and in the veins of his calf.

He was taken by ambulance to Phoenix Children's Hospital, and he remained in the ICU for five days while they worked to remove the clots. They were able to remove all of the clots from his arteries, but he still has a clot in the vein in his calf.

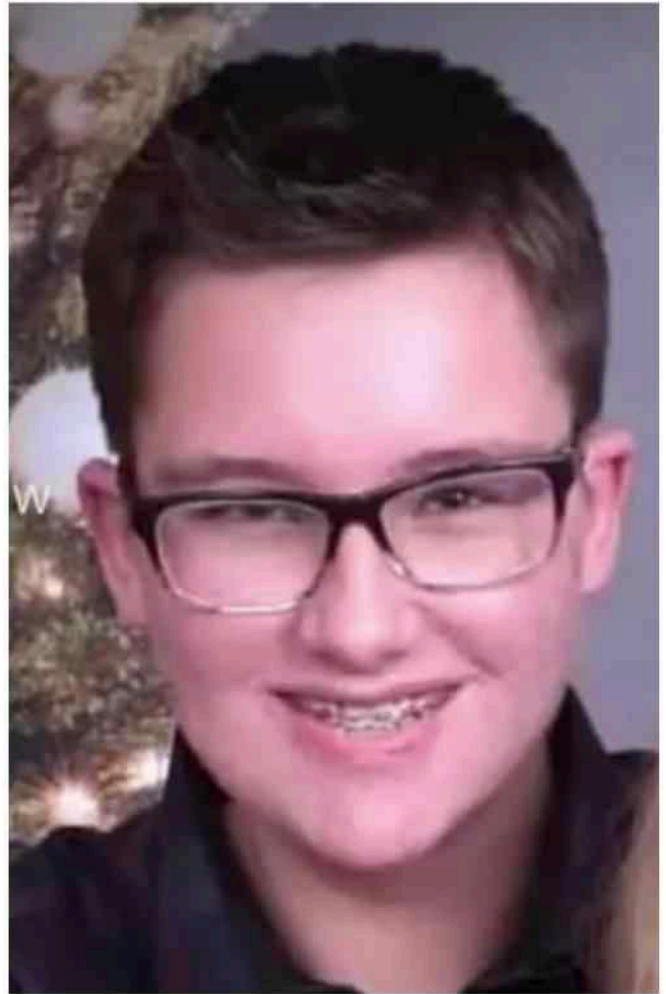

My son is a normal teenager that likes to spend time with his friends, play video games, and go swimming. There was no trauma to his leg, no health issues that could cause clots, and no history of genetic blood issues in our family.

The doctors at the hospital could not find any cause for these blood clots. It seems that the only remaining possible cause for the blood clots is the Covid vaccine.

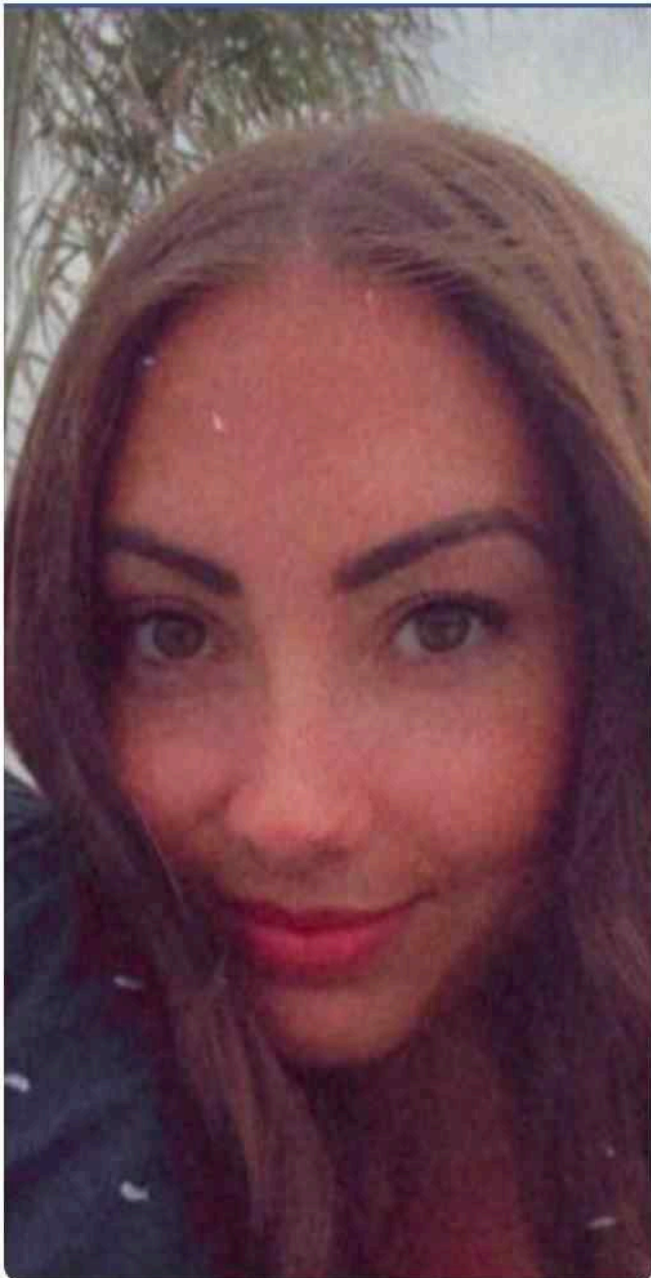

The hospital and I have reported this on the Vaccine Adverse Event Reporting System (VAERS).

Kaylee Dunn I got the 2nd one Friday morning. My symptoms we're soo bad couldn't even get out of bed everything ached and my left side was the worst! My chest pains started that Monday night. And Tuesday morning I went to the ER. The first thing they asked me when they saw the high Troponin levels in my blood was if I had fever or chills recently. I said yea I just had the vaccine 😞

I received the Pfizer vaccine and after my second shot I started having chest pains and after a lot of testing in the ER they said I have myocarditis from the vaccine 😞. I went to a cardiologist and then to PennMed for a MRI which confirmed the left side of my heart was inflamed and was delayed. The pain lasted about 3 months. Every now and then I'll feel a random shock when I breathe. The cardiologist doesn't think it will be permanent damage. I'm also really upset I received the vaccine 😞 I hope your child will get 100% better! ❤️

This is for my brother, Gary Robinson. Gary has been out of work for several months from complications due to the COVID vaccine. After the vaccine, he first developed Small Vessel Leukocytoclastic Vasculitis. Then not to long after being diagnosed with that, he was rushed to the hospital when his oxygen dropped extremely low and he was having difficulty breathing. Doctors confirmed he had several clots in both lungs and both legs. He was in ICU and underwent lung surgery to remove as much of the clots they could from his lungs. After the shot he also noticed a knot come up on the side of his neck that grew bigger and bigger. He has been Diagnosed with squamous cell carcinoma its in his Lymphnodes in neck, base of tongue, and throat and will be starting chemo and radiation soon . We do not know the severity of it yet as he is still going through testing. He is now home on blood thinners and oxygen and cannot take care of himself. His wife Michelle also struggles with CRPS Disease from a foot injury and is unable to work herself. They have no income at this time and could really use some help. Those that know him knows he does not like to ask for help. He is the one always helping others. Please keep him and her in your prayers. If you are able to donate that would be great. Every little bit helps! Thank you for your support and God Bless all of you.

Miranda Shantell it's so hard to be vulnerable and feel all the feelings ❤️ my uncle, who was diagnosed with stage 4 super aggressive cancer, was instructed to get the vaccine by a doctor (unsure if it was his oncologist or a different one) and went to the ER from complications of his "cancer" shortly after receiving his vax and never came home... he was gone so quick and we never got to say goodbye because of the visitor policy in hospital thanks to Covid. I will never believe he wasn't in the hospital because of the shot...He had so many blood clots and couldn't keep his hemoglobin count up. His heart eventually just stopped and he only got to have one round of chemo before he got his vaccine and died..

Lynn Ellen Stockton was born on April 09, 1954. She passed away suddenly and unexpectedly on May 04, 2021. Here is what her heart-broken family wants you to know about their Mom and Gramma Jo, aka "Go-Go":

Mom loved to travel and visited almost every continent. Favorite trips that she talked about were to South Africa, New Zealand, and recently to Wichita, Kansas that she described as 'lovely.' She was so happy that she could travel again after having been vaccinated. A travel goal of Mom's was to go to every baseball stadium in the US, but especially to go back to Dodgers Stadium to enjoy a Dodgers v. Rockies game with her grandson.

Mom had a great sense of style and consistently surrounded herself with beauty, both in her home as reflected by her artistic taste, and outside of the home as evidenced by her well-tended and beautiful garden.

She spent her life building a career and carving a path for herself and future generations, leading in the medical community with confidence and grace. She was respected and admired by her colleagues and peers and made a lasting impression in the community. When she wasn't working, she often spent her time volunteering at the Food Bank of the Rockies, where she made long-lasting friendships and relationships with the people she worked with and served.

Jennifer Phillips is organizing this fundraiser on behalf of Marla Likins.

Andrew Gomez, only 37 years old, unexpectedly fell ill due to complications related to contracting COVID though he was fully vaccinated. He is currently sedated in a COVID ICU so his family has not been able to talk to or see him since he entered the hospital last Monday, 8/9. In addition to sedation he is receiving medications to stabilize his blood pressure and heart rate, is on a ventilator machine to assist him through erratic breathing, and is under pain management for extreme pain. His medical team is performing CT scans and blood work to try to diagnose the cause of his distress but nothing is clear at this time.

Dear Friends, Family and Co-workers.

Yesterday, Andrew successfully underwent two minor surgeries that will hopefully make him much more comfortable and be able to get on his way to recovery. He received a tracheotomy, where the ventilator is no longer a tube down his throat and is now in his neck under his Adam's apple, which is not permanent but much more comfortable. In addition, a feeding port was implanted directly into his stomach from a little peg in his abdomen, also removable. Now he will no longer have all that medical paraphernalia down his throat and nose. We all pray that this will cause less stress and better healing as he is weaned from heavy sedation. Andrew still has a long road to recovery and there are many obstacles to overcome, but we are hopeful this will kick off some majorly needed progress. Please keep him in your prayers.

Funerals & Memorials

As many of you know our one of a kind sweet secretary Opal lost her amazing Dad on Sunday to Covid-19. He was vaccinated and this awful virus still managed to take his life. Carlos Herrera Arana born on April 29, 1938 went home August 29, 2021 at the age of 83. He left behind Opals mom/his partner of 43 years. Seven children and numerous grand and great grand children. "Papa" as everyone knew him was a friend to all and had a smile that warmed the world. He adored all the littles in his life and him and the babies would light up when around each other. He was an extremely hard worker and took pride in making sure his yard was always pristine. He was the main caregiver to Opal's mom who unfortunately is in bad health. Due to unforeseen circumstances of the world we live in now they are unable to afford to cremate him. If we could all just give a little bit and help give sweet Papa a proper send off the family would be so appreciative. Their hope is to some day get his ashes back to Mexico and spread them where he grew up as a child. That is also what papa wanted. Thank you for your consideration helping out Opals family. She was hesitant about letting me do this but I think in a world full of such sadness right now we could come together to help her family out.

Hello, my name is Victoria, I'm from western Ny and I'm 18.

Back in June I decided to get my vaccine (Moderna) just so I didn't have to wear my mask or go into quarantine. I got my second shot July 6th I came down with a fever and slept away for nearly 48 hours. Little did I know this decision would affect me bad. Now keep in mind I am 18, I have never had any medical problems whatsoever, I played sports throughout my senior year (I just graduated end of June) so I am healthy as a horse. I started getting headaches daily. They continued to get worse so much so that I ended up going to the er. The Toradol they gave me didn't even begin to touch the migraine. I've have constant dizziness, shooting pains, pressure, occasional blurred vision, some depth perception issues, sensitivity to light, and feeling as if I'm going to pass out. About a week and a half after the er visit I went to my doctor for a follow up, she said "it's vertigo" she put me on two pills to "help", they did not. They actually made me feel worse, after two weeks of the pills I went back and told her they didn't help. She got concerned and scheduled an urgent MRI and an urgent neurologist consult. So right now at 6:56 am I am getting ready for an MRI with contrast at 18 years old. There have been so many tears and I'm scared. I've had to put my military career on hold and I'm trying the best I can to be okay. Please if you're reading this do not force someone to get their vaccine especially at a young age. If you feel the need to then whatever but research it in depth. #WETHEPEOPLEHAVEHADENOUGH
UPDATE: lab results for herpes and lymes disease were negative! I was supposed to have two MRI's done yesterday for head AND neck and my insurance declined the neck so I got my head MRI done with contrast. The neurologist closest to me is about half an hour away and they do not take my insurance, so a referral is being sent to a neurologist in Rochester. It's going to be a long road of doctors visits and testing but I'm not going to quit fighting, my pain is real and I WILL get answers!

I received the M C19 vac—n a few weeks ago and at first just had the normal response of arm soreness, fever and chills which then turned to extreme fatigue and severe right shoulder pain. I had my doctor draw labs and it came back with Acute Pancreatitis! I called The Pharmacy that gave me the shot and they reported this to the CDC as a side effect. My bloodwork for the past few years has been excellent, so this isn't from an underlying problem. My lipid levels suddenly elevated , along with my blood sugar went from a 5.7 to a 6.1. I'm on the mend, but it is a slow healing process, the fatigue is overwhelming, I've dropped 12 lbs. in less than a week( not the bestway to lose-weight) and I can only eat bland soft foods and liquids. My diet has been a very strict gluten free rotational diet for years and I've never been this sick before. I'm told it's a rare side effect, but I wish I had know prior to. #ifeellikealabrat

So I am not trying to start a debate or argument, but for those that want to mandate the vaccine (or even masks) I totally disagree with you and this is why...

My sister who is only 30, had Covid last year in the fall and they pretty much made her get the vaccine after having it and was vaccinated late winter/early spring of this year. Within a month after being vaccinated she had a major reaction to where it caused swelling on the brain, it integrated into her spinal fluid, she began leaking spinal fluid, severe headaches, had to have several spinal taps, blood clots, and still no real answers.

Fast forward to the past two months. She started having an increase in tingling and numbing in her feet, legs, hands, she can't walk, memory lapses, she is currently walking with a walker due to falling all the time. She can't even drive nor can she hardly eat or keep anything down. She has been in and out of the hospital for the past two weeks and has been there for days now. She has had scans, MRI's, and more spinal taps. These tests have confirmed that she has developed a major onset of multiple sclerosis in a very short amount of time as well as Guillain Barre disease and AIDP and she has several lesions throughout her body and her nerve cells and whole nervous system are declining as well as a cognitive decline and you know where they confirmed it from, the COVID VACCINE. And if you do the research AIDP and Guillain Barre disease is correlated with the covid vaccine. She is hooked up to IV treatments to treat the attacks she is having on her body and to try and slow the progression, but there is no cure. It has rapidly spread up her feet and legs and from her hands and up her arms and past her groin area. She will live with this for the rest of her life.

Hi, I'm Callie Collins. My best friend Jessica Burchette has been in and out of hospitals for a months and a half now seeking answers. She went from being a avid hiker and wide open go getter to not walking. She's currently hospitalized for lengthy period. Without ample insurance. Drs said the antigens from Covid shot sent antigens up her spine to her brain. This may be permanent. Any help is welcome even if its sharing!! Thank you!! Also she

🗨️ This may trigger some people. I'm not here for the negative comments. I'm here to share awareness 🗨️

Thursday I received my final dose of the #COVID19vaccine. I received the #pfizervaccine. By Thursday evening my arm was extremely sore as it was for the first dose. As the night continued I wasn't feeling great and noticed something weird going on with my lips. Again, didn't think anything about it.

Friday morning I wake up and feel like I'd been hit by a bus. 100% flu like symptoms. I made myself get up and I noticed my tongue felt weird. But I felt so bad I was unaware of what was actually happening.

Once I got up and moving I realized I was really swollen, now I didn't think too much about it because I do tend to swell and I felt so bad. Once I saw my face I realized this isn't normal. Nor was the fact when talking I sounded like I had a mouth full of cotton. My cheeks looked like I had a sunburn, and my face hurt!

Not being educated and knowing what was happening I figured this was just a little reaction. Unbeknownst to me I was having an anaphylactic shock reaction to the second dose of #covid19vaccine

I called my dr once the swelling started going down because I then had little red dots on my face. It was at that time I was instructed to get Benadryl and to the immediate care center immediately.

I went to the immediate care center in Evansville. I was in fact having anaphylactic shock. Yes the swelling was down but my tongue was still swollen and my face/ lips still had some swelling.

I received a steroid injection in their office, a pack of steroids, A prescription of Claritin, and a year supply of EpiPen 's.

My mom had the P (both jabs in the NH) She did fine with the first one. She died within 24 hours of the second dose on February 10. Heart attack. Which while she was having— no one came to her room to check on her or give her a nitro. She had pushed the nurse's button, then called me to tell me no one was coming. They got there later. Gave her oxygen— not what she needed. Protocol for bad chest pain is nitro then ER. The nurse's report says very different than what I know happened in that room. Because I talked with Mom. Then I tried calling nurse's station— no one answered.

I had one Pfizer Jab. I was fine that day but woke up in the middle of the night freezing. The next day I was wrapped up three blankets and winter clothes, watching a movie. I realized I could see my right eyelid rather than the tv. I shouted out 'son of a bitch' on my way to the bathroom and realized, not only did I have Bell's Palsy, I was slurring my S's. I had a respiratory response. Here's my list. The most bizarre of which is which I had a boil 30 years ago. It turned into staff. Heavy duty antibiotics for three years to get rid of that thing. It had been gone for 30 years and returned. I still have drooping of my right eyelid, exacerbated when I'm tired. I was sick for three months.

Symptoms 21 days

Bell's palsy
Asthmatic
Brain fog
Nauseated
Stomach cramping
Chills, freezing
Muscle aches
Shortness of breath
Now I have sinus infection.
Ear ringing came back
30 year old boil came back thrush
Migraines

Symptoms 4 months and counting

Bell's palsy,
Lethargy, sleeping a lot. Still asthmatic.
Deathly ill again
Mixing up words like frog and fog, diverse and divorce

I am absolutely fuming. I just got off the phone with a new person at the Health Department who called me to say it was safe to go ahead with the 2nd Pfizer vaccine after multiple specialists (allergist, pain specialist) have said that mRNA vaccines are NOT safe for me after the first shot nearly killed me. The previous people that called me at the Health Department also agreed with me that it was NOT safe for me to get the vaccine & told me that I actually had the worst reaction in the entire region.

I explained to the new person that I actually can't get it because my doctors have said that it may kill me or that I may have the same reaction again that my body cannot handle. It would take me another 6 months or longer to recover from the second dose (if I survived). And then I would need to get a booster once I finally healed from the second dose and I would have been suffering for a year and a half by then. She told me that they understood that was unfortunately a risk that I might be taking. 😞

And then finally, she went on to explain that the doctor on their team felt that because I have pre-existing health issues, my reaction was not caused by the vaccine. 🤔 And that they didn't know what advice to give me because Pfizer and Moderna are the only vaccines available in the province.

I explained to her that I am NOT an anti-vaxxer and tried to get vaccinated and I am planning to get Novavax (which is supposed to be much easier to tolerate) as soon as it is available in the province but that THIS is exactly the kind of terrible medical advice (telling people who have had traumatizing adverse reactions to something that they have taken 6 months to recover from) that creates anti-vaxxers & distrust with the medical system. And that I was horrified that they were treating me (a person with a horrific adverse reaction) like an anti-vaxxer.

First, thank you David for posting this. I've been trying to stay off of Social media because everyone has an opinion on whether or not to get the vaccine. I'm the widow of David's brother. Here is my story. Luke received his first vaccine on May 14th. After he received his first moderna shot he was complaining about his chest hurting. His heart hurt. His personality and health started drastically changing after receiving the first shot. He just didn't feel well and anyone who knew Lucas knew he would never complain, that just wasn't him. He received his second vaccine on 6/11 at 10:30 am. When he returned home he looked horrible. He was pale, pasty and couldn't remember anything. I was watching him lose his thought processes before my eyes. He kept saying his chest hurt and had a fever with aches. I kept telling him to rest and he said he was fine. I saw and spoke to my husband for the last time at 3:59 pm. He said he was going to send out a couple of emails/make calls and come down to rest. At 4:50 pm I'm carrying our 7 week old son up stairs to check on him. I couldn't find him anywhere until I opened the closet door and found him blue lying on the floor. I screamed and grabbed my phone to call 911. I started doing CPR waiting for the Ambulance to arrive. He was in cardiac arrest. The whole time I praying for Jesus to bring him back to us. They pronounced him dead 5 min after arriving at the hospital. The coroner said the autopsy will take up to 4 months. I still have not received the death certificate or autopsy. His death is still under investigation. Anyone can say, well you can't blame it on the vaccine. Well, yes I can. At the end of the day, I know what I saw with my husband after he received the vaccine and the trauma I went through. No one can ever change that and no one can tell me whether or not I need to get the vaccine. I'm a type 1 diabetic so I'm considered high risk but I practice social distancing, wear a mask and wash my hands constantly. We can go back and forth on who should and who shouldn't get vaccinated. Let's leave it to that individual. It's all in God's hands anyway. 🙏

📄 COVID 19 Resources

For up to date and accurate information about COVID safety, visit the CDC or WHO websites.

Jason Lawrence Clark passed away on August 19, 2021 from complications of Covid-19. On July 23rd Jason was admitted to the ICU and spent twenty six days breathing through a ventilator as the virus wreaked havoc on his lungs. His wife and four children spent every day visiting Jason in the hospital, giving him the encouragement to fight his illness. His family is now left without a father and unexpected medical and funeral expenses.

His daughter, Sarah, shares her thoughts on this experience:

"When you look through pictures of family activities from my childhood there's usually always one picture of my dad asleep on the couch. This is because Dad was always working at least 2-3 jobs to support our family and those naps on the couch were likely the only sleep he was getting. He has been a hands on dad in every stage of life, bringing stuffed animals to life and narrating children's books like no one else. He has continued to be hands on in our lives even through teenage years and early adulthood. He's always been a phone call or text away, constantly looking for new ways to help us. He has always been friendly to everyone, never shunning the misfits of the world, constantly looking for new ways to serve others. Dad has been quietly serving people for years, never bragging about the good he was doing for others.

Jason even worked with COVID-19 hotline for 14 months. He spent every Friday night of the pandemic helping people find testing centers, helping the elderly fill out their vaccine forms, advocating for a Spanish version of the online vaccine form, and sometimes just an ear to listen to those who grew weary or who were lonely.

I started having chest pains on Tuesday morning and pain in my neck and shoulder the following days got worse to the extent that the next Monday I went to the emergency with fever and lacked oxygen and I had chest pain

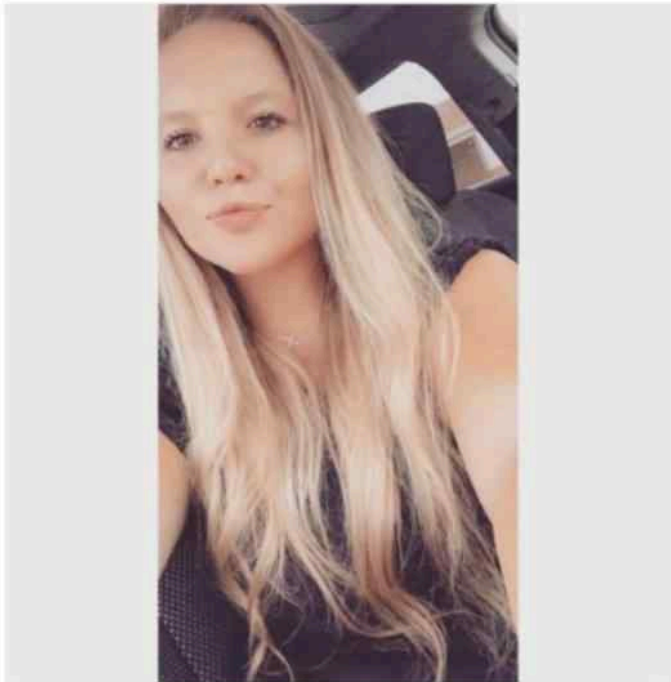

It's warned now my the hospital that I have pericarditis and heart inflammation

I never had any me who never had any worries in my heart before Because of getting vaccinated I am every day with this painful situation and waiting to see a cardiologist - I am hoping nothing happens to me before that.

brittanyjouppi I'm not writing this & sharing it to tell you it was or wasn't the / because I don't know. Doctors don't know. All I know is this isn't normal, I'm not normal & this isn't okay. This past week has been the hardest & most confusing week of my life. I don't wish this upon anyone.

Get the / or don't get the / that's completely your decision and I respect it. All I know is I regret mine & want to spread awareness about it, as well as update friends and family who've been wondering.

I refuse to stay quiet about it any longer. Here is my story, it is long so buckle up.

I'm a healthy 23 year old with no underlying health conditions. I decided to get the Pf-zer / on Monday August 9th around 6:30pm, at Walgreens. I waited the recommended time of 15 minutes to make sure I was okay. All was fine.

I drove home and on the way home, I was feeling a bit dizzy. I got home safely and just wanted to rest. I had a pretty bad headache, was dizzy on and off as well as numbness and tingling in my extremities. Of course, my immediate reaction was "These are just side effects of the shot, I'm just going to take it easy and get some rest". I went to sleep and was awakened around 5:30am with my whole body being numb, still a headache, confused, still tingling and had really sharp pain behind my left eye. My brother took me in to the hospital - St Lucie Medical Center and as soon as I got there, they tested me for COVID, did not await the results for it and was released within 20 minutes because the nurse claimed "there are too many COVID positive patients in here right now, we don't want to potentially expose you. Come back if symptoms worsen." ***Part 2 in comments **

I was diagnosed with myocarditis as a direct result of receiving the Pfizer COVID vaccine. I was admitted to the ER today due to signs of heart failure. Testing and imaging ruled out any immediate danger, which I am extremely thankful for. I was referred to a cardiologist for further testing and imaging this week.

UPDATE based upon an overwhelming amount of political, insensitive comments:

1. This is in no way a political post. This is a post about my diagnosis from multiple medical professionals. This is a post about my health and well-being.
2. Whether you choose to get the vaccine or not is 100% your choice. I think it was made with good intentions - to stop people from getting sick. In no way do I think it was created to hurt anyone. COVID is devastating and terrible and so many have been affected by it. This all being said, I understand the fear and danger on both sides. Clearly, I mean look what the vaccine has done to my previously healthy, 22-year-old heart.
3. Do not make comments saying that I am brainwashed, or that I deserve what is happening to me because I chose to get the vaccine. I was extremely hesitant and scared to get the vaccine. My doctoral program pushed for all students to get it, and vaccination mandates for healthcare workers came out in my area. That is why I had to get the vaccine. I did not put it into my body blindly, and I did NOT ask for this to happen.

In May she contracted Covid-19, she was vaccinated and wore masks and gloves everywhere she went. Sadly she passed away this past weekend and left behind a family that will miss her dearly. Due to the pandemic and other circumstances we don't have the ability to cover all of the funeral expenses for mom. If there's any way you can help, we would greatly appreciate it.

I've remained quiet for a very long time, but I feel it's time to break the silence. As some of you may recall, I asked for prayers back in January. The reason being, Brooke received the Pfizer shot late Decemeber (only one shot). She had a VERY bad adverse reaction. I was at Cbus airport on my way to her and she called telling me she had blood clots in her lungs and they were moving her to ICU. I landed in Dallas on my way to San Diego and she said they were getting ready to move her. I told her I loved her and I'd be at the hospital as soon as I landed. Well, that's when things took a turn. Mid-flight, I received a Facebook message from a stranger asking if I was her mom. I replied yes. He then called me & it was her Chief, telling me that she was in the hospital and was undergoing emergency surgery. He said "please come to the hospital immediately and I will meet you on the quarterdeck". I knew something was severely wrong. I've never prayed so hard in my life. I knew something had to have happened for Brooke to not call me to let me know anything. I arrived to the hospital and a Vascular surgeon came out and said she would probably need her left leg amputated at the groin. My heart sank. My beautiful, healthy, active, 22 year old daughter...how can this happen to her?! She had a 3"clot and had no circulation for over 13 hours. (Typically at 10 hours you lose the limb).

He said he was going to perform a bilateral fasciotomy, saying that's the 'only hope' he would have of possibly saving her leg, but he wouldn't know for some time if it would work. She was in surgery from 7pm til about 4am. She was in ICU for almost 2 weeks where they had her on the highest blood thinners possible. Constantly using a doppler on her foot to see if his surgery worked. Thankfully, he saved her leg AND LIFE that night. He is an active Captain (many years of experience) and said he has never seen someone have as many and as large of blood clots that she had throughout her body. She was then moved to a floor for a couple more weeks where she learned how to use her leg and (somewhat) walk again. When I spoke to the Cardiologist the next day, he told me she was in heart failure when they got her. The Anesthesiologist said he told both Drs he didn't feel comfortable putting her under, but at that point they had no choice. Since that day (Jan 06), she has undergone 7 surgeries (7th one today) & will have 1 or 2 more. Her career is over because she now has to be on blood thinners the rest of her life. I'm not telling you this story for pity, I'm telling you to do your research and do what's best for YOU. For those of us who DON'T want the shot, there may be more reasons than you know! **If I haven't been clear, this was all caused from the shot!! *** They have done every lab possible to rule out any other

I'm scheduled to get the j&j vaccine on weds. I have to say I'm completely frightened. I had an awful reaction to the H1N1 vaccine and so I was up in the air on this one. I also have bad reactions to the flu vaccine. 🙏🙏 let's hope this goes well.

I had bought tickets as a graduation present for my son to take him to Hamilton and I have to be vaccinated to take him. They don't take any exceptions, not even medical ones and they don't accept negative test results.

Update: yesterday I ended up at the ER. My head felt like it was going to explode. I was worried about blood clotting. After testing they said my number was only slightly over normal and just to keep an eye out for neurological effects. Otherwise it could be a migraine. Never had those but ok. This morning I read my test results myself and noticed they couldn't test my palates because of "clumping" then I looked that up and it said it be higher risk of blood clots.

I honestly don't know what this all means. 🙄🙄 2

Caitlin Doyle

Kristen Ashley yes. My primary care physician and cardiologist both thought it best. Initially no reaction to Pfizer shot. (Aside from sore arm and headache.) 48 hours later, my heart rate elevated above 140, shortness of breath, light headedness etc. (No reason - no caffeine, alcohol, exercise, other meds etc.) Had EKG, ECG, wore a heart monitor for a week. Heart rate would come down but then spike for no reason. After about 2 weeks, it started to calm down. By then I was less than a week out for 2nd dose. Both doctors said to wait given it was suspect. (Still no real clarity - perhaps my immune system is overactive.) I was told to pursue a non mRNA vaccine as either a booster or to essentially start the series over. Per my doctor, because there was a 3+ month gap in between, there was not a concern. Now for what I should do going forward in terms of needing a booster, that a huge question mark. My hope is that Novavax is available by then. Hopefully this helps you.

10 days before her birthday Jennissia had her first dose of the AstraZeneca vaccine which was administered in Port Vila, Vanuatu. However unlike in Australia It isn't publicised that The Australian Technical Advisory Group on Immunisation (ATAGI) had recommend the vaccine be used for those aged 60 years and above as they were at a reduced risk of complications.

Sadly within 24 hours of receiving the vaccine Jennissia started to develop a slight headache which slowly worsened. On the 14 of August ( 8 days after the vaccine her headache has worsened and she had a sharp pain to left side of her head. The next morning, the morning of her birthday (day 9 after vaccine) she had a severe headache, sharp pain to the head and was now dizzy and disoriented. She was taken to Vila central hospital emergency department where they assessed her and sent her home with Panadol. Sadly that afternoon things deteriorated rapidly. She was now very confused, disorientated and angry which was followed by a 10 minute seizure.

Rushed back to Vila Central hospital she was admitted to ICU and treated for the seizure and pain however due lack of expertise and equipment the clot was never diagnosed nor treated causing terrible damage.

Funds were raised for a medivac to New Caledonia a week later where they have discovered that Jennissia has unfortunately suffered a stroke caused by a brain clot. There was a considerable brain bleed and she will need to learn to walk and move again.

Mandy is in dire need of our help. She is a loving wife, mother, sister and friend. She will give the shirt of her back for the ones she loves and to so many others. Even her last dollar. Mandy works in the medical field and had to take the Covid 19 vaccine. Her first dose went fine, but on her second dose on Jan. 28th 2021, after receiving the Moderna Vaccine (Covid 19), not long after her blood pressure and pulse sky rocketed she ended up in St Luke's in Huntsville where they then transferred her to St. Luke's in the Woodlands, where she spent 4 nights 5 days and was diagnosed with SVT (Suprventricular Tachycardia) that was caused by the vaccine. They then put her on a beta blocker where then her blood pressure bottomed out. She then had to stay in the hospital another 3 nights and 4 days. She had to began seeing a cardiologist, she had 2 differnt follow ups and then again 2 more hospital stays. On her last Cardiologist visit the EKG came back abnormal again, she had to follow up with her primary care doctor. She was then put back on the beta blocker with a lrg. regiment in case of anymore cardiac events. She recently discovered she must now receive a nuclear stress test and then follow with a procedure called Ablation, where they go in through her groin and cartarize the faulty pathway to her heart causing the cardiac stress. After her insurance her portion is going to be well over 5,000.00. In between struggling with her heart condition, she works, is a mom, wife and struggles daily to continue on, and also in the loss of the home back in Feb in the flood. They have had to stay with family and friends until they finally found a home to get by until there home was livable again. They have yet to this date been able to return to there home. Prayers, thoughts, sharing, even a dollar helps. Any donation would be greatly appreciated. Share, Share, Share.

It has been 9 weeks since I lost my brother Clément. He died suddenly from cardiac arrhythmia at age 57. I'm asking for your help to give him the tribute he deserves.

Last January 1st, I had a serious accident. I took a bad fall on the stairs. My injuries included facial fractures, the loss of one eye and severe trauma to my right hand. I could have lost my life! Fortunately for me, my brother Clément was there to help me get back on my feet.

During the past six months up until his last breath, he also helped me continue to restore the Chapelle Ste-Agnes Vineyard in Sutton, a great project of mine to make a great dream come true.

Clément died two weeks after getting his second Astra-Zeneca vaccine. He is the second person I know to die under the same circumstances.

On February 2, 2021, our father was given the vaccine, he was hospitalized within a couple of hours. He has been in the hospital, in a rehabilitation facility, and back in the hospital and died February 15th. WE WANT ANSWERS. Please help us by donating to help us put our father to rest as he died suddenly and we were unprepared. We will use the funds to get to the bottom of the cause of death. This can help others make a better informed decision when it comes to their elderly. Our father was married with 10 living kids and 1 preceding him to death 5 years ago due to cancer he was 22 at the time of his death. Pops would've celebrated his 67th birthday in February 18, 2021.

KENNETH HART

On the 1st September my Dear Father passed away, just 46 hours after his 2nd vaccine shot.

I begged him not to get the vaccine but there was so much pressure to get it, not just from the media but from family and friends.

He told me that after the first vaccine his legs became very weak. The second vaccine proved to much for his heart.

He questioned getting the second vaccine, but felt stuck and worried... what now as he had already gotten the first vaccine?

Everyone that knew my father, knew what a strong man he was even though he was elderly. Before the first vaccine he was still working in the garden daily and climbing over 85 stairs daily... sometimes climbing this 2/3 times a day.

I am so angry and hurt, this vaccine has robbed me of my father. You '.....' '.....' that made this vaccine and use us as a human experiment.

You line your pockets with money while we die at your feet.

My father was not the 1st in this little town to die hours after getting the vaccine... he was the 5th or 6th !!! Dont tell me it wasn't the vaccine, dont tell me it was underlying issues. It was the vaccine !

For those that want to get the vaccine... why does the media and vaccine manufacturers not fully acknowledge nor notify us of those cases that should not get this vaccine, why are they not fully educating the doctors/nurses that administer this vaccine.

You supply and administer this vaccine like you doing us a favour.... !?

What can we do about stopping this evil madness that is sweeping our lands and killing our loved ones?

Signed, Heartbroken and angry !!!

My dad was a healthy 77 year old. He worked out three times a week, had a job, never spent an entire day at home, always out and about, spending time with his grandchildren and children any time he got the chance. Unfortunately my dad believed that receiving these covid vaccinations would keep him healthy, I begged him not to get them but he had his mind made up. After receiving the third vaccine he started not to feel right, he texted me asking me about the side effects, one week and a day after receiving the third vaccine my father very suddenly and unexpectedly passed away.

I share his story in hopes that it will cause someone to think twice and do their research before so willingly injecting something so foreign into their body. I can't bring my dad back, but I hope by sharing his story it can save someone else.

Hey Hussain, I had the same diagnosis after receiving the second dose of Pfizer.

28 year old male from NSW, Australia.

Started with headaches, brain fog, body aches, and exactly two weeks after the vaccine, I developed heart pain and palpitations.

Went straight to the ER and had bloods taken and ECG scans. Everything looked fine to the doctors and they ruled out blood clotting and myocarditis.

They concluded I had pericarditis (inflammation of the membrane covering the heart).

The Doctor told me that I likely had a autoimmune response to the Pfizer vaccine. My body likely started the inflammation process to protect my heart from what it thought was a virus.

I was told by the doctor it is an emerging trend amongst fit and healthy males under 30.

There's has been information about what the long-term impacts might be.

Got my first dose of Pfizer in July. I felt extremely, extremely fatigued the first few days. I had chest pains and a heaviness in my chest. My heart beat forcefully when I would lay down. Within a few days I started feeling even worse. I developed swollen lymph nodes on the left side of my throat (got my shot in my left arm). The swelling got so bad that you could easily feel a lump and I couldn't swallow or eat solid foods my my throat was so swollen and painful. I am waiting for an appointment at the Adverse Reaction Clinic anf have been advised not to get the second dose at this time until I have that appointment. Reported to Health Canada and Pfizer. I still feel extremely tired and am still experiencing the chest issues especially at night. Has anyone had a similar experience?

Hi everyone. I'm looking for similar stories. My father got his vaccine Saturday, 3/27. He was found dead with the remote in his hand the morning of Tuesday, 3/30. The coroner sent him right to the funeral home and there was no autopsy done. They had his death listed as a probable heart attack. When going through his phone I found a text to his girlfriend where he had chest pain the day after his vaccine. When I tell people his story, it feels like they doubt me. I can't help but think he would still be alive today had he forgone this vaccine. My dad was 68, but he was healthy and fit.

I feel like I'm dying..... Never been so crook. I'm in Australia. Had my second pfizer jab on the 18th of August 2021..... It's been almost two weeks and I can't walk very far without becoming breathless, I have green snot galore, coughing like crazy, and can't laugh.... I run out of breath and my laugh turns into a cough. It started straight after the jab and there is no end in sight. Today I have no voice.

My GP and housecall doctor don't think it's related. They think it's just a cold that will pass..... "Take cold n flu tablets and you'll be right".. But I do think it's related. I can't remember the last time I have felt so sick.

What do you guys think? What should i do?

Please help me out!

I got my first Pfizer in August and my second yesterday. First dose only side effect was sore arm. Yesterday's dose put me in cardiovascular anaphylaxis. About 45 minutes after the dose my heart began racing, vision blurred, light headed and dizzy. I almost passed out in Walmart. I was trembling. I took a dose of Benadryl and drank a bottle of water. About 15 minutes later I started to feel better. I carry an epi pen because I have experienced biphasic anaphylaxis after allergy shots and had to discontinue them.

I have received vaccines all my life including the yearly flu shot. No side effects ever except sore arm.

I have reported to my pharmacist, allergist, and VAERS.

WRITTEN BY BABY ALIYAH'S DAD BRIAN POTTER

My lady and I are going through a huge setback. After being told by my lady's family doctor it would be safe to get the vaccinated shot while my lady was pregnant. Our baby Aliyah died. Since then, my lady and I have went through one of the hardest times with supporting our handsome little 3 year old son We been going back and forth to the E.R with her getting multiple blood clots. By the Grace of God, we were able to find these clots by a miracle. Since the multiple visits, and my lady not being able to work. It has gotten us backed up on our bills that's caused us a few wrinkles that I'm trying to iron out. Anything will help and really if I hit this goal, I'll be in the safe zone of falling any further.

Logan Update #2 (Day 14): The nurse just called back. His electrolytes (particularly potassium) are irregular and they are starting him on dialysis immediately. Additionally, his left lung has collapsed, so they will be putting in a chest tube to relieve the pressure and hopefully re-inflate it. She told me that when Covid patients get to this point, the prognosis is grim. I hate to say this, but I think we better start preparing ourselves for the worst. I appreciate the fact that Nurse Carrie has been so straightforward with me this week so that nothing is shocking, but it still hurts so bad. I hate the fact that he is suffering so much while everyone is trying desperately to help him heal. I'll keep you posted. In the meantime, double up on the thoughts and prayers, y'all. Before I tell my story, I want to make a disclaimer that I believe everyone should make informed decisions about their own bodies. On April 15, 2021 I got the Covid vaccine. Everyday since April 25, 2021 I have experienced adverse effects such as pleurisy, tinnitus, chills and leg tingling, brain fog, derealization, nerve pain, vertigo, and now visual issues. It has been the scariest time in my life and there's people suffering worse than me and it is inhumane that we are not being heard. I have been worried about even putting this out there but being silent doesn't help either. If you got the Covid vaccine and are fine you are very lucky! Most people are fine. However, there's people like me and others who are suffering so much for months and months and we need to be heard so we can get help! Just because they say it is super safe, doesn't mean it will be for everyone. I'm so tired of suffering in silence. Thank you to anyone who took time to read this.

LETTY K. SALINAS

Mandilee Trujillo is organizing this fundraiser.

On February 17th, 2021 our Mom Letty was diagnosed with Stage 3 IgG Kappa Multiple Myeloma, a rare blood cancer. It was just the other day she was running around her house and backyard playing with her grandkids. This cancer came fast and strong and completely unexpected. Initially was admitted to the hospital for two weeks following abnormal labs discovered at her PCP office she immediately received blood and platelet transfusions (one of many) and underwent a bone marrow biopsy. After they stabilized her they took her to the Oncology floor where she began chemotherapy treatment for the Multiple Myeloma.

She had been started on and sent home with several new medications and had many follow-up and specialty appointments scheduled. On 3/16 she was hospitalized again for bleeding and clotting issues and on 4/19 she was admitted again because she was experiencing chest discomfort, shortness of breath, and severe abdominal pain she tested positive for COVID-19. Unfortunately, Mom's health took a tragic turn when her lungs began to shut down. The current chemotherapy treatment had to be put on hold eventually the cancer spread our Mother's faith was strong, and she always taught us to be the same. Please consider sending a card to patients who fight cancer and/or providers who care for our loved ones. As we begin to emerge from this pandemic and try to find our "New Normal" please stay home when you're sick, wear a mask in large gatherings, support our vulnerable and get vaccinated to protect you and your loved ones. Mom got her 1st vaccine in March but unfortunately, she got too sick to get her second vaccine in April.

What is the outlook for stage 3 multiple myeloma?

The average survival rate for stage 3 multiple myeloma is 29 months. However, significant medical advances are helping to increase survival rates. Researchers are attempting to

REST IN PEACE

I hate putting my information out there. I was in great health, at least i thought. Trying so hard to protect myself and my child from Covid and did what was right by getting vaccinated. I wanted to protect others and my 9 yr old. I got the 2nd vaccine and suffered a stroke after several weeks. Thank goodness it wasn't Covid. I have multiple appointments and some my insurance is denying. They can't give me a definitive cause which means more appointments, possibly a hole in my heart . I have no blood clotting disorders, no afib, no high cholesterol. I am a huge supporter of vaccinations. I can suddenly barely make it walking a short distance without feeling like I'll collapse. I ask for any help as I try to get back on my feet and try to figure out exactly what happened. I am a single mom to a 9 yr old. I am grateful to be alive by the grace of God as I know this could have been so much worse. They suspect a clot got into my brain and then dissolved.

I am just updating everyone on my testing results. I have had all kinds of strange issues since my vaccine back in March. My brain MRI came back normal and my bloodwork for autoimmune diseases came back normal except for one of the markers that says I have inflammation. The inflammation is small so there's no worry about it according to my doctor but the ultimate belief is that I either had Covid and didn't know it and then got the vaccine which created too many antibodies or that my body had a bad reaction to the vaccine 🙄

Just left neurologist. She was great. For peace of mind I am getting bloodwork for any autoimmune issues and I am getting a brain MRI done. She personally thinks I am fine, but told me she sees patients 2-3 per week with symptoms like mine post vaccine. She thinks I either had Covid (my origin test came back negative) and my body's immune response went in overdrive post vaccine or it's vaccine related. Cross your fingers my bloodwork and mri are normal thank you!

My legs pulse at night with excruciating pain and throughout the day have a very hard time walking. I was extremely mobile before the vaccine. I know this is a dude effect due to the vaccine. My 13 year old boy was admitted last week to Aalborg hospital with myocarditis (inflammation of the heart), after 2. vaccine stabs. Fortunately, he is improving and is home again, but since the vaccination just over a week ago, he has had a heart attack threat hanging over his head.

The symptoms were severe chest pressure and high fever. The watch doctor said Panodil as usual. Own doctor afterwards made ECG, which showed disturbances on heartbeat and immediately admitted my boy...

I haven't questioned the vaccine before, but have subsequently experienced what a madness it is to vaccinate healthy and healthy young people.

Young people don't get seriously ill from the covid!!! They, after being infected, are 13 times better protected from new infection than vaccinated people do.

The Norwegian Health Authority writes that the purpose of vaccinating 12-15-year-olds is not intended to protect the children, but is mainly to protect relatives (who are almost all vaccinated)

Apparently Myocarditis occurs mainly in young men and in the United States there has been an increase in cases. at 3000 %, since the start of the vaccine.

Why do I only know this now??
Why do I have to Google these facts myself (plus many more)
Why am I not being warned before the vaccine?

Read what can be read before you make the election

The choice is completely free, but I don't dare anymore!!!

CUSHING SYNDROME

dancegil My continued journey after the Covid-19 vaccine in January. My platelets have now been normal and stable since May. am slowly getting off the steroids! 🙏🙏 I now have Cushing Syndrome due to long use of steroids which is why my face looks like it does. Lots of side effects from the steroids, it's crazy to be fine one day to wake up with your cheeks breaking out. I've tried to remain positive and know this too shall pass. Only on 5mg of steroids from 70mg and I'm counting down to the day I'm done. About four weeks left and then I'm hopeful my body will go back to normal. I will then stay on the Promacta for a bit longer and then off that too. This crazy journey is finally coming to an end thank the Lord! It has taught me that life is very precious. Disclaimer: I strongly support the Covid-19 vaccine. I will get a booster when it is available to me. It is still the lesser evil.

**Please share.

After much internal debate, I decided to share my vaccine story in hopes of connecting with others who may be struggling with the same or similar side effects.

I received my first Pfizer shot on March 24, 2021 and had hives the next day. They resolved with Benadryl. I received my second shot on April 16, 2021 and have had hives every day since. Some days it's a few or many and some days my entire body is covered including my face. They itch, they burn and they are miserable. With the heat making them worse, this has hands down been the worst summer of my life. I have seen 4 doctors, a dermatologist, an allergist and a hospital visit. I have had a lot of lab work and a biopsy. I have been on 14 different medications including antihistamines, steroids and injections. Many of these medications suppress the immune system. This is a scary treatment plan during a pandemic. Nothing has made them go away.

When I got the vaccine and had a hives reaction, my memory cells made a map of how to fight the virus and a map of my hives reaction. This tricked my body into thinking that I need to have hives all the time. There are no curative answers. I may have this for months, years or for the rest of my life. The cost of all this is into the thousands. The government has not been helpful to people with severe reactions. It's very frustrating.

Do you or anyone you know have these types of symptoms? I'm really hoping to connect with others in this situation.

*This has been hard enough. Please spare me your anti-vaccine statements.

Y'all should all get a covid vaccine. 👍

No way its dangerous.

No way it could trigger your immune system to attack healthy cells for reasons not yet understood by doctors or even by the manufacturers themselves.

No way it will leave you with lingering side effects like raw skin and joint pain 3 months later that no one knows how to treat. 🙄

Point for big pharma.

It saddens me to type this but our household has tested positive for COVID-19. My son Robster was exposed at school on Monday and tested positive for flu, strep, and Covid-19 on Wednesday. Poor baby was hit with 2 viruses and 1 bacteria. We have been in quarantine since then. Robster was feeling fatigued and had a slight fever on Friday, however, he is doing a lot better, and is back to his rambunctious self. My husband and I tested positive on Saturday with an at-home test. Our PCR results came back today and verified that we are indeed positive. I am currently 37 weeks pregnant and fully vaccinated. I am a nervous wreck but am doing my best to keep it together for our babies. My husband has symptoms of sore throat and a slight fever. So far I have only experienced a lingering headache as of this morning. I pray that our symptoms remain minimal. Our girls, Mallorie and Bellamie have both tested negative and continue to do so. Mallorie is vaccinated as well and has been outside the household since Wednesday. She won't be back until we are all cleared. However, my sweet Bellamie is too little to go spend the night with family so she is here with mama, dada, and her brother. I ask that y'all please keep my family in your thoughts and prayers as we battle this virus. I am due Sept 26th and I pray our sweet Journie girl stays in utero until then. Hello, my name is Andrew Perry, Union President for City of Artesia employees. I am fundraising for one of our members, Ms. Patty Castaneda. Our union and Patty's family have teamed up to fundraise for her as she is currently fighting for her life in the ICU against Covid-19.

From her family: "Patty has such a big heart. She has actively fundraised for many charities and causes that she feels passionate about, and it's our turn to help her. She's strong, she's a fighter, but even though she is vaccinated, Covid has wiped her out and she has been in the hospital ICU for almost a month, trying to beat it. She is in the hands of wonderful doctors, and thank God she is making progress in the right direction. Through small notes she sends us, she's still sending out her love and thanks to her family, friends, and co-workers for their well wishes and prayers. She said that she feels the prayers!"

Hi everyone! I need to vent. I already posted my story here, so to sum up, in the middle of March I got a reaction to the Pfizer vaccine pretty much causing me not to be able to walk with all kinds of pain and weakness. I was hospitalized at Johns Hopkins for two weeks the end of April to the beginning of May and at the end of that time I got a ketamine treatment for pain. That helped and I was able to get rid of the walker and walk very very short distances and continued on with pt doing a little better. Then at the end of June, I went backwards and was hospitalized at Hopkins again for 4 days and received an immunoglobulin therapy (IVIG) treatment. That ended up helping a bit more and my walking got better(still slow though), and I was able to walk 4 times around the court across from my house 3 days ago. Big accomplishment!

Now for the past 3 days, my legs have been really stiff, tight, and achy. I have also been more tired and have been getting more out of breathe. I don't know if my body is reacting to my big accomplishment 3 days ago on Sunday, or if the IVIG is wearing off, or I don't know. I wanted to hear your thoughts! But I am really struggling!

Hello I'm wondering if anyone has experienced these same side effects as me as how long they can last?

I developed a rare condition 4 days after my second jab, both myocarditis and microclotting diagnosed by a elevated D dimer. Then 28 days after I developed a dvt in my left leg my D dimer has been elevated since so the doctors have put me on blood thinners they said for up to 6 months.

Of course they are suspicious of the Pfizer shot but they cannot directly link it. I'm wondering how long the D dimer is likely to stay elevated and how long microclotting can occur post vaccine? I've had both doses. Thank you 🙏

I had heart inflammation with dose one. Pfizer. Was uncomfortable, shortness of breath and chest pressure mostly. It passed after 4/5 weeks.

Haven't done the second. Not planning to currently but in my province we will be blocked from entering many places without it. They claim it's a temporary measure but who knows

It's a scary and hard decision. My husband got the first jab and was really ill partially because we think we already had Covid and the antibodies.

After the second one he had a heart attack due to a blood clot about 4 to 6 weeks later. We think it was due to the vaccine!

It's a really tough decision especially where they're mandating it!. That's the part that scares me is the mandates and incentives.

Today Pfizer got their fda approval. I want you to see that almost 7 months after my second Pfizer this is where I am.... Sitting down to cut potatoes because I took a shower first. My legs are tingly and fatigued, I'm slightly out of breath... but I'm hungry for hot food. So I sit on a stool because my legs can't hold me up, I rest with a timer on so I don't forget what I'm doing - thanks brain fog. This is not an antivax post. Pfizer has not reached out to me or the thousands of people in similar or worse situations than I have. This is information that you need to know before you go get that third booster.... What are they not telling you? Why are they pushing this so hard? #beinformed #notantivax #freedomtochoose

I spent the morning on the phone following up ... Pfizer - three different departments, no one knows of Pfizer studying adverse effects of their vax, but I can fill out a form with their Safety dept. Thank you, I have, pretty much monthly. California Health Dept - is sorry I'm feeling poorly but doesn't know of any studies being conducted. FDA - please leave a message. I did. I've also previously called UC Davis Hospital -research and no one is studying side effects there. I'm not really wanting compensation just looking for someone who is trying to help others and seeing how I can be part of it. Friends on my fb support group are feeling forgotten ... Why is no one studying this?? Why did it get approved without knowing this information.... Oh, I know... pandemic.... 🙄

Good day! Our family was fully vaccinated and one month later was struck with covid. My husband has been in the hospital over one month. Was on the ventilator over 3 weeks and is very weak. He needs to get rehabilitation but because we just moved to New Jersey he doesn't qualify for medical assistance and cannot get rehabilitation here. I am trying to find a place in NY for him since his last insurance was there. I am on disability and cannot afford to get someone to help us at home with Therapy so I can maybe take him home. His Medicare becomes active on July 1st then I can get some help but until then I really would love to take him home if I can get help with getting home physical therapy. This has been the worst thing I have ever had to deal with and the saddest. We were on the news for this situation New Jersey man gets covid after vaccinated. It's been a long road and because he has no insurance in New Jersey and doesn't qualify until July he would have to be transferred to NY or pay for therapy out of pocket please help us so I can take him home. It's been a long journey. We thank you all so much for your help. God bless!

Early this summer my mother was diagnosed with Chronic inflammatory demyelinating polyradiculoneuropathy (CIDP), a rare type of autoimmune disorder which we believe she developed after having an autoimmune response to the Moderna vaccine.

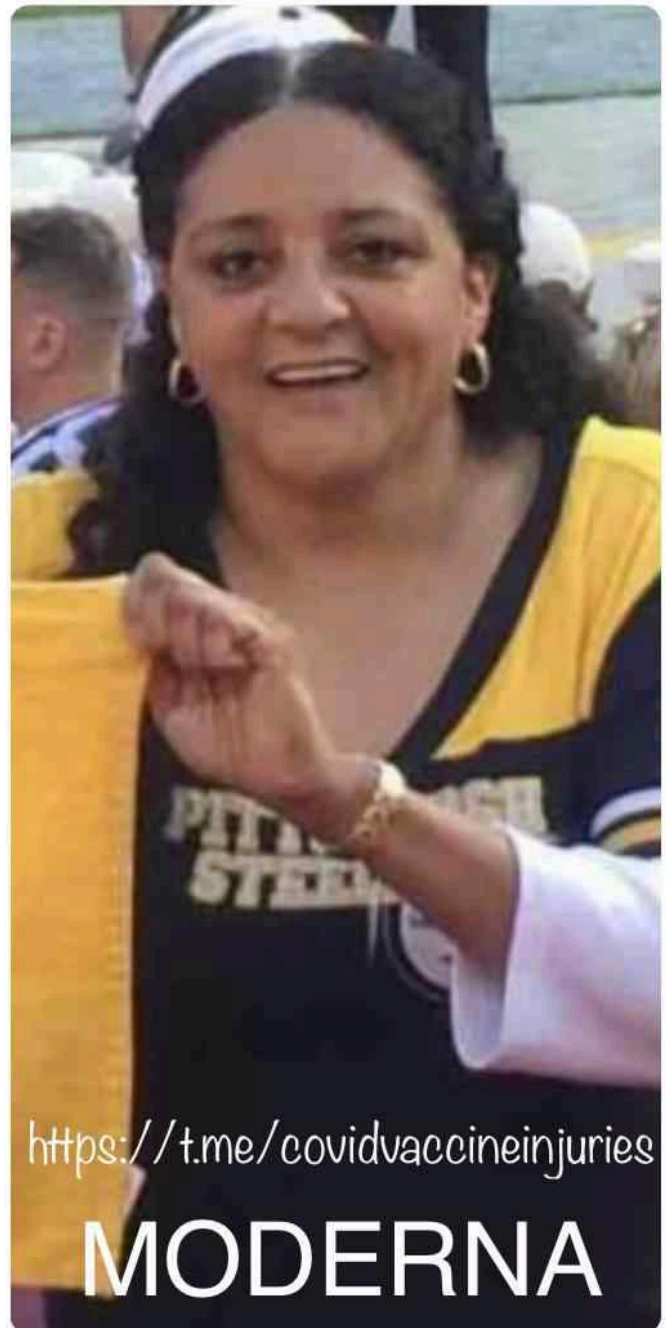

Here's the story:

In late March my mother received her first of dose of the Moderna vaccine. About 4 days later her toes began tingling. She began to worry and made an appointment with her primary care physician.

The connection was not immediately made between the vaccine and her symptoms. She was tested for a number of things including autoimmune diseases but nothing stuck. Eventually they didn't have a choice but to link the two.

By the end of May my mother was no longer able drive, walk or WORK. She also has trouble doing things like opening water bottles and pill bottles. She can't write or open food packaging.

She's had 3 separate hospital stays; twice in Frederick Health Hospital and once in Medstar Georgetown University Hospital, and is on her second stint in a rehab facility. First Shady Grove Adventist Rehab and now Meritus Total Rehab Care.

On the 20th of May 2021, (my mom) Trish received the 2nd Moderna vaccination. Shortly after the vaccination she experienced flu like symptoms for two days (which is not too uncommon). She then started to have sharp pains in her feet and then started to effect her hands. After much discomfort and trouble walking she thought it would subside but then she started to have numbness all over her body and then became extremely weak. It all happened so quickly, where I had to do everything for her. On the 4th of June the pain and weakness took a turn for the worst and we decided it was time to go to St. Marys Hospital and spent 10 hours there waiting mostly in the waiting room. The tests they ran showed nothing abnormal. They encouraged her to follow up with a neurologist and to do further tests for diabetes.

We came back home and moved her down to my room so that I could help her walking to the bathroom and taking care of her with her every day needs.

On June 17th she had an appointment with her General Practitioner to run some more tests and try to get to the bottom of what is happening to her. At this time my mom is needing a wheel chair for she is not able to walk at this point. We went home and then got a call that her sodium level is low 124 (normal 135) and told her to go to the ER again.

June 27th when I was attempting to get her to the bathroom she blacked out. Thank God I was holding her tight, she did not get hurt. I laid her down on the ground thankfully without injury.

Knowing now that she is not mobile I could not do this by myself. We called her doctors and said to take her to VCU ER Hospital. So I called for an ambulance. I have been visiting her in the VCU Neurology unit and after a ton of doctors and a ton of tests and watching her deteriorate more and more, a test result came back for Sjogrens.

Amy Hasegawa is organizing this fundraiser.

Hi, my name is Amy Hasegawa and I am trying to raise money for my mother (Mona Hasegawa). She had the first dose of the Pfizer vaccination on April 24 2021. Shortly after her vaccination she ended up in a wheelchair . Only able to walk short distances to the bathroom. She has multiple attacks every day and it has started to effect her brain. She has been in and out of hospital weeks at a time with no treatment that can fully treat her. We would like to try different treatments like stem cell treatment, ozone treatment,detoxes, and doctors that aren't covered by our insurance. We have already received a 200 thousand dollar insurance bill and insurance isn't going to cover 50 thousand of it. My mother has been suffering for months now and I would like her to start receiving the treatment that she needs. So I can have my mom back. Thank you for everyone's support during this difficult time.

Last Thursday I received a phone call from my mom telling me that dad was sick in the hospital. Somehow, despite having been vaccinated, my father fell victim to COVID19. I was told that his condition was worsening by the hour & that he was not expected to make it through the weekend. My partner & I managed to pull all our resources together to pay for the plane ticket from SFO to North Carolina. I was booked on the earliest flight the very next day but unfortunately, not soon enough. I was at the airport waiting to board my flight when I got the call that dad died earlier that same morning.

LIVER TRANSPLANT

Leslie was born with a liver defect called Benign Recurrent Cholestasis. She underwent four different surgeries as a baby/toddler. With this disease, she became fatigued, jaundice, itchy, nausea, and lost weight. The doctor told her she may outgrow it someday. The year her son, Daniel, was born (28 years ago) was the last time she had one of these episodes. All her life, when having bloodwork done, her liver enzymes would always be slightly out of range. Two years ago, her alkaline phosphate level was very high and they checked her for bone cancer. All came back clear. Fast forward to this past March. She had bloodwork done and her alkaline phosphate had almost doubled. She had been feeling very fatigued but she thought it was from getting the vaccine. At that time, her primary care doctor ordered an ultrasound of her liver, which came back showing a mass in her upper right quadrant. Her doctor then ordered a MRI to confirm the mass and it did just that. In May, she had a biopsy of the mass and it came back positive for cancer. If cancer was the only trouble, they would do a resection (surgery) and remove tumor and be done but her biopsy showed 2 or 3 other spots that could possibly become cancer and her liver showed scarring (cirrhosis) from all her years of liver disease. Leslie & Jim traveled to Duke Cancer Institute in May and met with her Liver transplant team to undergo more tests and see what they recommended and it was decided that a new liver could give her another 20-30 years of life, which she desperately wants. Right now for the most part Leslie feels good. Some days, she is tired but overall her health is good. For that reason she will be having a procedure done in June that will kill the tumor. It's an outpatient procedure and she can return to work after a couple days of rest. They will scan her in 3 months to be sure nothing has come back and for any new signs of cancer. At this time, she is being put on the waiting list for a new liver, which she will not get till after 6 months (she explained this on her timeline about her MELD score). Duke thinks she may get a liver transplant

Hi, I'm Elaine, I'm helping John raise money for medical expenses. I'm not the type of person to ask for help but I have no other choice. He was in the hospital for over 40 days. Went to the ER thinking it was a stomach bug, or side effects from 2nd Moderna shot, it ended up being a severe infection which reached his heart and destroyed parts of heart and he ended up having full blown open heart surgery. He has alot recovery time and lots of Doctors appointments. And disability barely pays the bills now. This has been all so unexpected and it's been very overwhelming for us all. Please help John and his family recover from this tramatic event. We are trying to make ends meet but the more appointments he's has and co-pays we won't be able to make ends meet.

-Hi, my story begins, I had my lower back blocked 2 times at the beginning of the year in one month, which was very painful. once an ambulance took me to the hospital because I couldn't move around for 20 minutes. it took me a total of 4 weeks to return to a normal life without pain. a month later my mother informed me that she had been diagnosed with leukemia. So of course my stress started. same week I went on the first V (AZ). and I really don't remember if my problems started with shock or vaccine. I started to have poor vision for 12 weeks and I felt exhausted. but I managed it. The day I went for the second V, I saw clean and clear for the first time and everything was ok. When I was a kid I had eye surgery, I don't see the right side my whole life. I'm only worried about my eyes. a week later after the V, my eyes started to get worse and two weeks later, I had a headache, dizziness, exhaustion, and finally collapsed on the street on the way to work. people around me called me an ambulance and took me to the hospital. all results are normal , ECG, blood test, sugar, pressure, eyes,ears ... they sent to my GP same day and ordered further tests. his first question was when i had my 2nd V. in two days I collapsed again and again in the hospital. they told me there I had Vertigo. they gave me pills. the next day I went to my GP again and he told me,my nervous system is blocked and not Vertigo. so he gives me other medications and the ones I got in the hospital I had to stop taking. I was at the doctors every day for two weeks. 5 doctors and they all agreed on Vertigo. and I ended up in the hospital again. I have back pills for Vertigo, which help me not to feel very dizzy and in pain. my eyesight did not improve and in my ears whistles. they can't check my left ear because I have it growing inside like serpentes. I'm home for three weeks now and I am not able to walk even 100 meters without dizziness. I can't go to work, no activities, and I can't even go see my mom who is thousands of miles away from me. I just have to rest for another 2 weeks. Next week I'm going to doctor again.he want check where I'm with my condition 🧠👁️

But I believe everything will be ok soon 🙌🙌🙌

Hello, I'm new here. Have mostly been reading here. I had Pfizer 7 weeks ago (1st) and thought I was lucky to not have that much of a reaction, only a little feverish and tired in the first days. As the days went by I started to notice that fatigue didn't subside. And along came other symptoms like feeling allergic, brain fog, sinusitis, neck pain, diarrhea, heart PVS's, tender lymphnodes. I recognize some symptoms from the time I had EBV in 2013. It took at least 6/7 months to feel better back then.. But I cant remember having heart symptoms back then, or neck pain.

I feel so desperate sometimes that nobody knows whats going on. I have full time care of a little one, 1 years old now, which alone is challenging enough 😞 I just want to say that I'm so glad that I found this group to know that I'm not alone in this. Thank you for your time reading my post

For the record let me just set something straight! I AM vaccinated! (Several reasons why I made the decision) They're MY reasons!!! It wasn't an easy one to come to. I'm still not sure it was the right one.

However, what I choose to do with my body is MY choice. EVERYBODY should have a choice. If you don't think that these are some draconian measures and discrimination that businesses are doing to employees then you need to open your eyes wide because they will be coming for other things eventually and it might be something that YOU believe strongly in. This is just the beginning!

For you that want to choose I STAND with you! 🙌

Hi everybody I am new to this group! I had my second dose of Moderna A week ago yesterday and starting the middle of last week is when I started to notice some pulsatile tinnitus in both my ears. The past few days it's gotten worse and it's all day long and very loud.

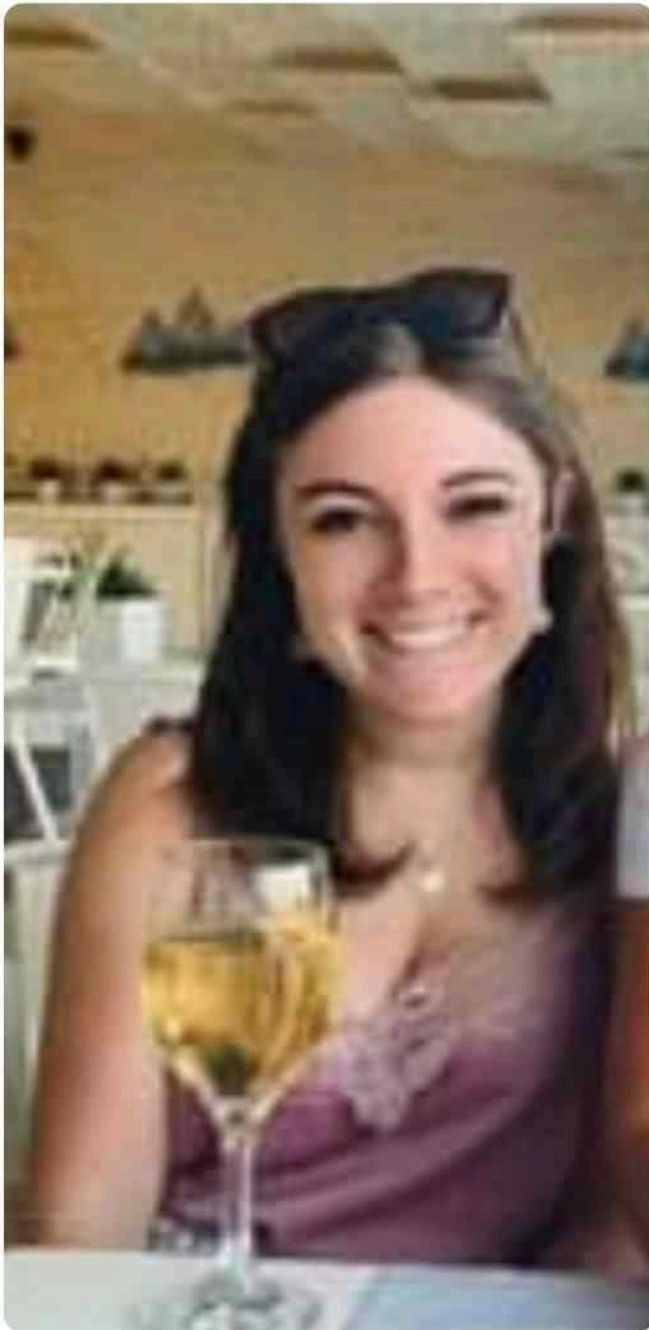

For some reason my gut told me it had to do with the Covid vaccine and after a quick Google search I found so much information it's mind blowing!

I did a quick read search through past posts and it's a lot to read through but I'm wondering what and if anybody has done right out of the gate.

Today I got an IV at IV infusion spa with Somme glutathione in it for liver detox and some anti-inflammatories in the concoction but other than that I'm assuming I just have to ride it out and wait for the inflammation to go away?

Hi all,

I've just found this group and it's such a relief to know im not the only one going through this (at first I thought it can't be the vaccine but this group has reassured me it very likely is!), but also very sad to hear so many people are suffering.

I had my second Moderna vaccine 3 and a half weeks ago. About 5 days in I got overwhelming fatigue and have since been sleeping 12-14 hours a day, spending much longer in bed and struggling to get through a full day of work (I work from home and am expected to do 7.5 hours a day). I've moved back to my parents for the time being as I don't have the energy to leave the house to get food or cook etc (and lucky enough to have parents that will do this for me temporarily!)

My main other symptom has been severe constipation - having to take lots and lots of laxatives to get anything to come out.....

Other symptoms have included some heart palpitations at night, and an occasional tightness in my chest which is a bit scary, mostly when lying down at night.... I did have chills/ sweats for the first couple of weeks but these seem to have gone.

For context I am 25 and physically healthy up to this point. Drs have done bloods which are all fine so no deficiencies etc.

I'm super worried that this won't ever go away.... Has anyone with similar symptoms seen any fading of them over time at all? Do we think this is an autoimmune response?

Thanks a lot and wishing you all well, and sorry for those going through something similar ❤️

Has anyone else developed chronic sun sensitivity post vaccination?

I'm about 3months post 2nd vaccination now and 30m outdoors results in my skin erupting in a raised red incredibly itchy rash. It gets worse and worse for 24hrs after exposure. Within 48hrs my skin is literally peeling off and my skin is painfully dry despite applying cream hourly. In addition to the rash my arms look like they are infected, swollen and incredibly hot to the touch. For about 5 days it literally feels like I'm cooking inside my skin. It takes about 7 days post sun exposure for the rash to abate.

Dr says it looks like a classic drug induced sun sensitivity and has ruled out either of the 2 drugs I'm on as the cause. I've been on both for over a year and I've only experience this reaction for the past few month. BUT I also says he doesn't believe it's due to the vaccination

I am approximately 4 months post 1st and only Pfizer vaccine (May 26th). I was told not to get the second vaccine out of concern of making my side effects worse or impacting my health even more. I want to see if anyone is experiencing what I am as well. I know the majority of us have tinnitus... but I have other concerning side effects and it seems as the days/months go on, the worse it gets.

My initial side effects were: two pops in the head (on both sides on my forehead) that very night of the vaccine that led to extreme energy for about a week and insomnia which triggered my anxiety. The lack of sleep caused hypnic jerks or where you get ready to fall asleep, but your brain jolts you awake - which then causes anxiety. I also felt vibrations in the soles of my feet for a few days. A week later, the tinnitus appeared and has been ongoing since then (some days are better than others). That pretty much sums up what I experienced the first couple of weeks.

My current side effects that seem to be increasing or getting worse:

- The tinnitus (which never really left)
- I had a moment two Saturdays ago where when I was laughing so hard with my significant other, when I laughed/caught my breath - I felt my vein or nerve or something on the top/right of my head bulge or something passing through - which triggered a brief anxiety feeling. Then it just kind of spread through the rest of my right side of the head. It resolved the next day.
- Two days later, I had a very long day with on screen work and by the end of the day/early evening, my head just gave me a sudden shift to where I felt like I was going to have vertigo. But it stopped. I shut my laptop off and just laid down to prevent it from becoming full on vertigo. (I haven't had vertigo since 2019 (for only 2 weeks) and prior to that - no vertigo since 2012 or so.
- Yesterday, when driving back home, I felt a huge "punch" in my left eardrum which was short and quick, but enough to startle me. This is the same ear most of my tinnitus is present in.
- Today (and really on and off since the end of May), I have been having odd sensations to where I can feel certain fingers/toes more than others, or when I walk - my legs want to collapse - but I fight hard to "ignore it" and keep walking. I was at the grocery store today when that happened. It is really distressing and I know it is related to my brain/nerves. I just don't have proof of it. I feel the ER or wherever will not see anything in an MRI and just brush it off as anxiety. I don't even know how to really explain it - but that is the best I can do.
- I am still struggling with falling asleep easily like I used to prior to the vaccine. I have some days where I am lucky to fall asleep and stay asleep, and other days where I get ready to fall asleep, but my brain jolts me awake. I am usually able to go to sleep after that happens. Sometimes it is so harsh - that it scares me and takes a while to get back to sleep. This happened last night again and it is not the first time.

My d-dimer test is elevated after the vaccine. If anyone else is going through this can you share with me what you did? I'm anxious. I do not have any heart conditions but my blood pressure has been high after the shot.

Ordered Items: D-Dimer; Venipuncture

Date Collected: 09/10/2021    Date Received: 09/10/2021    Date Reported: 09/11/2021

D-Dimer
Test	Current Result and Flag	Previous Result and Date	Units
D-Dimer	5.07 High		mg/L FEU

According to the assay manufacturer's published package insert, a normal (<math>\leq 0.50</math> mg/L FEU) D-dimer result in conjunction with a non-high clinical probability assessment, excludes deep vein thrombosis (DVT) and pulmonary embolism (PE) with high sensitivity. D-dimer values increase with age and this can make VTE exclusion of an older population difficult. To address this, the American College of Physicians, based on best available evidence and recent guidelines, recommends that clinicians use age-adjusted D-dimer thresholds in patients greater than 50 years of age with: a) a low probability of PE who do not meet all Pulmonary Embolism Rule Out Criteria, or b) in those with intermediate probability of PE. The formula for an age-adjusted D-dimer cut-off is "age/100". For example, a 60 year old patient would have an age-adjusted cut-off of 0.60 mg/L FEU and an 80 year old 0.80 mg/L FEU.

Hi all, I've just found this group & I hope its ok to post my experience, if not then admin please delete, I don't want to get the group in trouble with FB.

I had my 1st Pfizer jab on 23rd August, all good except for a few of the expected side effects, chills, fatigue, minor joint & muscle pain. Over the first week my hands & feet became freezing cold & I couldn't warm them, I then lost all sensation in my feet, lower legs, hands & forearms (like the had gone to sleep). I then developed a blood blister type rash on my left hand & started to get severe pain & weakness all over & increasing confusion. On 1st September I reported an adverse event & went to the hospital, only to be told after a 9 hr wait, that it wasn't related & just a coincidence, before being rushed out the door, no tests or exams done. The next day I went to our local health clinic & they took standard bloods & told me they were normal. I was feeling so bad I could hardly move, had to cancel all my physical therapy for my Brain Injury Rehab, except my remedial massage however the therapist only did a soft relaxation massage due to the pain, muscle spasms & fatigue, she also noted my cold extremities & lack of sensation. Finally got to see my own GP (of 11+ years) on Wednesday & she was very concerned & thinks it may be Guillain Barre Syndrome, she sent me straight to a major hospital with a stack of supporting paperwork, including the earlier blood test results (turns out they weren't normal, a couple of markers had high readings), 48 hrs in hospital & more bloods done, Neurologist thinks its nothing but medical are concerned & told me not to have 2nd dose & referred me to an immunology clinic. Still feeling like I've been hit by a bus & have worsening symptoms, thumping headache & can barely get out of bed. Sorry about the long post but was wondering if other had experienced this too?

My grandson Dylan 29 had his first Pfizer shot the end of May. An hour later he experienced chest pains. His work was threatening that everyone had to have it so he felt he had no choice. He eventually ended up in emergency, He has had endless tests, X-rays, an echo cardio gram, ct scan and mri. It's been 3 months of pain and deteriorating health. He's been totally incapacitated and unable to work. Results show a stroke or brain tumour. He is now waiting to see a neurologist. Ivermectin has helped him walk again but has not helped his brain since that damage has been done.

Well 16 days ago I had my 2nd Pfizer vaccine and on day 8 I developed heart palpitations and irregular heartbeat. Tonight I ran up one flight of stairs, became dizzy with a heart rate of 160. A few days prior to my second vaccine I walked 10 km and cycled an additional 10 km with no issues and no history of heart problems.

I will keep it private as I don't want to upset my husband who is still very sad. I'm sure many more are doing the same as me. What is reported is the tip of the iceberg. You could share his picture off twitter / Facebook and on your other platforms. The doctors said not vax related when this swelling came up 6 days after jab. How can they be so sure!!! Scan for dvt = negative but of d dimer had been done then I'm sure something would have shown up. I'm no expert though. Just learning through helpful people like yourself and Kelly bee 👍

Well this is new(ish). I've always had problems with Reynauds, but nothing like this. Yesterday, I also had coat hanger pain, panicky feeling and felt like I was going to pass out. On top of the usual other brain symptoms (derealization, tinnitus etc).

This has likely been asked before, but I was wondering if anyone who took any kind of immune suppressors/cytokines inhibitors/antihistamines/nitric oxide before their shot and how they fared? Also, if anyone took the J&J after the P? I am 7.5 months post first dose of P. My symptoms are currently similar to everyone's here - brain fog, tinnitus, dizziness, headaches. I have also been dealing with panic attacks and shortness of breath. I am having EXTREME anxiety about the new mandate and I will likely have to get fully v'ed since I'm a federal worker. I'm all by myself and no one to help me. Quitting my job is not really an option. I currently have a naturopath doc who said he'd write a letter, but I'm guessing that's not going to be

My symptoms started at the end of may. Coincidentally (or not?) 5 days after I got my first shot. Phizer.

I chalked my feeling tired up to working through the whole pandemic, mother in law getting suddenly diagnosed with a brain tumour and passing less than 3 months later, homeschooling 2 kids in french, which I don't speak.... You know... crazy life situations at the time. I basically thought I'd just burnt myself out. But I just never "got over it"

I have throughout my life dealt with and still deal with at times, depression, anxiety and I'm anemic. Fun, right!

I finally decided to see my doctor because although I've dealt with tough times in my life, it's just different this time. Somethings wrong.

I did blood work and found my iron and b12 were borderline low. Not surprised. I'll take some supplements and I'll be good in no time. Just like the last time, right! Nope. Still. Sooooo. Tired!!!! I know I am not depressed. My brain wants to do all the things, but my body is just, no!! Laying here wanting to, but I just can't.

I've never been so tired in my life. Chronically feeling Exhausted. Merely struggling to exist. A huge difference in my normal chaotic busy life I'm used to and thrive off of. I also have adhd so I'm used to, and actually enjoy, the chaos.

I'm sleeping 12 hours which I normally never have. I wake up feeling like I haven't slept... like I've just been up for days, drinking. Worst hangover, ever! I can't concentrate (more than just adhd) zero focus. When I stand up it takes a minute to be able to see. I call it "seeing snow" like blackout but with white light spots. Everything is hard. I just want to lay down all the time. I've been in trouble with work for sitting. I find the mornings especially hard. I get occasional pressure in my head, not as intense as a headache... more like a constant squeeze.

Its frustrating feeling this way and trying to explain to people the level of exhaustion I'm experiencing without them saying things like "yeah I'm tired too".... No, no... it's not that simple.

My doctor isn't against the idea of the possibility that I had COVID and am now "long hauling" but it's really hard when it can't be diagnosed or taken seriously. He has suggested not getting the second shot until I'm feeling better... but how long until then? What if it was an adverse affect of the shot and then I get my second and have to feel this way all over again. I'm nervous now and just want to feel "normal" again.

If you've made it this far, thanks for listening ❤️ Any advice or suggestions or really anything to make me feel like I'm not crazy, would be amazing.

So I have a doctors appointment tomorrow. My doctor has been at a loss to what is causing my symptoms. I've done a lot of reading, both through this group and then Google to further research the ideas people have mentioned.

I've printed off information about MCAS and POTS which I feel I fit both categories. I plan to highlight the key symptoms and information I've found and what I've been trying with some success. Mostly so I'm organized and don't just go in rambling and forgetting everything. Also found out they can be linked. Unfortunately testing for both of these can be tough... of course, right.

I feel like I'm preparing for an intense interview and need a solid and convincing presentation to prove those could actually be legit.

Public Service Announcement: Those who know me, know I keep my personal life pretty private, but as a result of this incredible medical/financial situation I'm in, I think it's time I speak up about this. Very long story short. I received my first #moderna #covidvaccine from #cvspharmacy on 5/12/21. Couple days later started noticing something wasn't right. Ended up going to my online docs, Primary care docs, the ER (few times), several labs, and 2 Neurological Specialists. Over 3-1/2 months later, and tons of tests, I've been diagnosed with Small Fiber (and potentially Large Fiber) Peripheral Neuropathy Nerve Disease (can google it, not fun), as a Direct result of receiving the vaccine. I was essentially the epitome of health prior to receiving the vaccine, and now I have to live with this the rest of my life. Not to mention the financial burden of constant treatment. I'm a logical and analytical person, and recognize the statistics on both sides. Again, just sharing my experience bc no one is reporting on the side effect cases like this. I have excellent insurance and my burden of the nearly 140k in claims, TO DATE, is still in the 15k-20k range. Just an FYI..Thanks for reading and feel free to spread the word..

Our vaccine story: this is my brother. He is a healthy 25 year old man. I want to share his story simply for people to know & remember it. 72 hours after receiving the Covid vaccine, he experienced a chain of events that put him in the hospital. He was unable to put words together or think clearly, he then was seizing for 2 hours, about 24 hours later he got a fever close to 104, he didn't know his name or who he was, if he spoke it was only one word & very hard to understand, his body was so weak, and his muscle reflexes were unresponsive. Could the vaccine not be the cause of all that happened? Sure. Could the vaccine have caused all of it? That is for you to decide. If you are vaccinated, I have nothing against that at all because that is your choice to do for your personal situation. But what I do want people to know is my brother's experience. What is amazing to me is that God has designed our bodies and immune systems to naturally fight illness. God knew this virus would impact the world but He also knows your story from beginning to end! So do not let fear or pressure make you choose either way. Educate yourself equally from both sides to make this choice. There are many, many more stories just like my brother's. Thankfully my brother has recovered and is doing much better! I love you bub. Xavier Hollon

I don't really know how to say this.... We've been through so much in the last 8 days. But in all I believe in my heart that I need to let this story out and maybe help someone else.

My brother took the J&J j-b on 4/12. He then caught covid on 7/21 and received an infusion the same day.

He never did recover from the vid. Which they call "long haul" covid.

On the night of 8/31 he started experiencing severe pain in his knees and hands/Wrists. By the next morning he was locked up, could barely move his arms and legs.

I rushed him from ER to ER several times within days and had no help. 🤔 Literally NO HELP!! Everyday he gets worse.

After searching for answers and help. Him and I contacted the American Front Line Doctors along with finding Amazing Dr. Chute in Lafayette.

We discussed his case with both. We finally had a diagnosis. Both of their plans and ideas matched up perfectly.

Ryan was diagnosed with Guillain-Barré Syndrome. His body is overloaded with TOXIC antibodies that have turned his immune system against him and started attacking his nerves.

He has a very long road ahead of him. But after another stressful day rushing him to help WE are feeling a little a bit lighter. I feel like we may be seeing some light. I'm praying so 🙏❤️🙏🙏🙏🙏🙏

Today as him, my dad and I rushed him to help again. He said "As F**ked up as this is I'm so happy to spend this time with y'all" 🙏❤️❤️

We all need him. Lindsey and those precious girls need him! Please pray for a full recovery!

Since his diagnosis we have found 4 others with this exact problem all in this area.

Trust your gut. Don't overdose your body with these toxic antibodies! ⚠️!!!

Mihaela Chantova it was a hematologist. they ran scans and tests at the hospitals for could not find anything or a reason why the clot happened. a nerologist scheduled a appointment with a hematologist which ran blood work to see if he had a clotting disorder. the blood work came back normal. you tell me. even the pcp and the hematologist that did the tests are saying the vaccine caused it.

Well, here we are. My mom has covid. Not that big of a deal to most because most of the world has had a round of it. She was one of the first to take the vaccine as she works for Wellstar back in January (2nd dose by then). Most know she suffered a severe vaccine injury. Pfizer. Almost immediately after her second dose all of her joints started to be very inflamed. She has been on prednisone for seven months. They tried to wean her a week ago and she ended up back on a walker because she can not walk. She also can not go up or down her stairs without being on all 4s. This vaccine has completely changed her life. She has been to 6 specialists, the ER many times, tried multiple intense body altering injections and medications and done every regimen that anyone can think of Homeopathically. She took it to protect other people as well as herself and it changed her life forever. Her lungs are hurting and she's been in bed for 2 days. I guess my point is as much as I am not an anti-vax person, this has ruined my mother's life and she STILL got sick as hell. With the current "mandate" that this administration is forcing on businesses makes me want to cry. That is BULLYING. I know many have lost loved ones from Covid and I'm so sorry. I know it's a real thing obviously. Don't forget us on the other side.

I've been scared for her for a long time but now I'm terrified. She is immune compromised from the vaccine and now she has the virus that was supposed to be protecting her. Before you attack those that are afraid of the consequences of the vaccine consider there are two sides to this. So many people have reached out to me telling me how they know somebody with a severe vac injury or death from it after I made it public knowledge on my stories. Wellstar is no help at all. Her own employer who is now requiring this. It's sickening. Pray for her and let's all stop being so dang judgemental and hurtful with choices.

I had to use symbols on my wording because... censoring. To all of you that choose the vaccine. I understand and I love that you get the freedom to choose. There is not one bit of judgement coming from me and I think that is a great decision for you and your family. Please just pray for those suffering from trying to do the "right thing" that ended up hurting her

It was mandated by my nursing school that I take the covid vaccine. Shortly after taking my first shot I began having heart palpitations, chest pressure, dizziness etc. I have been in and out of hospitals the past 4 days to try to get answers. I was told at UK that I am having inflammation of the heart (Myocarditis) as a reaction to this vaccine. She said this is a common side effect that is being swept under the rug and not released to the general public. I am 20 years old and have to see a cardiologist today at 2 oclock. If you would, please remember me in your prayers...

⚠️ Warning Long Post ⚠️

I have debated making this post but I'm tired of sitting in silence while I battle the worst battle of my life! On Feb. 22nd I received the 2nd dose of the Moderna vax. Immediately when I stood up to go to the waiting area for observation my whole body felt hot and I got really lightheaded, I sat there the 30 mins then went home. I was off and didn't feel great the next 2 days but brushed it off thinking it was normal. About a week later I was getting ready for work and told my Husband I didn't feel good. I felt very weak, shaky, dizzy and my heart was racing. I went on to work anyway and by the time I got to the office I felt like I was dying so I asked a coworker to walk with me to the urgent care downstairs. When I got there my BP was so high (stroke level) that they sent me straight to the er. Go to the er they get me straight back, do an ekg, blood work and give me something to slow my heart rate down. Everything came back normal so they dismissed me as having a anxiety attack (never have had one before) and sent me home with meds to help with the heart palpitations. Next few days still didn't feel good but I fought through it. My Husband, Daughter and I went to the mall to do some shopping and the same thing starts happening again in the middle of the mall....heart racing, numbness/tingling in my fingers and toes, dizziness, lightheaded, blurred vision, weakness, shortness of breath etc. to the point I couldn't even walk out of the mall. My Husband had to get security to get me a wheelchair to wheelchair me out of the mall. He took me to a different er where they did the same thing that the last er did and they also disregarded it having anything to do with the vax, and told me it was a anxiety attack and sent me home with a different beta blocker. Next few days go on and I'm still miserable but again fought through it till one day I'm sitting at home eating breakfast with my 2 year old Daughter and I start having another "episode". I call my Husband at work, he rushed home and took me to a different er 🙄 As I was checking in at the front desk an older man was checking in next to me with chest pains and stated he to just received the vax! This time I was not going down without a fight, I was demanding answers. I am a healthy 37 year old female

I will no longer be silent about my daddy. He chose to take the M0dern@ 2 J@b against all his children's wishes. I begged him not to and he said he was not doing it. He did it on his own free will and didn't tell his kids because he was traveling and didn't want to be selfish, right? He was 100% independent, living by himself, mowing his lawn and traveling in his camper. He was 100% INDEPENDENT and he's still sharp as a tack. He has CHF and was on blood thinners and should have NEVER been a candidate for the J@b. Not long after the 2nd J@b unknowingly he started slowly bleeding internally. After weeks of finally getting him stable, he is now in rehab in a wheel chair and trying to learn to walk again on a walker. We're told he will be released this Saturday and he will be living with me. His plan is he's "gonna stay with me a couple of days until he can walk again". My point is simple. More stories need to get out about this. Are they collecting research on the folks that are having issues from it? When will that get reported? Are they dismissing people like my daddy? One of the first questions the EMT asked was his v@x status and which one he took. My daddy 100% regrets taking that double J@b and will tell anyone it's why he is where he is. He wants his old life back or to go meet the Lord. You can take your experimental J@b and stick it where the sun doesn't shine.

Well I did it, 10min after my throat started swelling they gave me a syringe of Benadryl seems to be better. My nerves were already up, now they just shot! She told me to stay cautious the next 24hr if the swelling continues or my chest feels like it's tightening to go to the ER because I will need an epi pen 🙄🙄 #PfizerVaccine

Has anyone had the Mod shot and experienced nausea and vomiting only during your monthly cycle? My daughter has been sick every month at the same time for the last 5 months. She's been in the emergency room many times. They can't find anything wrong. It happens like clockwork and lasts for several days then goes away just as suddenly as it came. Does it mess with your hormones? What relief have you found?

We know of 2 people who “died in their sleep” days after their first shot. Both in their 60’s. Another family friend had a TIA while driving and subsequently lost vision in her left eye.

I know of two personally. My friends mom was healthy, hit the treadmill three days a week etc. Within 48 hours of shot she could no longer walk or speak. She just passed. Also know high school bball player who is under Dr supervision because shot caused an enlarged heart.

I got the first one [M] in January and the second one in March... more or less, on the basis that I had started full time for a medical center; I asked a series of questions to the new medical director, and next thing I knew I was on the list to receive. Now, I could have taken myself off of the list, but really, I felt pressed by peers [all highly intellectual]. I will say this should NOT be mandated. It is NOT a one size fits all. I was sick for 3 months. Blood tests showed I possibly had multiple myeloma or amyloidosis, both of which are basically a death sentence [let's just say I learned more than I'll ever want to know about Kappa/lambda light chains and that it isn't anything to do with a frat house or sorority]. I was scared to death. The thought of not seeing my kids grow up, brought me to a severely low point. More blood tests and urine testing showed the results may have been skewed by the 🦠. For 3 months I felt like I was having a heart attack. The pressure in my chest was continuous. My tongue would swell, the inside of my lips would tingle, I became lightheaded, or dizzy, back of the head ached, eyes were ridiculously puffy and I looked pale. I had an echocardiogram. Spent two nights in the ER in GJ. Medical bills are still coming in. I now have to have my blood tested every 6 months. I felt pretty good for 2 months and now side effects are again starting to show... swollen tongue, tingling lips, chest pressure, etc. I feel like I did my body an injustice. If I only knew what I know now. I would have leveraged more on the 90 something % survival rate than to put myself through what has been misery. Yes, I continued to function and still continue to function. I hide the problems, but it definitely hasn't been a joy ride and NO ONE should be forced or threatened or pressed into this. Now, my employer has mandated it. I quit working as a full-time employee, but found a way to still contract my services.

Before anyone starts telling people to get over it, it's like getting a flu shot or do it for those around you... NO! Make the best decisions for you and your family because that is what you have to go on. PERIOD. People are mostly hearing about those who are sick from CVD, or un 🦠'd; what about those, like me, whose story hadn't been posted or shared or has been deleted because it tells another tale...one that a lot of people shrug off.

REMINDER: since I got the Moderna shot I have had a slight case of Bell's palsy. Not as bad as when it first happened but to me it is noticeable. This morning I woke up my eye watering, my cheek feeling weird almost numb and my lip sagging to where I could keep feeling drool on the side of my mouth. Even before I looked into the mirror I thought oh no! It's back! It's not as bad as before but I can tell. It's worries me to think I might have this forever and it can come and go as it pleases while I take antibiotics and steroids to help make it better hopefully because I took a shot (not even the second dose, I only took the first dose) that our government tried to say was safe and okay even without being FDA approved. #protectyourfamily #notrare #choicematters

Edit: also want to point out when my doctor was taking care of me when this happened back when I first got the shot, we tried to go to the online source to fill out the form about my reaction, and it says they are not counting reactions, only confirmed deaths from the shot.

Hi my name is Jamie and like a idiot and beyond my better judgment I got my second vaccine back on July 28th. I had gotten my first before I left Texas for Oklahoma a few months before. I had swore that I was not going to get the second shot. I believe that the vaccine is poison to begin with, but when you have people bugging you did you get the shot yet 50 times a day it bothers you. I felt like a bad parent not getting that second shot since I am the main person going out to get stuff. As most of you know Maddy(my 14 year old daughter) has social anxiety so getting her out of the house is like pulling teeth. So, my reason were not the best but I can only do what I can do. Well a couple days after the vaccine I broke out in a bad rash and bumps everywhere! When I say everywhere I do mean orally, vaginally, and whole body. They itch they hurt and I have some that are just huge. The oral ones I just cry about how bad they hurt. I went to the doctor, denist, and dermatologist. I have had blood test and a skin all you can imagine. They all came back good and skin test came back with results I have a autoimmune disorder called lichen planus of the skin, orally, and vaginally. It is very uncommon to have all 3 at the same time and it is a lifetime thing. There is no cure and oral ones have to be watched for cancer by the dentist. The medication I am on I have to have a eye exam every so often. This just kills me especially when you hear a doctor say yes it was a reaction from the shot. Well I can not get it wet very much or get chemicals on it or put my teeth in and it makes u tired, have nausea, headache, and my stomach hurts so bad I cry when I try to put anything in it. David is a truck driver as yall know and he has been having to come home every week to try and take care of cleaning with chemicals. So since all this his checks aren't the best. I am just so sick and stressed. MY INSURANCE will not cover all of my doctors visits,

Hi, Every one:

My name is Tony. Before vaccinated by Pfizer I had a hopeful and beautiful life.

Since I got first dose of vaccine, I have this frequent urination problem.

And just after one month of my second dose, I started to feel exhaustness, short of breath.

I didn't pay more attention to it. Until last week, I was taken to ER for sudden collapse.

Doctor found I have pericarditis, which is apparently related to the vaccine I injected.

Now I could not afford the medical in US, I will have to go back to my country to figure out my Pericarditis, as well as my frequent ruination.

I spent years to establish my life in US. Now I have go back my country sealing for treatment, won't able to see my spouse in several month, no matter how much I love him. because we could not afford the apartment mortgage and medical bills here in

My father had his shots and about 45 days later had a massive heart attack. He's never been sick a day in his life. I know another friend who had her shots and a month later starting having heart palpitations and chest pains. And my friends dad had both shots and now has a blockage two months post vaccines 🤔 no one can tell me this is just a Coincidence

Update:

I've been with dad today for five hours so far and he's still making progression. However we may be running into some hiccups.

They removed one tube today and his catheter. But he isn't putting out enough urine. Which isn't good at all since my dad was only born with one kidney. So please continue to keep the prayers pouring in. They are talking about putting his catheter back in which he is doing all means to avoid.

Also some fluid is getting built up so they are doing breathing treatments with an oxygen mask. And he's doing his breathing exercises now during commercials to fight the fluid off. He's for sure fighting to stay getting out Monday.

He was able to rest today with me here and we did walk two laps. So I am very proud with his progress but just keep praying we don't run into any bumps that delay him.

P.S.

My Aunt died from the vaccine and is not on that report. They called it CHF- Congestive Heart Failure... it was the fluid pushing against her heart that made it stop. Fluid from the shot.... a lot more cases like this that are not reported

Then there is my cousin, she has permanent heart problems for the rest of her life due to the vaccine. And I know a friends mother who almost died (thankfully she made it but will have permanent issues too) from fluid as well.

Hello everyone my name is William but I go by Cody.

At the end of last year, 2020, when the coronavirus pandemic was at its height. I made the decision that I should get vaccinated to protect myself being a healthy 23 year old with no underlying health issues, my high risk family members, and friends as well. I was vaccinated December 31st, 2020 and was hospitalized January 1st, 2021 after losing consciousness the night before and suffering from memory loss, 103° fever, and horrendous body aches. Little did me or my family know this would only be the beginning. Fast forward a few months to June, without having any more adverse episode: since January. Until June 20th, 2021 when I was out on an anniversary dinner with my loving girlfriend, Dakota, when I had a seizure and was rushed to the hospital by ambulance. Fortunately enough I was able to get in with a wonderful neurologist who has since prescribed me with medicine to keep the seizures at bay since June 28th, 2021.

Dear Community,

As friends of the Dinglasan family, we reach out to you humbly asking for financial support to help cover hospital costs for a grieving family at this most difficult of time.

Our dear friend Rafa Dinglasan sadly lost his battle with COVID 19 on the 13th September 2021, age just 53. Rafa leaves behind him two amazing teenage girls Eneka and Marina and a devoted wife Lala who will all desperately miss him.

Rafas story.

Rafa was always a man with a big heart, boundless energy and infectious personality. When a distant family member asked him for help with a business venture, Rafa reluctantly obliged to meet them outdoors at a cafe as they had been isolating from COVID due to only recently having the second vaccine.

On his 39th birthday, Angelo DiPonti was admitted to Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit on July 5, 2021 with a respiratory illness. Within hours he went into septic shock and was admitted to the ICU on a ventilator. The cause of his severe illness has been determined to be a reaction associated with the J&J vaccine he received one week earlier. After more than nine weeks Angelo remains in the ICU on a ventilator, but is showing some signs of improvement. The road to recovery will be long. Angelo has a wonderful team caring for him in the ICU but will eventually require extensive rehabilitation. Unfortunately Angelo does not have insurance coverage for rehabilitation and other related expenses that will be needed for his recovery. Any donations to assist Angelo and his family would be welcome and greatly appreciated.

Hi you guys im doing a fundraiser for my dads Funeral and medical bills. unfortunately my dad passed away 8/31/2021 due to him not reacting very well to the vaccine. He fought hard for those 8 days that he got it but it sadly claimed his life. Me my mom and my sister are truly lost in this sort of situation cause we would have never expected that something that would have made him stronger and healthier would sadly claim him and take him from us. they mandated it at his job and he was just following orders cause he loved what he did and he didnt wanna stop doing what he loved most. I cant truly point the fingers at the vaccine cause i dont understand if it was that or something else i know that when he first got it on day 1 he got sick at first i thought it was just his immune system kicking into action cause thats usually what it does but by day 2 and 3 he was just getting restless with all the symptoms and by day 7 he was he somehow doing a bit better from it but unexpectedly on day 8 his fevers and chest pains and trouble breathing came back and next thing we know he had suffered a heart attack and we couldnt get him back the paramedics tried for 30 minutes to get him back and they did but by the time we got him back his brain was no longer responsive and it was swelling. it was just his heart beating but we still had hope and faith sadly the doctors said that his lungs were filled with pneumonia and by 4am he suffered another heart attack.. they managed to get him back but by 6am we decided my dad has suffered

On Saturday, the 5th of June I had my first Pfizer vaccination. By Monday I had a red rash on the arm that I had my vaccination on and small blisters started to appear on my arm. These blisters kept getting bigger and bigger by the hour and I was in my local hospital or A&E for a week. The doctors had not seen anything like this and thought that I had burnt myself. Finally they drained the blisters and after two weeks off my arm being in bandages they removed it and told me to put flamazine on top. No doctor what ever cared to do tests on me or see what I was allergic to or send me to a dermatologist to get proper professional help. I am out raged by NHS and God knows what is in my body that showed this reaction.

On Thursday, Sept. 9, Vincent Amsa, of Springdale, AR, originally from Jaluit/Majuro, passed away after being hospitalized with pneumonia after having tested positive with COVID-19. Vincent had diabetes, which made him especially vulnerable. He had taken the first vaccine dose, but was not fully vaccinated against COVID-19 when he contracted it. Though he became COVID-19 free, his kidneys and lungs had been too damaged to heal.

His daughter Yoma, and son-in-law Richard Laraya, are active members of the Marshallese community in Springdale and both work in jobs to serve their community. Richard is employed by MEI, and Yoma works at Springdale Schools.

My name is Liz, I'm 36 and this is my story. March 22nd, I received the first dose of Moderna vaccine; I was 35. I haven't been the same since. The next day, less than 24 hours later I started experiencing sharp chest pains. At first, I didn't think much of it; I was trying to ignore it thinking it would go away. It became harder and harder to ignore, as now it was a constant chest pain with sharp shooting pains. April 3rd, while sitting at the kitchen table, I felt my heart racing. My heart rate went up to 173 BPM, then my left arm went numb and I felt my left hand tingling. I felt like I couldn't breathe. I thought I was having a heart attack. We called 911 and went to the ER. The doctor was asking me questions and I told her I've always been a healthy person, no issues. The only new thing I had done was get the vaccine. Then she looked at me and said, "you're having a reaction to the vaccine. I do not recommend you getting the second dose." She said my heart was fine, no heart attack and all tests came back clear. If I only knew that was just the beginning, things were going to get a lot worse.

Four days later, I followed up with my doctor and was told it was probably just acid reflux and anxiety. My doctor gave me medication for it, but she did not believe it was the vaccine. I know my body well; I knew something was very wrong. Later that evening, my symptoms happened all over again. This time, my face went numb and tingly and my heart shot up again. There I went again to the ER, this time I was admitted for 3 days. I was able to see a cardiologist and had an echocardiogram plus further testing. Everything came back clear. I was now experiencing anxiety attacks when I had never had anxiety before. After I was discharged, I was so weak, fatigued and in pain. I had to leave my home and move in with family to care for me as I couldn't be alone; I was no longer independent.

I'm now on a heart medication to lower my heart rate, but no one could tell me why this was happening. My anxiety got so bad: I couldn't sleep in darkness, I couldn't have the door shut, the shutters had to be open. Anything would trigger an anxiety attack: loud noise, too much movement, too many people talking, taste, smell, etc. Everything was so overwhelming for me I couldn't even do simple things like respond to a text message or make a call. I had never experienced anything like this before. I felt like this was not my body, I had no control over it. At this point, everyday brought a new symptom. I began to have major pain in my ovaries so I went to urgent care where they ran multiple tests and everything came back clear. Meanwhile, I was seeing a new cardiologist who agreed to do further testing and put me on a holter monitor. I could not understand what was happening to my body. Then even more new symptoms began: tremors, twitching, shaking.

Hi everyone, one of our Phi Chi family members has been struggling physically, mentally, emotionally and financially after receiving the Moderna Vaccine. For those who know her, she is a badass strong individual, mom, nurse and med student and she needs our help during this time! Please support her in anyway you can! Thanks to everyone ahead of time! ❤️

Hi, my name is Ray Selph, and on April 18, 2021, my fiancé, Christine Mori (Chris), her father, and I received the 1st shot of the Moderna vaccine. That evening, she began to feel nauseated and vomitted a couple of times. The week following, she did not feel well and was very fatigued and did not feel like herself. We called Kaiser the following Sunday 4/25/21, 1 week after the shot, because she woke up in a cold sweat and short of breath. The Kaiser nurse mentioned to us that side effects can last from 7-9 days, so we were ok with that . But as evening progressed, her breathing did not get better. I took her in to Watsonville Hospital and when we arrived the doctor started running tests on her and found out she suffered a major heart attack, along with a mild stroke and had developed severe anemia. She was transferred to Dominican Hospital in Santa Cruz the following morning, and later that day, she had a stent implanted in her heart to open up blood vessel. In the first month, Chris was admitted to emergency dept about 5 times, due to complications from medications, and her heart function which was at only 25%. Since we have Kaiser insurance, she had to be transferred by ambulance to Kaiser in San Jose each time, about an hour away from where we live. This alone, created a lot of stress for her and did not help her condition. Since the last time she was admitted ( for 2 weeks) and discharged, we have been staying at a nearby hotel by Kaiser. I am trying to keep her close by the hospital just in case of any emergencies and also to help with her recovery. She has had 4 blood transfusions in total. I would like to mention that a couple of Kaiser doctors did submit to the CDC that the side effects were caused by the Moderna vaccine. She was just trying to "do the right thing" and be safe and protect family and friends.

My symptoms have finally backed off. I still cannot speak right tho, bad jitters and 1 of my psoriasis meds stopped working all together. I had to change the topical I use.

I'm also now on a VERY HIGH dose of a med called Cyclosporine to control my skin. I went from 2400mgs a week over this last year and a half, down to only 200mgs a week. BIG DIFFERENCE and my skin was clear. I'm back up to 2400mgs a week again. Flaring/bleeding and working on getting that back under control.

After all this my pcp says there is no medical evidence that I cannot take the 2nd dose. WTF?! So, in order to do that, she will reach out to my other Specialists so they can ramp up my meds even more- just to handle another jab. On my card it said I had to have my 2nd dose by 9/11. She told me that window is a *suggestion* so ppl get back in. I can get a 2nd dose months from now if I want. That is SO misleading!! Ppl think they have this window of time and that's a lie.

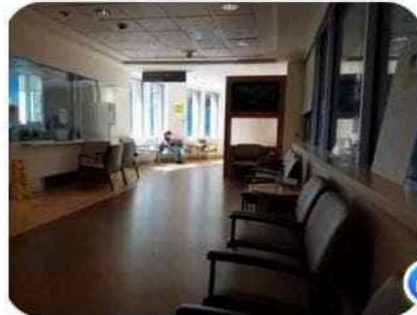

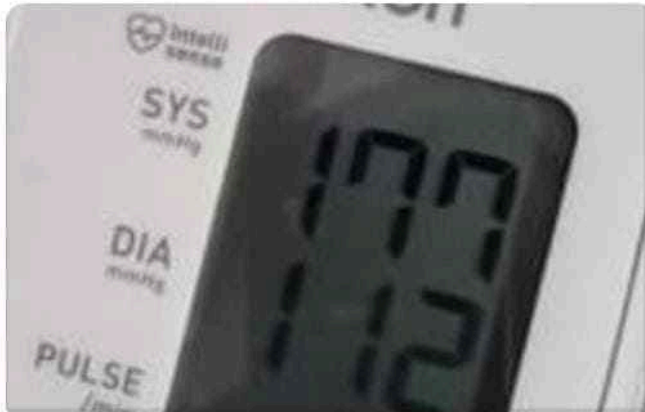

I WILL ABSOLUTELY NOT GET ANOTHER SHOT!
Something so messed up is going on. I hate this!!...

Walking into an empty ER after all the BS and them being lined w patients dying of covid hallways was fkn TWILIGHT ZONE weird. The ER is usually very busy. OHSU- Oregon's state hospital/ER... it was this lady, myself and several randoms that came in. We were all a bit taken back. Where are all these dying ppl? Happy NOT to see that but WTF? Has anyone been checking out ERs in their area to see if they are actually busy? I'd really like to know.

On August 11th 2021 I recieved a Facebook mesg. that my daughter 26 yrs old was found on the floor by her 3 kids past out in Dallas TX. a few days after taking the Covid-19 vaccine causing her to miscarrage and have a stroke and on top of that she was diagnosed with Covid. Me being 2 hrs away in Killeen TX rushed to call the hospital, at that time I was asked to authorized emergency brain surgery to release the pressure of the brain swelling or she would die. I made the difficult decision to proceed with the surgery and afraid I might not get there on time being that my transmission went out on my suv a few weels earlier. I paid an associate to drive me to Dallas where I had to search and locate my 3 grandkids who were in 3 different locations which made me search more urgently because as a family we strive to stay together and telling my daughter I didn't have her children would've killed her and not an option. My daughter pulled through the surgery and she recognizes us but she cannot talk and is paralysed on her left side causing her to have to learn how to write again being she was left handed. Today the Dr. stated shes unable to make complex decisions due to her understanding. Shes going through pysical and occupational therapy and learning how to talk and walk again not knowing if the paralysis is temperay or permanent , she said her ABC;s a few days ago. The Dr wants her to go to a skilled nursing facility before coming home to get Ben has been in hospital since March following the 1st dose of Astra Zenica vaccine. he only had the vaccine as he is our sons carer.

This nearly cost him his life!

this left him with a condition called transverse myelitis and has left him paralysed from mid chest down. He has just had a fundraiser for a wheelchair with overwhelming response.

once Ben leaves hospital he will need so much equipment to enable him to have the best life possible when he comes home to his family.

I have been very hesitant to post this. I have just had my fill of the hate, controversies, and opinions of COVID.

Before writing any further, I want it to be known that I work in the healthcare field, I have first hand seen what COVID does, I have had COVID, and have also had my first vaccine.

I received my first dose of the vaccine, not by choice, but as a mandate on August 6, 2021. By August 10, 2021 I could not walk. It started out as soreness, progressed to spinal pain, I started to fall by Sunday and by Tuesday was in the worst pain of my life and could not walk. I spent 9 days in the hospital. I had multiple X-rays, 5 MRIs, over 50 blood test, a lumbar puncture, and two nerve studies performed with no answers. All four of my physicians only stated this was "a heightened immune response" to the vaccine. My doctors recommended I be admitted to an inpatient facility for physical therapy. Mentally I could not bare being away from my son anymore. The toll this has taken on him at this point was awful and I wanted to be home too comfort him. I have PT and OT in my home four days a week. I have to see my primary care, rheumatology, and neurology physician regularly. I still have excruciating pain at times and weakness in my left leg, thankfully the right has healed. At this time I require the help of a cane or walker to get around and cannot drive. Doctors have no idea if I will ever regain function in my left leg!!! I was 100% healthy prior to this!! My entire life has changed and I pray each day it's not permanent but I'm grateful to have a life I love. I am forever grateful for my son, my family and our friends who have jumped in and helped and been so supportive through all of this! If your family has been affected by COVID my heart goes out to you.

But with all this being said I am still anti mask mandates and anti mandated vaccines!! Individuals should always have a choice. This is not a political post I have my views as I am sure you do as well. I am just over all of this hate and division in our country over an illness!! The difference between me and most is that I feel you should do what you think is best for your family and I will do what's best for mine. This is not my new normal!! Faith over fear Psalm 46:1-3.

We got the first shot of Moderna and my husband was feeling under the weather for a day and then he starts feeling better a few days later. Me on the other hand who is allergic to everything I am also celiac and have Sjogren's hi decided to go ahead and get the Moderna shot and I have had nausea and vomiting for a couple of days after the first shot and then my right side where I got the shot it went numb for about two weeks and the feeling it's just starting to come back kind of I'm having a lot of nerve problems. The only reason we got the shot is because my job is threatening me if I don't get it I could lose my job so I need to get the second shot on the 23rd and I'm scared to death what's going to happen but I'm still going to get it and I guess I will deal with what comes next. That's the decision you're going to have to make is are you going to deal with the side effects whether small or large are you ready to deal with this it could be a lifetime of dealing with it or it could be no Side effects at all that is totally up to you.

I'm a 21 year old CNA at a nurs home i was working and completely healthy i got told to go get the vaccine (from peer pressure bc i didn't want it) talk to a lady told her i had seizures in the past i had a cold and have allergies to shellfish amoxicillin and penicillin (SHE CROSSED THEM OFF AND PUT N/A! I took the vaccine at the 12:02 on Jan 8 i walk around and made my way to my seat and immediately felt my heart racing getting hot and dizzy i tried everything to calm my heart down and nothing worked i put a cold water bottle on my head and watched my Apple Watch to see how high my heart rate was it was 176 when i checked that's when i new something was wrong i stood up to get help and i just collapsed. I couldn't move after my hands and legs seemed paralyzed my left side of my face was all pins and needles feeling. They say i had two seizure like eps i was throwing up and screaming in pain. I then had two epi pens in the left leg i couldn't feel it at all Bc my legs couldn't feel anything my legs where completely numb and well paralyzed the emts came i was extremely tired and weak and hurt everywhere. I have had loss of appetite since. Forcing myself to eat 2 days ago was my first good day with eating. 3 days after vac I was put on antibiotics for sinusitis on one side of my head. I've had extremely sore joints in my right shoulder andy back muscles and arms since also and for nearly two weeks have had right leg pain and also while at work a week after receiving it a little vessel burst in my leg it was really bad calf pain got a D dimer done came back negative. I've been back to my dr and I'm going for more bloods tomorrow to check just about everything from whole blood count to glucose and trying to see if theirs inflammation of my vessels etc. He has even written in clinical notes - post Pfizer which I'm happy about as if anything that comes back it will be put back to the vaccination as I was healthy before hand. Nick cares so deeply of others that the moment he was able to receive the vaccine he did so as to stop the potential spread of COVID 19. Nick also has Crohn's colitis. Because these vaccines are so new we don't know much about the interactions;

4 days after receiving the vaccine Nick had a stroke and the doctors found a 2 inch inoperable mass of dead matter caused by the interaction with the vaccine. They have ran tests and confirmed this diagnoses as nobody wants this to be the true cause.

Nicks life has been turned upside down. He has Aphasia and cannot communicate very affectively and had to relearn how to use his right side.

After a craniotomy, pik line, blood clots, and heart surgery the state of Kansas is denying him any help.

Shaina and I have been married for 20 years. We've experienced so much in that 20 years. But this is probably the hardest thing we have ever been through.... There are so many unanswered questions. Why did this happen? How much damage was done to the parts of her brain that wasn't receiving oxygen? How effected is she going to be from the multiple strokes? Will she ever open her eyes and be Shaina again? These are the questions that keep me up at night? I get asked all the time We'll was she vaccinated? and the answer is yes she was several months ago with no side effects. Then I get the follow up Was it from the shot? The answer I don't know. The doctor said they had never seen someone brain this bad that hadn't been in an accident with severe head trauma. What we do know is she tested positive for covid on the 23 I believe or somewhere close to that and by the 24 she was in the hospital unresponsive. Our world has been flipped upside down by all of this and I just wanna wake up and this nightmare be over.....

As of 9/18 there has been no new improvements. After doing a EEG scan they said there was little to No activity in the part of the brain that effects consciousness or the ability to wake up. I've been told that even if she did wake up she would be severely disabled and live in a nursing home for the rest of her life. And that's the best case scenario.

Medical, Illness & Healing

Hello friends, my name is Randy Plummer. I am a 27 year old Native American male that has been left crippled and forced to walk with a walker. My nightmare began in May of this year.

I was a healthy young man who worked full time as a mason. My duties included mixing cement, lifting heavy blocks, and made custom fireplaces, as well as pizza ovens. Shortly after receiving my second covid shot, I began having all sorts of medical issues. I had to spend 8 days in the hospital while both autoimmune doctors and neurologists ran test after test on me. This included: Multiple MRI's of my back, spine, and head, X-rays, cat scans, ultrasounds, lumbar punctures, full battery of blood tests, and more recently, and EMG of my limbs. So far, everything has come back negative and we still have no reason as to my falling or my inability to walk. I also had an unexplained growth appear in my right ear which burst, causing a severe ear infection that sent me back into the hospital. I was eventually seen by an ENT specialist at Loma Linda Hospital. I fought one infection for 20 days, then it jumped to my other ear for an additional 10 days. While I am currently infection free, I have unfortunately lost the hearing in my right ear as a result. I am currently talking with my specialist about surgery, which he anticipates will recoup my hear by about 60%. While my insurance has approved both occupational, as well as physical therapy, I still continue to have no feeling in my right leg and foot. I currently have a numbness and tingling sensation from my diaphragm, down, and somewhat into my hands as well. I'm also working with a neurologist who is continuing to test me and

Mum who nearly died of COVID vaccine side effects vows to let daughter have jab

Kirsty Hext, 26, with her two-year-old daughter Harper-Rose. (SWNS)

A mother left fighting for her life after an allergic reaction to the Pfizer COVID vaccine has vowed to let her daughter get the jab.

Kirsty Hext, 26, was rushed to hospital when she began struggling to breathe minutes after having the second dose of the vaccine on 28 April.

It turned out she had suffered a severe unknown allergy to one of its ingredients and has since had at least 14 anaphylactic shocks.

Despite her life-threatening reaction to the jab, Hext has said she's in support of her daughter Harper-Rose, two, getting the vaccine when she is eligible.

This is a plea to the public. I have been poorly for 8 weeks, a week after my second vaccine. I'm physically and emotionally distraught. Not able to care for myself. My family needs me, my son needs me. Can anyone get on to my doctor Stirchley medical, Telford. I have offered to go private and get myself better again. Not succeeding. I don't understand why. I have a life and I WANT TO LIVE!

amydonnellan25 🇬🇧 Since I posted my last message on Instagram I have had to go further afield in search of help and answers. This wouldn't of been possible without help from someone and my family are I are extremely grateful. I have had three appointments with two top consultants in respiratory and cardiology in Manchester and an MRI on my heart. I have confirmed pericarditis caused from the Pfizer jab. My heart is still working properly which I am so grateful however it's been affected by the severity of pericarditis and is currently not getting any better due to the amount of inflammation. My nerves feel like there are on fire I lose feeling in my back, legs and face and sometimes my hands and feet too. I am now trying a different anti inflammatory to try and ease my symptoms of extreme sharp chest pain, palpitations, breathless, dizziness, chronic fatigue, brain fog, nerve damage and low blood pressure. It's a hard pill to swallow that this is happening as I'm so used to being on my feet being busy like most mums and trying to look after my family but I'm grateful that I'm alive and trying to be positive to get better.

finesse\_cookies These past 5 months have been such a rollercoaster. I went from flooding cookies to flooding vials with blood 🩸 A couple days after getting my C-vaccine, I started experiencing muscle spasms, numbness and tingling, joint pain, dizziness, blurry vision, shortness of breath, anxiety (list goes on). My team of doctors have been working tirelessly to find some answers so I am not giving up. God is telling me everything will be alright! 🙏🏠 Thank you all who have reached out to me and for your kind wishes! ❤️

Please feel free to share this post!!!

Wanted to share my husbands story.....this happened to him after getting the vaccine. It has been devastating. I'm including a picture of him so you can see it's obvious he was very healthy and in great shape. Had no health problems prior.

My husband received it in March. He is 39. In April was diagnosed with CHF and cardiomyopathy. He has been a career firefighter 14 years now. He Has not been able to work since April. Prior to this was completely healthy. We both live a healthy lifestyle. He isn't allowed to do much exercise now bc of his heart problems but prior to this was in the gym 5-6 days a week for weight training and cardio. Very fit. We couldn't believe it. Still having a hard time accepting it. He is now on diuretics, beta blockers and calcium channel blockers. He never took a daily medication at all before this happened other than vitamins and supplements. Doctors can not give us an answer as to what caused this and when we mention our thoughts regarding the vacc..... they act like we are nuts.

So I have been quiet since January 19th 2021. That is the day my life changed. Also the day I got my second covid vaccine. I am not an "antivaxer" I have had every vaccine available to me including the flu shot yearly. This is about choice, what goes into your body! I researched, I read, I felt comfortable that no government would cripple the healthcare system. So I did my part, and now my life for the last 8 months has been a challenge. My family, children and husband have watched me suffer. Here is my story.

Tell me you have had the vaccine without telling me you have had it. I will go first. I was on Zero medication prior to the vaccine. I was in line the day it came out, believing I was doing the right thing for my community, my staff, my patients and my family. My first dose of the Moderna vaccine, was last December. Within 3 mins of getting it, I felt a warm sensation come up my neck (like ct scan dye) and all the way over the top of my head where I could feel it meet in the middle. So they kept me 30 mins and I had ZERO other issues, I never even felt sick after, not one day of work missed. On January 19th 2021, I had my second dose, within 2 hours I had a migraine, within 24 hours I had ptosis, Anisocoria and was headed to my pcp. She immediately sent me to the ER. I have had CT scans, MRIs, 2 eye exams as the first one picked up a depression in my eye that was non functioning. I typically ran 90/60 for blood pressure, I am now 160s/100 and on my 3rd increase of blood pressure medication. Shortly there after, 3 days maybe I came down with trigeminal neuralgia, occipital neuralgia and the left side of my face was numb. I was started on neurontin 100mg tid, and was increased to 600mg tid. I have seen a neurologist, who sent me for nerve block injections in my head which I started July 7th. They helped until about 2 weeks ago, after another fall. I am word finding, falling, confused, I get electrical impulses in my face and over my head which brings me to tears, 2 courses of steriods, and no one can tell me if this will ever go away. The last fall I had, I was injured while trying to get my grandson out of the car. I have gotten up in the middle of the night looking for my husband, the man laying beside me in my head was not him, I have searched cars looking for him. I am angry, mostly at myself for giving in, thinking the government would never start with Healthcare workers if it wasn't safe! I have tested covid pts, I have been in the homes of positive patients, prior to the vaccine. I never got covid, I have been a nurse for 21 years. I have had the CDC call me several times, I have 8k in medical bills piling up and this is far from over for me. Workers comp won't help with medical bills, because it was my choice. So yes I am vaccinated, I am not in danger of termination however the truth needs to be told so you can make YOUR OWN decision. If you want the vaccine, I respect that, if you don't I respect that. This mandate is ridiculous and we will lose, you will lose your healthcare system as you know it, and believe me, its pretty broken already! This is not about a vaccine its about your body your choice. I am sick of being quiet about what I am vaccinevictim Another day... but they moved me out of ICU ! Yay! I'm considered stable but there's still a long road. My kidneys are at about 40% now and I think I will be ok. But it doesn't excuse the facts. My kidneys failed 3 days after I took the #pfizervaccine and I think the world should hear our stories, even if you have to be anonymous 🙏😭

vaccinevictim Unfortunately I have to do this anonymously but this is real. I had the 2nd dose of #pfizer and I went to the ER 3 days later. They had said my kidneys aren't doing well and that I'm in process of acute kidney failure.

I had my labs done at the VA as a routine 2 went prior. And they were PERFECT! He said since that day they have more then doubled! And that I was being admitted.

They had said they think the vaccine gave me an inflammatory response and sent my urine back into my kidneys and now I have pyelonephritis now too (a nasty bacterial infection in my kidneys and bladder) after a foley was placed (there's a story there but I'll save it) the pain has gotten a little but better.

Please help me raise funds for Adele Leverett, 19, hospitalized in the ICU for 4 days so far, battling Covid, and still unable to return home due to low oxygen levels. Adele was vaccinated and first struggled at home with oxygen and in and out of the hospital for more than 3 weeks before landing in the ICU for days at this point. She was suggested to go on a ventilator but so far has been able to hold steady without it yet isn't out of the woods entirely. Adele is a runner, on her high school track team, newly graduated, and hoping to run in college. She was previously a member of the Midland and Hilltoppers Pony Clubs, an eventer, and her mom, Mary, was the district commissioner. She still rides and you may have seen her lately as she volunteers at Chattahoochee Hills shows regularly too. She just wants to get home to be able to hopefully run

My daughter Jasmine is 33yrs old and has always been so happy healthy and full of life, On August 3 after receiving her first Pfizer vaccine her health took a turn for the worst and is now suffering from adverse side effects neurologic issues, tremors, muscle spasms, severe migraines, panic attacks, burning inside of her body, brain fog and at times she isn't well enough to even go to work. She has always been compassionate about her job and helping others that it saddens me to see her going through something so tragic.

She has gone to ER and numerous Dr's visits, Neurologist, MRI and still hasn't received the help that she has deeply hoped for also accumulating bills in the process. Finally she has found a Dr. that is going to give her the treatment she is needing, but insurance does not cover these expenses and will be traveling to be able to receive treatment. She will be going next week to receive these invasive treatments to get the help that is needed. She is a single mother with two autistic children and she needs her life back and her babies need her and so do we. Everyday that goes by her symptoms seem to be getting worse and the fear of her health declining is very scary and even at times, she feels as if she will not be able to raise her children due to the complications she is facing. Please if you can help my daughter in any way we greatly appreciate you thank you.

Hello everyone! My name is Allison Barnes and I am starting this fundraiser for a dear friend and Lake Chelan community member, Jane Horlebein (with her permission and consent). Jane got the first dose of the Pfizer vaxxin3 August 25th, and has been in out of the hospital this ever since. Doctors explained to Jane that she is having an inflammatory adverse response to the vaccine. She is not only not able to work, but she has not been able to function or get out of bed. Jane would appreciate support from the community in anyway you can including prayers, a kind note, sharing her story and/or financial support.

Hello friends and family. If you don't know, unfortunately we have been hit with covid as of August 21 for me and August 23rd for Farley. I have recovered, but to this day Farley hasn't. She is fully vaccinated and still has caught covid. It all started with a sore throat, cough, migraine headache and nausea. She still has all these symptoms and they're not going away. Unfortunately, Farley has already exhausted her California covid benefits, and used all her PTO. We are in the process of filing for unemployment and disability with the state. In the mean time, she no longer has an income. We are having difficulty with our daily expenses and bills. All these are piling up. My salary is not enough for our family and I'm now in process of selling our possessions just to keep up. Please, if you can help we would appreciate it. I, we normally wouldn't go towards this method, but we have no other choice. I'm embarrassed and I feel helpless. If you cannot help in any monetary way, we understand. If you can please have us, Farley and Trey in your thoughts and prayers. We hope that Farley can recover and become healthy again which is most important. Thank you friends and family for your support. With love Al, Farley and Trey.

Hi there, my name is Nina I'm 30years old. I'm no one special, just an average girl trying to do this thing called life. I help out where I can and always have a smile on my face no matter the situation but I am in desperate need of some assistance from anyone who can help me.

One month ago I received my first dose of the Pfizer vaccine. I work in aged care so was forced by the Australian government to either get the vaccine or be fired. 5 days after this first vaccine I was in hospital and the outcome was BLOOD CLOTS in my right leg. Up until this point I had been otherwise healthy and happy and well now I'm distraught, depressed and feeling like the world is sitting on top of me.

I havnt been able to work for the past month and I'll be off work for another month as I just found out today from my dr. Being on these blood thinners and having these clots in my leg is to risky to go to work my dr said to me. She said the is nothing i can do in the way of getting financial support as there is no reported links of clots to the Pfizer vaccine. She in herself said that it was way to coincidental and she has an inkling that it was the vaccine that has caused this but I can't pursue anything because it is not linked according to government.

Just heard they are approving vaccines for children between 5-11 years old. PLEASE BE EXTREMELY CAREFUL!

Here are pictures of a good friend of mine-

She gave me permission to post them as she can't because she's afraid to lose her job. Her company gave her the ultimatum, get vaxed or get fired. She always told me how she was hesitant and not at all wanting to take this. After weighing her options she realized she had no choice....

She is currently being seen and rested for a massive allergic reaction. I am not at all anti vax however I am anti mandate for this reason. People stand up to this communist takeover.. for those who still say that the State mandates vaccines like polio etc please show me the data where those who contract polio survive at a 99.9 % rate like we do with COVID. This vaccine should be compared to the flu shot but that doesn't fit the narrative... look at my beautiful friend and how she is. Her body burning from the reaction 🙄

My Dad is such a kind and gentle person, and he is the first person to step up and offer to help when someone is in need. I think everyone who knows him knows he has always been there for his friends and family, and now in his time of need, he needs your help. In late July my Dad was feeling really unwell and went to the emergency room. Due to a number of events, he went into cardiac arrest and was without a heartbeat, and effectively dead for 18 minutes. Because my Mom was with him at the hospital, she witnessed this event and it was the scariest most traumatic experience of her life and was a devastating and heartbreaking time for our whole family. Following 2 weeks in a coma, he is facing many months of intensive therapy 7 days a week to heal and strengthen his brain to combat the extensive brain damage that occurred when his brain was without oxygen. In addition to the daily physical, occupational, and speech therapy he will be getting hyperbaric oxygen therapy to accelerate his brain function and healing.

Rufus contracted COVID even after being vaccinated. He struggled for a few weeks at home but was finally admitted to the hospital in San Marcos, TX where he had two strokes and was then transferred to ICU. There Rufus' suffered severe brain damage and was on a ventilator and receiving dialysis. He had another stroke in ICU that did more damage to his brain.

Unfortunately Rufus passed away Sept 16th.

Rufus' left behind three teenage loving daughter and a 9mo baby boy. His wife had to take several weeks off of work due to her time in quarantine and caring for their family, because they all contracted COVID. She spent several hours a day in ICU by Rufus' side.

Rufus was the husband and father everyone hoped for and deserves. Rufus lived for his family. This good Christian man treated his mother like a princess, which says a lot about him.

Bills has put a toll on Rufus' family. Your donation will help pay bills and fund funeral costs.

Guyanese male presented with a bullous rash following receipt of a commercial COVID-19 mRNA vaccine. He received the first dose uneventfully. However, within 24 h of receiving the second dose, he developed fever, myalgias, and malaise accompanied by a painful blistering rash of his torso, arms, and legs. His fever and myalgias improved after 24 h, but his painful rash did not, and five days after the initial symptoms, he presented to the hospital. There were many violaceous, poorly demarcated patches on his trunk, arms, and thighs on examination, many of which had large flaccid bullae within, and a few areas on his buttocks, posterior shoulder, and scrotum were eroded. The exam was also significant for lower extremity muscle tenderness, stiffness with preserved strength. A skin biopsy showed epidermal necrosis and sparse perivascular dermatitis concerning Stevens-Johnson syndrome or erythema multiforme. However, in the absence of mucous membrane involvement or targetoid lesions, the diagnosis of an extensive bullous fixed drug eruption was made.

Conclusion: This case illustrates that the bullae eruption occurred as a result of receiving the Moderna vaccination.

Abstract

The mRNA-1273 vaccine, popularly called the "Moderna vaccine" is being widely administered in the United States for the prevention of COVID-19 infection since December 2020. Mild to moderate intensity side effects like low-grade fever, myalgia, chills and malaise were reported in the trials related to the vaccine. With this case report, we report a case of purpuric rash and thrombocytopenia after receiving the first dose of the m-RNA-1273 vaccine. The patient, in this case, is a 60-year-old male patient who received the first vaccine dose and within two days, he developed diffuse papular rash associated with some thrombocytopenia. He had a history of tobacco use, Hepatitis C liver cirrhosis, chronic kidney disease stage 4, untreated hypertension and systolic congestive heart failure at the baseline. With review of the limited literature related to the vaccine and its side effect profile and with no other etiology explaining the sudden onset of rash, we attribute this thrombocytopenia and purpuric rash as the side effects of the mRNA-1273 vaccine.

Who wants an update on this guy!! ❤️❤️

After being diagnosed with Guillain-Barré from all this toxic shit being FORCED, we are seeing improvement!

We tackled this problem head on with no stopping! We are still going STRONG! We will NEVER give up on him!

Along with medical treatment (lots of steroids and a slew of other meds and supplements given by his amazing doctor) we have also taken a natural route as well. Acupressure, lots of therapy at home with more natural supplements to detox his body of all the bad shit, WE ARE SEEING LIGHT!!

He still has major pain constantly but our dude is now walking and moving around. 🤔 It's most definitely not 100%, it's a slow and painful process but what we are seeing today is God's Work!!! 🙏🍌❤️

Ryan is a fighter! He will not give up! He pushes himself and has determination! He will not falter! He will get through this one step at a time!

With the love of our family and prayers from all around we have pulled him from a very very scary situation and have him on the right track to recovery!!!! 🙏

Guillain-Barré is a very odd syndrome where you have lots of ups and downs. So from this moment forward I Declare Our God to give him

Mike and I want to thank EVERYONE who has prayed, texted, called and loved on us over the past week.

Mike did NOT have a heart attack. He had an arrhythmia called 3rd degree heart block (not a blockage problem but an electrical one) that caused him to collapse at church and again in the ER last Sunday.

He got his 2nd C-19 shot on Friday afternoon and became symptomatic a couple of hours later. Collapsed in less than 48 hrs.

He is home, on a heart monitor and sees a specialist at the Heart Hospital next week.

So far all tests have come back that his heart is fine, no disease or damage found. 🙏 Praise the Lord.

Thank you for the prayers, well wishes and love. Please continue to pray for him. ❤️

Update on Mike. He saw an Electrophysiology Cardiologist today at the Heart Hospital.

He thinks Mike had a vagus autonomic reaction the the C-19 shot that caused his heart rate to drop, leading to his passing out. He is scheduling another test to see if he might need a pacemaker but we're hopeful it was a short term reaction with no lasting effects. 🙏

SR IRIS ADAMS

It is with great sadness that we announce the death of Mrs Iris Adams. She has been a loyal public servant for over 43 years. She was born on 28 September 1956 and started her nursing career on 1 January 1978. She worked at Karl Bremer Hospital since 01 May 1997. At the time of her passing, she was the Assistant Manager: Nursing (Specialty). This month she would've turned 65 and would've retired.

#protectyourfamily and also learn from my mistake. I will NOT be getting the 2nd round of Pfizer, nor will my family be getting it or any other kind.

Saturday, August 7th, I got the 1st dose of Pfizer around 5 PM. Everything was fine, we enjoyed the night at RR Days. I went to lay down at around 1 AM and BOOM! It hit instantly. I was having hot flashes, my throat started to become sore and I mean within 5 minutes or less. I started having difficulty swallowing and everything was becoming hazy. I couldn't feel my face and my body was tingling all over. It was a feeling I've never experienced.

Before 10 minutes even went by I was on the phone with 911 and my husband was putting me in the car. I was gasping for him to go faster because I honestly thought I was going to die. The rescue squad couldn't make it there in enough time so they let the ER know that we were on the way. Apparently we were doing almost 100, but it felt like we were moving through the twilight zone. My air flow was quickly closing. We finally arrived and I was given the medications listed below. That was also a wild ride! We also had our son with us, thankfully he was asleep through all of this. The verdict? On top of anaphylactic shock.

While everything above is absolutely terrifying, I'm wondering what would have happened had I fell asleep? Would I be here now telling my story? We all have an expiration date, but I would like to stick around a little while longer if I can help it. ** I also recieved word that a dear friend passed away in their sleep the same day they got their 1st round.

The nurses advised that I get up with my physican to see about getting exempt from the 2nd round if it becomes "mandatory." So a question that I have for my fellow nursing, NP, or doctor friends on here- is that even a thing yet? Can you be exempt? Either way, I will not be getting it again.

And don't come after me. I'm only sharing my awful experience. Everyone reacts differently. If you want it, get it. I'm not going to give my horror story every time I hear someone say they plan on getting it. You are free to do as you choose. But for the love of God, please stop pushing "GeT yOuR vAcCiNe So We CaN gEt BaCk To NorMaL." Unfortunately, these vaccines are much like a game of Russian Roulette.

ANOTHER POST FOR TONIGHT: COVID MUST READ!!

On December 31st, 2020 my mom, Joeliene Freitas went and got her first round of the covid shot, PFIZER BIONTECH. On January 21st, 2021 she got her her second round, EJ1686 PFIZER. To protect her family and her daughters by "doing her part".

As her children we watched my mom struggle with both vaccines. She was weak, she was really sick,, her blood sugars was way below normal, she had the worst migraines, she could barely walk, she was always dizzy, she had everything wrong that could go wrong. But she battled it, she handled every symptom possible because that was her "job" as a mother to protect her kids because she is an "ESSENTIAL" worker.

As months went on, she experienced more problems. She continuously had migraines. she continuously got sick and she got weak, she then developed heart problems, palpations like her heart was "going to beat out of my chest".

About a month ago, on August 11th, 2021 her doctor told her she needs to wear a heart monitor because of the symptoms she was having for the next 3 weeks. She went in for a stress test where they examined her heart. They took off her monitor on August 25th, and At this exam she told the doctor she couldn't do it anymore and then woke up an hour later on a gurney in the hospital. Her heart stopped 9 times within 2 minutes.

Her doctor told her she needed to fly to Honolulu immediately to the Queens Heart center and do a procedure. The odds of doing this procedure was 50/50. She was either going to die or she will live.

Because of the shot she was told she "does not have any blockage" but now has a blood clot in her left ventricle artery in her heart that is traveling to her lungs. She was diagnosed with "Myocarditis and Pericarditis", she was also given a Covid 🌐 experiment number.

Please before you make an decision do research on this vaccine. We were lucky enough we didn't have to tell our mom our final goodbyes and she is still fighting today.

🚨👉 The 14-year-old died after 26 days of a coma. After the vaccine she was admitted for meningitis 🚨

There are three suspects in the investigation file opened by the Lecce Prosecutor's Attorney into the death of Majda El Azrak, the 14-year-old Moroccan origins resident in Ruffano, who died last September 13 in the ICU department of Bari pediatric hospital, After 26 days of a coma in which she fell two days after the second dose of the Covid vaccine was administered on August 17

The crime guess is manslaughter. The pm Donatina Buffelli has entered on the investigated register the doctor who administered the vaccination and the two doctors who on the morning of August 19 underwent radiological investigations at the Pan coco di Tricase hospital, at the end of which a form emerged tumoral. The magistrate has arranged for the autopsy to be carried out on October 27 at the Policlinico di Bari, appointing as consultants three professors domiciled at the institute of forensic medicine.

The autopsy test will have to establish any connection with vaccination administration or with contrast radiological investigations, after which the girl lost consciousness when she entered a coma. Immediately transported to Giovanni XXIII of Bari she died last September 13 Fatal doctors would have been meningitis. The investigation was opened after a complaint lodged by family members. # EXAGGERATED IMMUNE RESPONSE

Today was such a emotional day for my family and I. TJ ended up in the ER with severe reaction due to the Covid shot. First of all I don't want to hear any negative comments. TJ made this decision to get the Pfizer in order for him to keep his JOB. Right before he got the shot on Monday he was tested for Covid and it came back he's all good to get the shot. Got the shot was warned he'll be sore for couple of days. Ok day 2 goes by he's a little sore day 3 got worst . Yesterday day 4 he can't take off his shirt without being in so much pain he said my arms hurt if I try to move them. Also my chest hurts really bad. TJ go to the ER! No mom I don't need to it's fine. Early this morning he's in so much pain chest feels like it's going to rip open. Forced him to go to ER. ER Doc said oh this is normal a lot of people gets muscle soreness if we do blood test the test will come back normal and send u home with Tylenol. Umm this is day 5 I told Doc and his chest feels like it's going to burst open. Ok well we will go ahead and do the test and hook him on to a heart monitor. 1 hour goes by Doc said oh WOW his blood work came back that he's not ok. And found alot of amount of broken down muscles flowing in his blood. TJ is having a RARE side effect to the Covid Shot and we need to flush out the toxic quickly. Doctor said glad u took him in this could of ended up bad! My boy's body basically was attacking itself. He is doing ok now just needs to keep close eye on him and follow up for more blood work and monitor his kidneys and heart. My question is why make healthy people be forced to take shots to keep their JOB? People should chose to get a shot if they want not be forced! My son hasn't been sick in years never got the COVID or never got the FLU in his whole life, and was just fine. He's a very athletic healthy adult. But as soon as he was forced to get the shot to keep his JOB this shit happen. My SON could of LOST his LIFE. ER Doctor said TJ shouldn't get the second dose no amount of money is worth his LIFE! Thank you Doctor and thank you for finally listening to me. And thank you for writing him a note to not get the second dose! #protectyourfamily #protectmyfamily I would like to share my story, one week ago I had the Pfizer jab, then Thursday night I started coughing up blood I came to hospital where I had a ECG, blood taken, a chest x-ray and a heart ultrasound, apparently my ECG came back abnormal as did my Ultrasound, I was then told my blood test came back positive and my blood was coagulate (starting to clot) and on top of that I have bronchitis and phenomena, I was 100 fine Wednesday and now I am in hospital with all this going on, out of all the staff I have only found one doctor who said it is possible the jab did it but now I can't seem to find him anywhere. I just want anyone who reads this to think twice before thinking the jab is the only option, it is not, don't let the government pressure you the way I felt pressured.

Funerals & Memorials

"We have been overwhelmed with the amount of support we have recieved. With the generous donations that have helped us to exceed our goal, we have been able to arrange a service and funeral fit for the King that is Kao.

*SEE UPDATE SECTION BELOW FOR MEMORIAL SERVICE DETAILS***

To all of our friends, family, and kind strangers:

Kao Saechao was a loving husband, son, brother, uncle, and friend. He cared for both his family and friends deeply. His impact on all of our lives is evident in the pain we all feel from his passing. He passed away suddenly on Tuesday, September 21, 2021. At the young age of 33, we are all shocked by this chain of events. He was in good health and training for a half marathon. He was in the depths of a journey to improve his health and every day was reaching new goals he set for himself. His passing was an unexpected medical incident, and we currently do not have answers for what happened as tests are still being conducted.

He will be forever adored and loved by all those that knew him. It is often said when someone passes that they "lit up a room", but in Kao's case, he not only lit up a room with his charm, intelligence, and charisma, he made us all laugh while doing so. That is how we will all remember him, as the positive energy force in all of our lives. He lived his life striving to make the lives of all those around him better.

No one was prepared for this tragedy. If you are able to contribute to the funding of his memorial service and to help ease the burden on his wife and family, we do greatly appreciate your assistance. REST IN PEACE

Michelle Sabey is organizing this fundraiser.

My name is Michelle Sabey. I'm not too sure what to say or how to start, so here goes with saying way too much, because that's how I do.

Some of you may know my little sister, Chelsea Adams. She is a very loved and valuable daughter, sister, parent, friend and new grandparent.

If you or your family lived in Riverton any time over the last 20 years, you may have come across her while she's doing the job she loves. She's a nurse there. A darn good one too. She sincerely loves and cares about her patients and her residents. She probably tended you when you were at the clinic, she might have assisted while you gave birth at the hospital, she may have loved, and cared for your parent or grand-parent during her years working at the nursing home. She helps people who are at their most vulnerable and now she and her family could use a little help too.

She came down with covid on August 20th. She has some underlying health conditions that have rendered her immune system very weak, despite having been vaccinated. We treated her at home as long as we were able but she wasn't getting better and it became apparent that she needed medical care. Our family has been truly blessed along the way and she has a wonderful care team at the University of Utah hospital, where she's been since the 30th, last Monday. She was moved from their covid ward to the ICU on Saturday the 4th.

We would like to send out a very heartfelt thank you to all the people who have been praying for her and thinking about her and asking about her. It means a lot to our family. She is so loved. The prayers and blessings are working. Her body has been getting a little better. She's not out of the woods yet but all improvements are such a blessing. We're all so very thankful.

PERMANENT BRAIN DAMAGE

Jaime Hassebrock

September 21 at 11:32 AM · 🌐

I had my vaccine in January. By February I had been in the hospital for days because they said I had "viral meningitis". After days of no improvement they looked at my brain from the headache and confusion. I had complained about it for weeks and the entire time I was in the hospital! They said I had a brain bleed (encephalitis) swelling, stroke, and shipped me out to Missouri. Viral meningitis which most people have at home with no help is not that serious. I had antibiotic...after antibiotics with no improvement in centralia. I spent 11 days in the hospital. I could not say names of things like banana. I can tell you all about it, but I could not say the name. Im forgetful..meaning I lose my wallet 5 times in a row the same day. They said that would improve. I found out in April that I have permanent brain damage from an ER visit after puking for days. They referred me back to Missouri. I have an MRI from a ear ringing called tinnitus in 2019 that said my brain is completely healthy. For months I tried working to pay my bills due to no insurance from my "Healthcare job" with brain damage. I have been off all summer getting better with the amazing common sense i still have. I have had amazing help and love from family, friends and strangers! I was constantly confused, my hearing is worse, I had constant headaches. So I followed up back in Missouri. I was carrying an infection in my stomach for months since I was in the hospital for so long called H pylori. It's common and you can get it from changing antibiotics since they aren't helping that easy. It causes headaches, confusion, and stomach issues like acid reflux. It can turn into cancer when it's missed for years due to it not being in your bloodwork. Its an easy breath test to find it. It's fixed two weeks of two antibiotics. I'm still having issues. I am not the same. I have to carry I have brain damage suddenly after this vaccine due to no knowledge on what it does to people!!! As of this week I get to sit at home with #Covid!!! I have been sicker than the kids who have been running around like its nothing. Is my reaction rare? No because I know more than one person with the same issues. How can I turn it in? I can't find anything online how to do that. Oh....but I can find all the websites that want you to get it! I will make it because I am not a quitter. I may not be able to say your name or i will forget where I set something down. Which is normal for a lot of people. I will live and deal with it. This vaccine does not need to be pushed on kids. This vaccine needs years of study like all the other ones. I know people out there have had it and it's fine for them. I know people have lost someone due to Covid and I'm so sorry. I also have been handed death certificates that said Covid...when it wasn't multiple times. It has greatly put my kids with anxiety and missing so much school. At this point, if it was my time Covid can have me! Time changes and so do infections as years go on. Where did the flu go? So I hope if your willing to try the vaccine it works for you. This is my story and Pfizer didn't help me. I haven't said much until now because everyone wants it to go away. It wont! I wanted you all to know! Vent over. Share it please!

Schuyler is suffering from Childhood Post-infectious Autoimmune Encephalopathy (CPAE). In her acute phase of illness, this is Acute Disseminated Encephalomyelitis (ADEM). This is a condition where an infection triggers an autoimmune reaction that targets the brain, leading to changes in neurologic function, mood, and behavior. It is believed that her blood brain barrier was weakened by her Singulair/Montelukast use and withdrawal, making her vulnerable to brain inflammation, infection, and damage (please see the FDA black box warning). Sky had multiple immune system triggers; exposure COVID -19, response to the COVID-19 vaccine, and Mycoplasma Pneumoniae infection. This cascade of events has led to a devastating group of symptoms. Schuyler and her family have traveled to the CPAE Center of Excellence in Tucson, Arizona for definitive diagnosis and treatment.

Many of you know already, but maybe some don't. My wife, my absolute love, my best friend, my everything passed away Monday while we were hiking in the Grand Teton National Park. I am not ready to express my feelings in words yet. I just wanted to let the world know that an angel, my angel, has joined the angelic masses. I also want to thank the nameless people that gave Ellen the best possible chance to live. To the nurses, emt's and doctors that were hiking the same trail and were there working on her, literally within seconds; to the rangers that were there shortly thereafter to continue the rescue; to the park emergency team that brought every piece of equipment you would find in an ER.....thank you. You worked diligently for almost two hours before letting go. I have peace knowing absolutely every possible medical procedure that could be done for our situation was done to bring her back, but that wasn't God's plan. I also want to thank all of those that have given us love and support these past couple of days. It has helped a great deal - more than most will know.

Unfortunately, on September 24, 2021 around 2:00 AM my father lost his fight. He fought with everything he had, and took all proper precautions prior to catching COVID. Not even his fully vaccinated status, masks, nor our prayers were able to save him from this awful illness. He fought with everything he had, and we prayed with everything we had for weeks on end for his recovery and return home. Unfortunately, my dad was not able to maintain his life insurance to help with these costs as the cost was too great for him to hold it anymore due to his illness, and my family does not have the ability to pay for this ourselves.

At the end of August, James moved to Denver, Colorado for work. Shortly after arriving in Denver he got COVID-19 despite having recently received both of his vaccinations. We understand that the topic of the COVID vaccinations are very controversial right now, but we think it's important to share with everyone why he chose to get the vaccines to help better understand just how big his heart was: "I know I'm going to die someday, but I just couldn't live with myself if I gave it to someone else and it killed them." He did it because he thought it was his way of protecting the people

For up to date and accurate information about COVID safety, visit the CDC or WHO websites.

Hi, My name is Dorian and I'm fundraising for my daughter Danielle. Danielle has always been a very healthy, energetic, happy go getter kind of person and has always worked all her life until she took the Covid Vaccine (MODERNA).

My daughter was given the vaccine in Jan/Feb 2021 and by May she became very sick from it and has gotten worst as the time went on.

It first started in May while she was visiting me and we were sitting talking and all of a sudden she started gasping for air and having very fast heart palpitations. She immediately was holding her chest/heart and told me that she couldn't breathe and her heart was beating very fast. I became very nervous and afraid. I immediately called 911 and the ambulance came quickly and took her to the hospital. She stood in the hospital for several days while several doctors tried to find out why that was happening to a young healthy person. After days of her being in the hospital she was diagnosed with plenty of blood clots in her lungs and irregular heart palpitations. Ever since that day she hasn't been able to work at all and her life just hasn't been the same. She's been in and out of the hospital every week with complications of breathing and heart irregularities.

We have never encountered anything like this before and it has been very scary on a daily basis. Life can really be filled with ups and downs and no one can tell the future. We thought her getting the vaccine was the right thing to do until now going through this very sad situation with her everyday. Danielle can't hardly sleep in the night because at times she feels like she's gasping for air and having heart palpitations often.

When I look at my daughter it really breaks my heart to see her going through this illness everyday. I always pray for her and I ask God to please give her and myself the strength to go through this. My daughter is and has always been my best friend and I can't even imagine life without her if she doesn't get better. Just so sad. It's really killing me inside.

In the morning of 9/16/21 at home without any symptoms our father passed away. The person appealing to you are daughter and son of a retired medical professional. My parents are both new immigrant and immigrated to the United State in the middle of 2019. Both of them don't have life insurance since they just moved to the US two years ago.

After his death, the medical examiner declined for further examination on our father's death or to give him an autopsy, we felt helpless. Our mother, especially, wants to find the truth for my dad's death and to receive an explanation for his cause of a sudden death.

My dad received his BNT vaccine in the beginning of September and he felt very dizzy for a few days. He even felt off the stairs because of his dizziness.

Julie Silver is organizing this fundraiser.

Hi, my name is Maci Silver and I am 13 years old. I am fundraising for the Timmins family, a local Gilbert family who has been through so much during the pandemic and especially starting this year.

The Timmins are a family of 4 - Autumn, a dedicated mom and wife, Chris, a Lieutenant with the Gilbert Police Dept and they have 2 sons, Preston who will turn 15 this week and Parker, 9!

This summer, both vaccinated parents got breakthrough cases of COVID-19 and unfortunately transmitted it to their sons. Prestons case became severe and landed him in the hospital with pneumonia. This was especially difficult because Preston has autism and has sensory issues, adding to the discomfort. After an extended stay in the hospital, he was released but his circumstances didn't get better. Thank goodness for Autumn's great intuition, she ended up taking Preston back to the hospital where they found that he had many blood clots in his lungs.

After several more days in the hospital he is finally back home, undergoing physical therapy to regain strength that he lost and has ongoing care with a hematologist and cardiologist.

THE VACCINATED ARE TRANSMITTERS

Lieutenant Timmons & his wife both had "breakthrough cases" AKA side effects and transmission cover ups. Four of them were sick, one child hospitalized. Hospitalized child is 15 and could have been injected too.

On his 39th birthday, Angelo DiPonti was admitted to Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit on July 5, 2021 with a respiratory illness. Within hours he went into septic shock and was admitted to the ICU on a ventilator. The cause of his severe illness has been determined to be a reaction associated with the J&J vaccine he received one week earlier. After more than nine weeks Angelo remains in the ICU on a ventilator, but is showing some signs of improvement. The road to recovery will be long. Angelo has a wonderful team caring for him in the ICU but will eventually require extensive rehabilitation. Unfortunately Angelo does not have insurance coverage for rehabilitation and other related expenses that will be needed for his recovery. Any donations to assist Angelo and his family would be welcome and greatly appreciated.

Like so many of us, Rex decided to do his part and get the COVID vaccine on July 31st. After a couple of weeks he began having lower back pain that would travel from one area to another. By August 21st he was having numbness in his face and other areas and was admitted to the hospital. After many tests were ran, the doctors finally realized he'd had a rare reaction to the vaccine. The diagnosis was determined to be Guillain Barre Syndrome. While there is no cure, he received a treatment which is supposed to stop the progression. While many people recover slowly on their own from this, others may not ever recover. Rex was in the hospital about a week before he returned home. He has showed to be recovering thank goodness but at a snails pace. He is still weak, has numbness in his fingers and still in a lot of nerve pain in his back, arms, legs and the right side of his face appears as if he'd had a stroke.

She has had a kidney biopsy and 4 separate infusions of albumin. She missed the first week of starting Grade 9 (High School)!!! We spent the entire first day in the hospital. I have missed work to be with her through everything which I am grateful I have a wonderful employer. The amount of medication is insane and expensive. Last night was her third admission to hospital. She can barely walk due to the water that is bearing down on her. She is depressed from looking like she does now. The picture you see is her with the additional 38 pounds of water. Today her eyes are almost swollen shut. I

When COVID started my family and I immediately worried for my sister who was immune compromised due to a kidney transplant. We all stayed in and were as careful as we could be. When the vaccines came we breathed a sigh of relief hoping we could get back to life while keeping her safe. My sister was vaccinated as quickly as she could but 3 days after her second dose she fell ill. Somewhere between the 2 doses my sister contracted COVID and for the next 3 months she fought for her life. Everyday the amazing nurses set up video chats and we watched as she struggled on a vent and then was placed on ecmo with a less than 10% chance to live. We cried and prayed every day. Everyday her kids asked for her and we felt helpless as the fight was hers and her alone. The nurses told us some days when she was not doing well they would remind her that her kids were home waiting for her and she would wake up, even for a second. So we cried and prayed some more until one day she pulled through. Now she is home and we are so grateful but unfortunately her lungs were severely damaged. My sister is only 39 years old and needs oxygen to do simple things like take a walk around our street or play with her young children in the park. Her kids are what helped her pull through and not being able to keep up with them was very hard for her so my sister did what she always does for her kids and made a sacrifice to buy portable oxygen that WAS NOT covered by ins. The cost was 3300 dollars. She financed the machine because she couldn't bear to sit out of her kids lives. After all she has been through I'd like to lift the burden of paying for the oxygen machine. I am hoping others will want to help and donate

Because Covid hit our household on August 24th, Madelyn went and got her first Covid vaccine on August 25th.

Unfortunately on August 31st she tested positive with no symptoms. The doctor told her that this happens a lot, people wait to get the shot after they have already been exposed and because they aren't fully vaccinated and the vaccine hasn't had time to do it's job, things get bad.

The morning of September 3rd she was hospitalized due to Covid attacking her lungs, she woke up at 5am and could not breath. By the 4th she was diagnosed with Covid pneumonia and admitted to MICU. As of Sunday the 5th doctors decided it was best to do a c-section to help save her and Baby Jackson's life. Since then Madelyn has been in ICU and on the vent and Jackson is in NICU.

This fundraiser is being started to help show support to Courtney as she just found out she has brain lesions that lead to MS. Multiple Sclerosis. Her symptoms all started post first dose of covid vaccine on August 18th. She woke up the 19th a changed person.

The next day, on September 10th, she woke up unable to get out of bed, and was unable to open her eyes because of the pressure she felt. She lost her urgency to use the restroom like you normally feel when waking up and said she laid in her bed feeling lifeless right next to her son. She called her mother in Idaho and said she needed help. Her mom watched her jaw begin to chatter in spasm form, and had to hear her daughter screaming in pain. Her mother immediately called Courtney's boyfriend to come home and take her in to the hospital. He quickly got home and took her back to OHSU. This is where it gets heavy.

After about 8 hours of waiting for a doctor to see her, Courtney was brought back to have an EKG done because her chest pain was getting worse. The doctor she had changed her life by finally listening and taking things serious. She received an immense amount of blood tests, UA, an X-ray and then was sent straight into a brain MRI. They tested with contrast to get super clear images. This is

PFIZER - HEART ISSUES

Danielle Dudit

September 29 at 7:40 PM · 🌐

My c*vid v*ccine story -

*This is not a post to sway people from talking the c*vid v*ccine.

But this is post asking.. WHY don't they fix the v*ccine?
I've always been a healthy person with no health issues. However, 3 days after my first dose of the Pfizer vaccine, I became short of breath, shaky and felt as if my throat was closing. Days and weeks have gone on and I've dealt with severe chest pain and heart palpitations along with numbness of my left arm and numbness of the left side of my face. I've thought I was having a heart attack several times now. I've been to the ER 3 times, urgent care, my family dr and now I'm seeing a cardiologist and wearing a heart monitor. This past month has been a nightmare for me. Tests are still ongoing and I just got an ultrasound of my heart yesterday. I have no idea what's going to happen or what my diagnosis will be. I've looked at my kids and sobbed because I'm so afraid that I'm going to die. I was healthy and that was taken away from me.

Sad thing is, this is happening to SO many other people. Not people who I've googled but actual people right here in Scioto county who are dealing with cardiac issues, blood clots and neurological issues that ALL occurred within days of the vaccine. What we all have in common... we were all sent home at first with Ativan telling us it was anxiety. I have anxiety and this is NOT anxiety. This is a reaction from a vaccine that was supposed to protect me. This vaccine was supposed to protect the LOAD of messages that are filling my inbox with people who are hurt from the vaccine. They say all of this is "rare", yet I can name 10 people right now within 60 min of me who I know who are hurting with adverse effects from the vaccines that could potentially be life long problems. Pfizer, moderna and the J&J. 🙄🙄🙄

Why is this happening? People are reporting it, but it's kept quiet. Myocarditis, pericarditis, tachycardia, neurological issues. It's maddening. THIS is why people should have a choice. THIS is why everyone should be kind and respectful of other's decisions.

Places are mandating it and people are having cardiac issues and more from something they were forced to do to keep their job.

Danielle Dudit

I appreciate all of your prayers so much. Thank you. ❤️

I wish more people would step up and tell their stories. This vaccine needs fixed so badly. It should not be hurting so many people. I actually called Pfizer and talked to the one of the nurses and she gave me an address where I can send all of these bills and hopefully get them covered. She also told me that she was so sorry to hear what has happened to me. No questions asked. She asked me if I knew of others and I said, yes. Please report your adverse effects from the vaccine!

Hi everyone

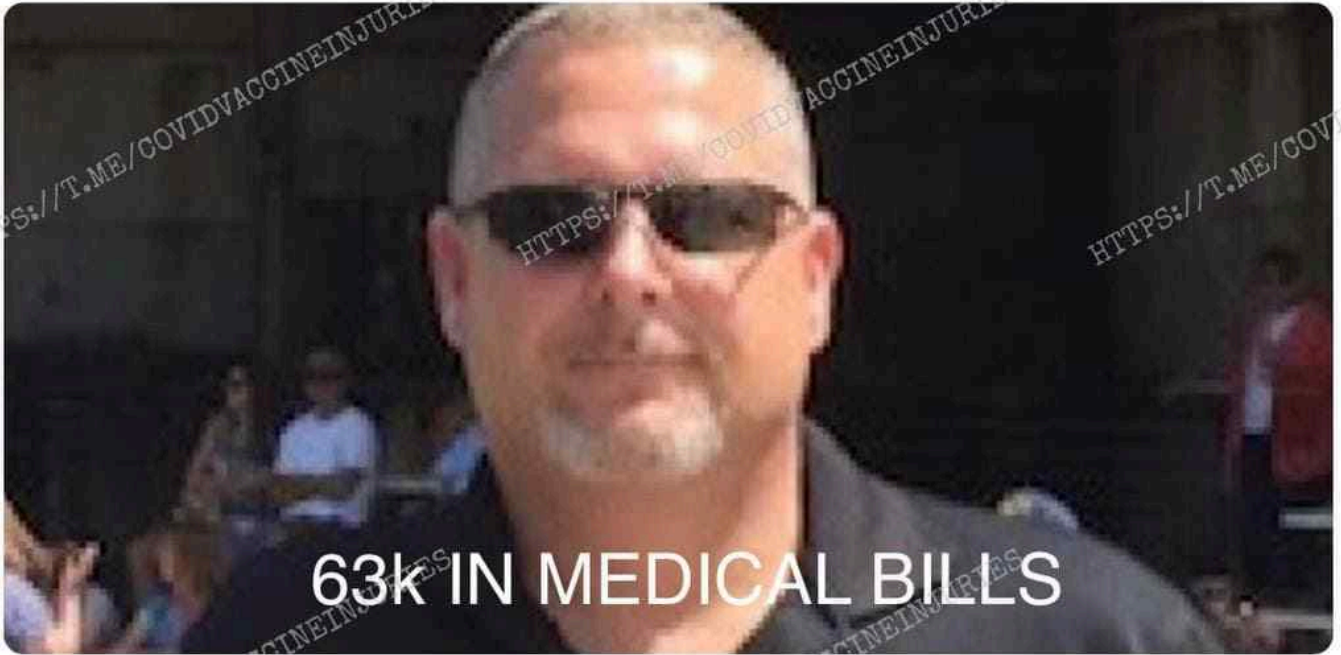

We are Francisco and Luz, we have a 34-year-old, our daughter, who came to visit us on June 10 in Los Angeles, the next day she was ordered to apply the Moderna vaccine and 3 weeks later she began to feel the swollen right ganglion, She took medications to reduce inflammation without finding Any improvement, on the contrary, day by day it the ganglion has been increased in size in an incredible way, so much so that before she come back to Colombia the air conditioning was doing a lot of damage, when she arrived to Colombia with a lot of effort, many tests have been carried out to rule out any kind of injury, already with all the tests in hand the doctor has diagnosed her that it is a tumor, which is compromising the internal and external carotid vein in such a way that it is difficult for her to breathe, the doctor has given her inhalers, the the diagnosis of the doctors is a tumor that requires surgery by head and neck surgeon for this reason I am here asking people with a good heart to help me to perform the surgery with a special doctor head and neck specialist as soon as possible, I really appreciate your collaboration and God bless you always.

Nichole Huntley is organizing this fundraiser.

I got the Moderna April 13th 2021 and was fine the day of until the next day. I was so sick for 5 days, couldn't keep even water down so I ended up at the ER. They treated symptoms and sent me home saying it could be a reaction to. Ended up following up with my Dr 4/24 bc my symptoms were just not going away. Blood work shown my liver levels were elevated so we had a ultrasound down, that was fine. So doc came up with it being some type of lingering virus. I have lupus as well so that was my reason for getting the in the first place. Fast forward to now, my lupus is active(had been dormant the past 4 years), my liver count keeps rising and now my spleen is enlarged. I have now ended up in the ER twice since 4/24 with one an overnight stay. I'm a single mom trying to make it or our own. I have been unable to keep a job since all this happened due to my health. I'm on the verge of losing my vehicle, which is how I take my daughter back and forth to school. We are just needing a little help until I can figure out what's wrong. If anyone could even donate $1 it adds up. Thank you for reading.

MODERNA - HEART ISSUES

Hi, my name is Bobby. Im 30 years old and recently married. Three days after I received the first Moderna vaccine shot for COVID, I developed chest pain and shortness of breath. I went to the ER who ran tests.

Nothing was wrong they said. I was sent home. My symptoms seemed to ease later that day.

But 5 days later the chest pain returned. This time with a pounding heart. This has persisted for 3 weeks. I went back to the ER and to urgent care, who all once again told me nothing is wrong with me. I'm healthy they say.

And now here I sit typing this, faced with immense ER and doctor bills and still knowing nothing. I'm at a loss. I cant live my life. I'm afraid to be active. I'm a drummer who is now afraid to drum. I cant sleep because my heart pounds 24/7. Anxiety climbs every day.

I have a cardiologist appointment coming up and one more test (an echocardiogram). That's all I have lined up.

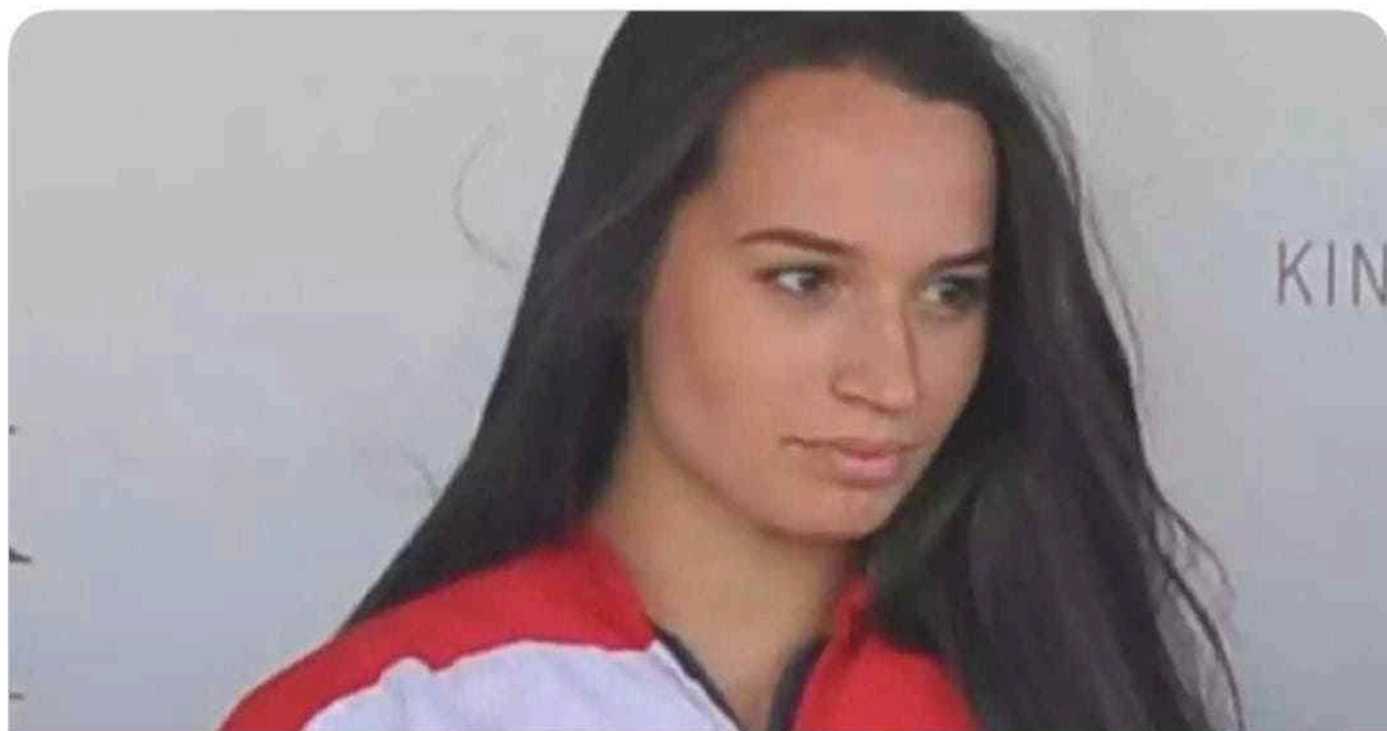

My symptoms seem to match myocarditis - heart inflammation that is very hard to diagnose. It has been linked to both COVID and the mRNA vaccines. It especially affects young men.

PFIZER- AGE 17

After two shots of the pfizer vaccine my 17 year old daughter's health started to deteriorate. it started with chest pain hours after both shots. Then a week later severe chest pain, face numbing, headaches and neck pain. the ER doc told us to go home and that this was a typical reaction to the vaccine. he said it's a "good sign" as it means it's working. her chest pain was consistent and did not go away, then a couple of days later she developed excruciating lower right abdominal pain and confirmed chest pain, however CT scan showed her appendix was fine and no cysts. she now has multiple infections that her body is trying desperately to fight. she has not held down food in 2.5 weeks and has had violent and continuous vomiting with blood in it. she is now losing her vision and saw an ophthalmologist who said she may not be able to recover from. her body is boated and extremities swelling. she is on heavy narcotics for pain, oxygen, antibiotics, steroids, IV fluids... to name a few.

prior to the shot she was a healthy girl who graduated highschool a year early and was excited to embark on school for a new career. please pray for her. she could use all of your prayers 🙏

To read until the end please it's worth it!

The reverse of the scenes of the famous vaccines.

This is MY story not the guy who told me his sister-in-law knows someone who has heard that!!!! No this happened to me PERSONALLY. Last January I had the COVID-19 virus, officially diagnosed. Had a few symptoms but nothing extraordinary, good flu let's say. Having not died of this virus, I am able to say that I have fought and defeated it, and therefore developed the necessary antibodies to defeat this virus, so no need for an additional vaccine. I'm a fit person who exercises regularly and loves to train and play ice hockey. What wasn't my surprise when I was told that to keep doing what I love to grade fit, I had to OBLIGATORILY get vaccinated to get the famous vaccination passport!!! If not.... well I'm staying at home doing nothing. I really didn't want to know anything about getting injected with a drug still under study, for which tests will end in 2023. On the other hand, having had a particularly difficult year due to separation, I felt very badly standing alone, without being able to do the sport I love most, hockey, without being able to see my friends again and have a certain life Social. So, no not because of heart, I decided to go get my vaccinated.

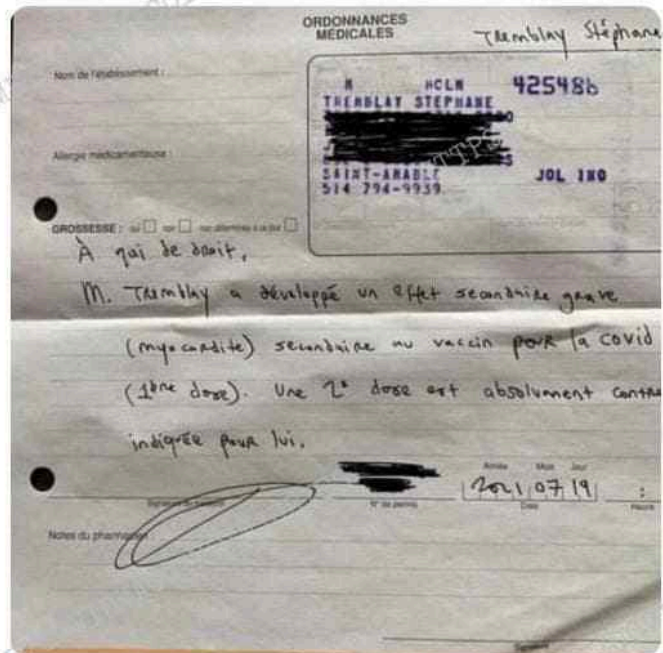

3 days later I feel a strong chest pain, strangely reminding myself of the heart attack I had in October 2019, so I'm heading to the emergency, and guess what!!!! I PASSED THERE MORE ONE WEEK TO INTENSIVE CARE. How much do you think I cost the system???

Diagnosis.... Myocarditis (heart muscle inflammation) due to a vaccine side effect, which I did NOT want to receive. The aftermath of this myocarditis is that I can't make physical efforts for 3-6 months. I'm well advanced right now!!!

The cardiologist who treated me told me I wasn't the first, and he saw it regularly!!!!!!!

So, you still think it's a good idea to vaccinate EVERYONE, regardless of their condition, even those for whom the manufacturer itself issues contraindications like young people under the age of 12

Vaccine should be a CHOICE and not an obligation. If I didn't have to get vaccinated, I would play hockey with my friends and go workout like I used to. Now this is impossible for me for several months again because I was forced to get vaccinated so I can continue my activities!!!! Go ahead and keep your stupid advertisements!!!!

Just want to share my experience. Since having received my first Vaccine for Covid 19, I have been getting headaches. Aug 30 I got the vaccine. And right after had minor headaches. After sometime, they got a little worse and after intense workouts I get severe headaches. Unbearable. And I have been getting hot flashes. I also had my right shoulder swell up (very sore ) and blood bruises in my armpit. I've tried to get into a doctor but not until Tuesday. (Long wait) question: are these normal symptoms?

I had very bad reaction to my first shot and some things that changed right after the second one. None of it okay or disclosed as a side effect. My dr has said side effect as it all happened during the first two weeks of after shots. One reaction was with in 30 min and I was taken in the back.

My shot (I won't do another) was on the 21st of August. I posted my experience on this page but now, more has happened. I can barely walk my ankle is SO swollen and I did not injure myself. No bug bite. It's like inflammation is moving around my body and landing for days in random places. I was SUPPOSED to be seen yesterday. My clinic closed early and I am going in today now for inflammation in my right ankle only. It is beyond painful and radiating up and down my leg. WTH? Anyone have this go on? Look at my ankle...

aly.moss I waited.
I waited because I was pregnant and there wasn't enough research.
I waited because my body and mind needed time to heal after our emergency c-section.
I waited because I wanted to be sure it was safe for him.
I waited so he could get the antibodies through my breast milk.
I waited, but I wasn't prepared for this.
The doctors are confused and don't have answers.
So all new Moms out there, you never know what might happen. Have a feeding backup plan. If that means freezing breast milk or having formula do it. Be prepared when getting your vaccine feels right for you.

I received the Covid vaccine Friday at 3:00. We noticed a small rash on Blake's neck Saturday morning. It continued to get worse and spread on his entire body. We've seen Two doctors so far and the only explanation is a reaction to the vaccine (antibodies) through my breast milk.
Luckily I had enough milk stored for the night and morning. We have switched him over to formula temporarily in hopes to go back to breastfeeding once the rash subsides.
He's still smiling and eating like a champ.
However, staying awake all night to make sure your child doesn't stop breathing is something we never thought would happen. We were trying to protect him not harm him. We love you so much Blake Mathew Darrow, we can't wait for you to feel better! ❤️

We don't have answers on how or why, but if you have littles at home give them an extra squeeze today. We're going to miss baby Z's smiles, giggles, and the joy he brought to our family.

staysalty_jess Today, I tried to get the vaccine... key word: tried. I got it not because I wanted it. It's my human right to say no. But I was forced to get it I would lose my job. Money over freedom?? Very hard to decide but in this day in age, I decided to try to get it.

15 minutes in, I had anaphylaxis, to which my doctor said he was so sorry and he hated this and hugged me. He gave steroids and Benadryl shot so I've been out most of the day.

This is what the mandate did to me. This is what the CDC did to me. I should be medically exempt because of my comorbidities but instead I had to risk my life and get an allergic reaction to prove I can't have the vaccine.

I hope Biden is sleeping peacefully tonight knowing what he's done and what's he's helped with in our nation.

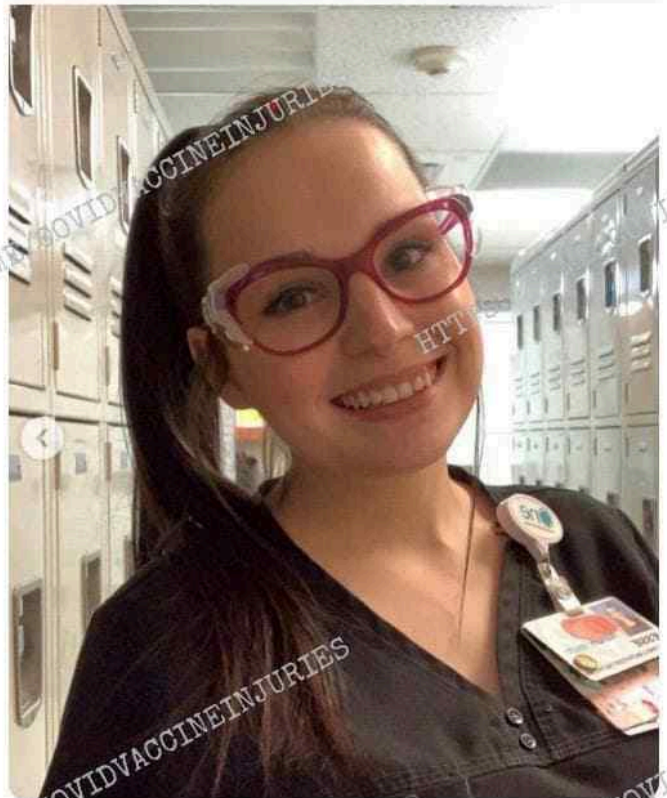

I can't

I can choose abortion and kill a human life but I HAVE to have the vaccine? What happened to "my body, my right." Oh yeah, it's only when it's convenient for them.

If you have the guts to disagree with me, please delete me and feel free to never talk to me again.

just our final update - we are now home. everything is painful, everything hurts. we still do not have all the answers and we really just need space. the answers we have are hurtful, and the answers we don't have are hurtful too. Anya rapidly developed a cancerous brain tumor in utero (suspected at 30/32 weeks) that progressed so rapidly and shifted my organs in such a dangerous way my cesarean was performed by over 30 doctors, surgeons and techs. I had the option of choosing to drain her swelling in utero which would have made me less at risk, but would have killed her instantly chose an operation that top surgeons were terrified to perform. if we would have waited even one day longer, I could have died. aggressive childhood brain tumors are very very rare, but there are no statistics about the rarity of aggressive fetal brain tumors - because it just doesn't happen. we have been reassured that nothing we did or did not do would have changed this- Anya would have at some point in her childhood developed a deadly brain tumor.

I chose to risk my life for even a single cry or coo or to even see Anya make a face at us even once. there are absolutely no words to describe how heartbreaking it is to watch your sweet innocent baby pass. but Anya defied every single odd, and gave us 48 hours of love. she wasn't even supposed to live an hour, but we were able to give her comfort and allow her to pass with the love of her family. we were told she felt nothing but pain since the tumor progressed, but our care team was able to provide her with enough comfort to pass with us.

please don't be offended, but I will absolutely not be reaching out or responding to anyone outside of my home or postpartum team. we are absolutely gutted, in shock, and still trying to process how our last week has drastically changed the dynamic of our lives.

we will always love our sweet Anya

Although he is fully vaccinated, he continues to experience excruciatingly painful ailments related to COVID, which have required multiple hospital stays in the past eight months. In the past few weeks, not only was the abscess discovered, but a second brain mass also was discovered. Multiple tests/scans revealed that this second mass – a tumor on his pituitary gland – is a result of Cushing's Disease, brought on by treatments from his original diagnosis of COVID. This Cushing's Disease also has caused seven compression fractures along his spine, as well as severe swelling and high blood pressure.

Hi, my name is Darla. I am a close friend of Martha Jones and her partner Carlos. Carlos and Martha have been partners of seventeen years. A few weeks ago Carlos caught COVID 19 (even though he was fully vaccinated) he was taken to John Muir hospital, where he is now on life support. I'm not sure what the outcome will be for Carlos, but I do know my friend lives on a fixed income.

I'm trying to raise funds for Martha and Carlos for whatever the outcome will be for him. If he is released from the hospital then this money will be used to help him transition to coming home and sustaining a new life. If the worst happens to Carlos and he does not leave the hospital then this money will be used for end of life services.

Martha and Carlos are very simple people and are very humble. I only want to help my friend and take some of the concern off of her shoulders what ever God has in store for their future.

Welcome to the reality of the Covid crisis in Florida. My cardiologist tried to admit me to the hospital but there are no rooms because of Covid. Had to go ER route. Place is a teaming and the waiting room stretches into hallways. Wait for some is 15 hours. Get the damn vaccine.

So still waiting to see a doc although they have run tests. Still no room in hospital or in ER bay. PA announcement just said ER could not accept more patients. This is a BIG hospital. Damn the unvaccinated. They have made life hell for a lot of people.

My first stage came back clear too..... I literally just got my whole exome sequence back....in this last hr. My little girl had PDHA1 gene abnormality. I don't even know where to begin with this. They said it wasn't passed from my husband or I.

Elias Georgakopoulos, Aged 15 – Pfizer Death

Elias Georgakopoulos – Pfizer 10th September 2021

Died 13th September Aged 15 Years – Three Days After Pfizer Vaccine

Elias, just 15 years old, died 3 days after receiving the Pfizer Vaccine.

He got his job on September 10th and was found lifeless in his room on Monday, September 13th. The family is seeking answers for the sudden death of the healthy boy.

He was transported to Pan Arcadian General Hospital and despite 'superhuman efforts' of doctors to bring him back to life, they didn't succeed.

His brother, 31-year-old Nikos said: "My brother was a very strong child, he never complained about anything. They were talking in his school about getting the vaccine, so on Friday, he went to get his shot at a Vaccination Center in Tripoli. He came back home and felt fine in the early stages", an emotional Nikos told reporters at the funeral.

Mosheur Rahman – Moderna August 2021

Died 30th August – 3 Weeks After Moderna Vaccine, Aged 16 Years

Mosheur died 3 weeks after receiving the Moderna Vaccine. He immediately suffered a high fever and severe Migraines and went to the emergency room three times after his vaccine, but was always sent home. His last hospitalisation was at the Angelo Hospital, Italy when he was transferred to the intensive care unit where he eventually died.

Mosheur arrived in Italy from Bangladesh, his country of origin, only 6 months earlier to join his family that have lived in Marghera for many years. He lived together with his mother, two brothers (one older and one younger) and his father.

Hundreds attended a protest organised by the Bengali community in Italy to demand justice for Mosheur: "He was a healthy boy" assures Prince Howlader, spokesman for the community and relative of the young man. "Three weeks ago, he had the Moderna Vaccine and then he started to feel ill and passed away shortly afterwards. We want to understand what happened in Angelo Hospital. We have filed a complaint with the

Yesterday my littlest one passed away unexpectedly and suddenly at two and a half months.

We don't have answers on how or why, but if you have littles at home give them an extra squeeze today. We're going to miss baby Z's smiles, giggles, and the joy he brought to our family.

belderes Tested to be proven safe.

This is my 3rd trip to the ER from an adverse reaction Vax. It's been 6 months dealing with myocarditis/Pericarditis. All of the traditional cardiology therapies have been failing and the sack that holds my heart keeps getting thicker making it more challenging for my heart to function.

Over the past 6 months without insurance I'd owe over 100k in medical. I've exhausted my short term disability so I'm now relying on the state to help pay the bills. With the talk of mandates it gets me pretty livid that the government is going to strip you of the ability to provide for yourself if you don't get this shit. Then if you have a reaction you're on your own. Tough shit. These mandates this vax. It's a joke. It's all about control.

COVID is real. If you're at risk you should get the jab. If not don't get that shit. You could ruin your life.

Before you come out and say but the news said this is rare. I'm the 7th person I know personally with this reaction. Multiple nurses and doctors are sharing that this is far more common than previously thought.

Brain tumor. Not what I expected to do on July 4th.

But before you read more...don't freak out. I feel good. There's no pain involved (thank you very much!!), I just move my left leg a little weird right now. I'm not freaking out. It's going to be fine just awkward and new for a bit.

A couple weeks ago, I started having strange periods of leg weirdness. Once while walking, once at home standing up from couch, once about 3 miles into run, and once on a dumbbell session. Each time the weirdness was short (less than 20 min) and was just a little odd limp. Like easy to say "did I pull a hip muscle?" "Well I haven't been running as much and it is hot today" "maybe I worked out too hard and... More Things are going great.

Anna's 19th birthday is today. Holly and Jason are visiting two CSU campuses these two weeks for swim team recruiting.

And I got insurance approvals for the Optune and my upcoming MRI next month. The Optune approval looks like it needs to be resubmitted with doctor's notes that it's still medically necessary every 4 months but that should be easy and completely handled by Optune company itself.

Today I changed the arrays for the first time "by myself" although Jason still had to help on a couple of them at first. So I'm pleased that they lasted for a full 3 days... means more time on treatment if they need replacing less often.

Definitely the biggest pain has been changing clothes. Exercise has been just fine. Sleeping great.

Truth. Today has been rough. I'm having a hard time processing all this has happened in such a short time and is so weighty. Waiting on more info sucks too.

Lots of frustration with dragging a limp left foot. Lots of frustration that my second toe is longer than my big toe and therefore prone to get stubbed or folded over with the foot drag. Lots of frustration that 30 ft of walking takes all my energy and time. Still can't even make it to the corner of my street and back at all (3 houses). Frustration with the paperwork involved in taking care of health. Frustration going down stairs on butt with left leg folded over because otherwise it flops around uselessly in the way.

"This specimen was positive for promoter methylation of the MGMT gene." ❤️❤️❤️❤️

When the neurosurgeon had delivered her stage 4 GBM news the morning after the surgery, the stats about long-term survival rates were first broached by us. She said some outliers get some longer timeframes for survival, but that those are associated with positive treatment responders. The MGMT marker is associated with "better response" to the standard treatment method. Meaning, if you have the MGMT marker, your chances of making it to more months go up. Without the marker, those hopes are pretty bad. So on the positive...more time! On the negative, we're still counting "months" of improved time as the units of... More

Funerals & Memorials

My mom has just died of a massive Covid related stroke. She was perfectly fine two weeks ago.

She had the first vaccine shot but caught the virus before her second shot appointment.

My dad is also in the ICU. I'm completely overwhelmed. Looking for any possible help. I feel like a bum but I have no idea what else to do. With medical expenses and cremation cost we are completely without options.

Please share if you can't donate. Literally every dollar adds up. You have no idea how much it would help us.

Thank you so much. We really need help. I know she would have really appreciated it too.

Like all students a few weeks ago, Alex was looking forward to the start of the school year. Alex was enjoying his summer break and even began learning French for his future goals to go to Canada and become an amethyst miner. In August Alex and his family received the Covid vaccine and shortly after Alex began having what were thought to be symptoms from the shot. The doctor recommended plenty of rest and fluids and that the side effects would go away. Alex's pain did not pass, and within a few days Alex's headaches became worse but said that with the Motrin he had some relief. On August 18th Alex like so many others got to go on his first day back to school to see his friends and teachers for his new 7th grade year, he was super excited and ready. He made it the first 3 days and the Friday he came home and just said he was so tired and just wanted to sleep. He began vomiting up that night so by that Sunday was taken to the urgent care. All of Alex's test came back no issues and the sent him home with indications it was just delayed side effects of the shot. Alex continued to feel ill - vomiting, not eating or drinking and sleeping. He was taken to the emergency room where they still were not able to find and issues. Just as he was about to be discharged, the doctor asked him to take a walk and that's when Alex began to fade. An MRI of his head was ordered and was found with a brain tumor the size of a clementine.

Pip Lilly and Holly Walker are organizing this fundraiser.

2 days after receiving my first COVID vaccination i noticed that my lymph nodes on the right side of my neck were extremely swollen. After they stayed swollen for a few weeks, my doctor sent me in for a biopsy. On April 23, 2021, i was diagnosed with Large B Cell Non-Hodgkins Lymphoma.

This particular cancer is a blood disease that moves and replicates quickly. It has to be treated quickly and aggressively. I met with an Oncologist on May 5th and was admitted to the hospital on May 7th for an intensive 5 day straight chemo treatment. I currently have to do 4 cycles of this treatment plus hospital visits in between to monitor the disease, normal body function levels, and to receive transfusions. I also have to do chemo in the spine (so not fun).

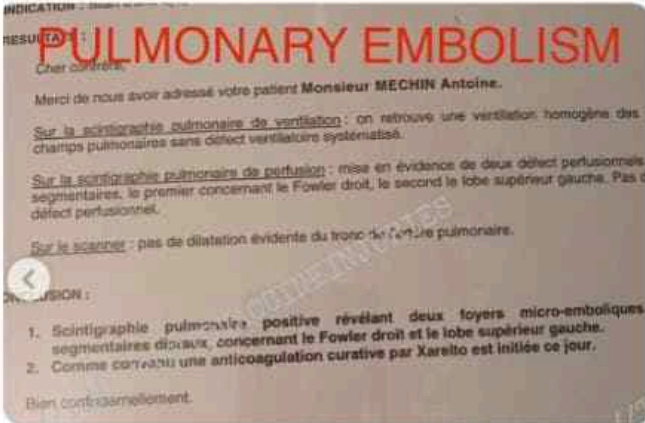

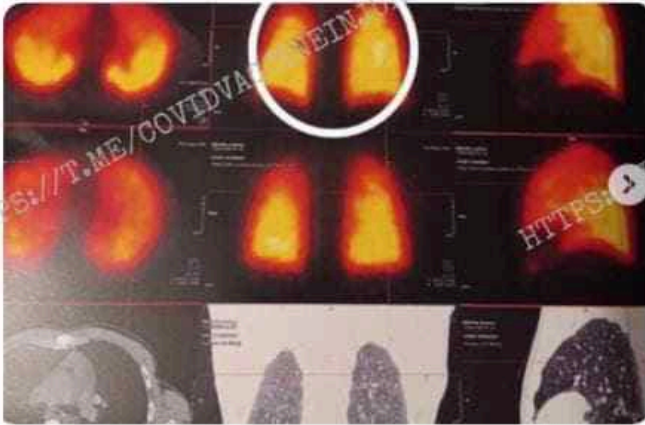

In addition to my medical costs, i need reliable transportation, home medical supplies, and a safer permanent living environment. I am currently subletting a space in the Echo Park area of LA.

Of course, in the public hospital, ICU services are not suitable for receiving sick people such as Laure-Hélène for a long time, especially during a 'health crisis'.

PERICARDITIS - EMBOLISMS - DVT

September 28 at 9:52 PM · 🌐

Apparently there are some tails still wagging and questioning my post sharing the side effects from this vaccine. I've mostly received such positive response for coming forward. But there are some in the way back saying that this has all been from me having covid and not from the vaccine.

I'm tired. I don't feel good. I have brushed with death more than a couple times in the last month. Excuse my rant but let me set you straight!

The pericarditis, the dvt and the embolisms were a result of the vaccine. I have just found out I have a genetic disorder where I am deficient in c and s protein and causes blood clots. You can go your whole life without knowing you have this disorder. I went 60 years without knowing!!! this disorder can be triggered with a major surgery or medication as in chemotherapy or birth control pills or the vaccine! I went ten months after covid and nothing. I had the vaccine and two days later I was hospitalized. YOU do the science.

I have been told my post discourages some from getting the vaccine. This is not my intent. But knowledge is power. We want this vaccine to have the best efficacy. We want this vaccine to have the least side effects. If those of us who have had negative side effects don't come forward ...this won't happen. We need to collect the data on those that are having side effects and find the common denominator here. There are reasons many are waiting on this vaccine and this is why I am with the many who don't agree with the mandate.

So please....no shaming. I am sharing my experience for the better of man kind. For the better of our fight against a pandemic. Im going to keep on keeping on! I'm going to stay positive, so you do the same. K?

My perfectly healthy teenage son had his first covid shot and 19 days later, developed a rash all over his body and joints (knees, ankles and hands) red and swelling. No sickness. No fever. Just rash, hives and swelling. They tested his bloodwork for everything and anything in the ER. Even admitted to the hospital overnight one night. Put him on a steroid finally after 2 days which cleared up the swelling, rash and hives after 5 days. Then day after all that goes away, extreme pain in one quad muscle next evening to the point of tears and not wanting to walk. Back to ER. More testing. No answers. Gave him RX strength ibuprofen. Pain was better the next day. Following day, extreme pain in both legs that evening where he was unable to walk at all and back to ER. Had to give morphine and muscle relaxer as pain was so severe by the time they brought him back and muscles in legs were spasming so bad. Once morphine and muscle relaxer kicked in, felt a lot better obviously. Admitted him that evening and more labwork, checked for blood clots, MRI, etc. No answers. Sent home and thankfully pain went away over the next 4 days using Tylenol and ibuprofen every 4 hours. Doctor had us see Rheumatologist at Vanderbilt for more testing and Neurologist and still NO ANSWERS to what caused this! After 3 long weeks, he is almost back to his healthy self again. He has small things pop up like his foot hurt today and one day last week, he had one fingertip red and itchy once this week and neck pain/migraine that came on once last week and never ever had migraines in the past. 3 doctors in the ER have said they thought possibly serum reaction. Others say go and get 2nd shot. My oldest son, my husband and I and my in-laws all got both doses of Pfizer and no issues at all but this one, my Mom gut tells me not to get 2nd shot for him. Rheumatologist said it was probably a virus that caused this reaction and doesn't believe it's the vaccine but I just don't think that's it since he's been perfectly healthy up until that 19 day mark post vaccine! Anyone else have symptoms like this at after Pfizer and almost 3 weeks after with it starting?

Received my first dose 2 weeks ago, now positive for Covid. Terrible congestion, aches and tons of GI issues. Wondering how bad my side effects will be when I get my second dose. Dr said to get it as soon as eligible and 10 days after symptoms. Has anyone else caught covid between shots? Looking for what to expect now after this second shot

Basic Healthcare. You are prescribed a Medication for an issue that's wrong medically or mentally , And if you have an adverse reaction or a side effect from it you don't take any more and then it's over. You now would list this as an "Allergy" or a reaction..

My reality is not the same thing ! It's in my body on a cellular level and all the things I'm trying to do can't get rid of it because I can't stop it.. Until it's reached it's PEEK.. #weneededmoreresearch #notforeveryone

Defeat isn't in my value system.

I refuse to lose heart as scary as things may seem.

The many years of competing in elite beach volleyball has taught me a few things:

- 👊 When we lose... we don't actually lose... we LEARN.
- 👊 Even when you're losing or behind in the game, a comeback is ALWAYS possible.
- 👊 Your mindset can be the difference between losing in the first round or getting on the podium.
- 👊 You're stronger than you think.

Some days, I look back on photos like these and I want to cry because it's been a year and 2 months since I've competed.

Given the symptoms from that I've been experiencing from the past few months, I honestly didn't know if I'd ever compete again. My body has never felt weaker.

Thank God I have found some sources of support and I am slowly getting stronger. I have HOPE 🙏 that one day I'll step on the sand again STRONGER than I was before.

I didn't let an eating disorder beat me.
And now, I won't let a V / injury beat me.

My symptoms started in April and worsened over the course of a few months, peaking in late July following my decision to do meniscus surgery on my right knee. I'm not sure if surgery was the "straw that broke the camel's back" for my immune system, but my body responded with the scariest inflammatory response I have ever experienced.

Ever since late April, I've experienced a bizarre constellation of symptoms including and not limited to:

- Intense fatigue
- Brain fog
- Speech issues
- Nerve pain in both legs
- Numbness and tingling in arms, legs, hands, feet and face
- Legs going numb while walking
- Loss of taste
- Neck stiffness/inability to move my neck
- Myalgic pain all over my body
- Muscle weakness
- GI distress
- Panic attacks
- Dysautonomia (feeling disconnected from my body)
- Chest pain, pressure, and tightness
- Shooting nerve pain starting from my neck, traveling down my left arm and in my left shoulder blade
- Shortness of breath
- Heart palpitations
- Nearly passing out
- Tinnitus and other hearing changes
- Dizziness and vertigo
- Seeing stars & other vision changes
- Mental health challenges (no surprise here)

Post

This post literally couldn't be more different to what I usually post however I think it's important that people know about it.

I have always been extremely wary of the Covid Vaccine, I wouldn't say a complete Anti Vax but just very apprehensive of the potential long term side effects and uneasy about having something injected into my body that had come about so fast and is being trialled on us. My whole family are double vaccinated and every day told me I was being silly and to just give in and get it. I stuck to my guns and put it off until 24/07/21. As soon as the government started implementing more restrictions such as the Covid Passport for club entry etc, I knew they would soon do this for pretty much everything including travel which I was so desperate to do once safe enough. I also thought, I may as well be in the same boat as the rest of my friends and family. I reluctantly booked my vaccine in and had it. Before having my first dose of Moderna I was a completely fit, healthy, active and motivated young adult. I worked full time in Events & Hospitality and ran an additional Beauty business which I did in evenings and on weekends along side. I previously Show Jumped horses at International Level and had just secured a role as Detention Officer in the Police to be starting in October, which myself and my family were very excited about. I had my vaccine and suffered no immediate symptoms except the usual dead arm that ached for around 2 days but no fever or anything else. After those couple of days, when walking more than around 10 metres and for example taking lash clients up stairs to my beauty room, I began to notice that I was becoming breathless. Usually when going up stairs it can take a couple of breaths to catch your breath back if walking fast and going straight into conversation however, it was taking me more like half an hour of struggling to respond and gasping for breath between sentences which I just couldn't understand. I just thought am I a lot more unfit than I thought? What has lockdown done to me? This went on for a few days but due to having an office based job I didn't notice it as much during the day.

REST IN PEACE

PFIZER

Family & friends: Many of you know I haven't been feeling well for a very long time. I have been dealing with symptoms that's prompted many doctor's visits, ER visits, and hospitalizations. It all started after I received my 2nd dose of the Pfizer vaccine. I want to share my experience with hopes of bringing awareness to what some of us have experienced from the vaccine, and in doing so will bring forth research to help us find treatment to relieve us of these side effects we are suffering from.

I want to say that I got this vaccine with the right intentions, but just like with anything, there are risks ,and for me, my body didn't do well. On January 11th, I got my 2nd dose of Pfizer vaccine. Fifteen hours later, I woke up with chest pain, fever, HR 160s, numbness, near syncopal episode, and shortness of breath. I was hospitalized for 2 days and was told it was my immune response to the vaccine. During this hospitalization I had labs, scans, echocardiogram, IV fluids. A few labs were abnormal including my DDimer and Lactic acid. CT chest was negative for PE. I was discharged home and my heart rate was still high, but not as high. I also started to experience internal tremors. Took it easy after my hospitalization, but then on Jan 30th, it happened again. Same exact symptoms. This time I was hospitalized for 4 days. My DDimer was higher so I had more workup done. They weren't sure what was going on, but I got put on propranolol since my heart rate wouldn't go down this time. This lowered my already low blood pressure so that got changed to Corlanor outpatient by my cardiologist. Since then I have had multiple ER visits due to high heart rate, near syncopal episodes, appointments with my pcp, cardiologist, EP cardiologist, neurologist, gastroenterologist, pulmonologist and waiting for my appointment with the autonomic neurologist at Stanford. I've had many tests done which include echocardiogram, 2 week cardiac holter, stress test, labs, loop recorder implanted, CTs, MRI, etc. Since all this began my side effects have been and still are: tachycardia, intermittent chest pain, PACs/PVCs, shortness of breath, internal tremors, muscle spasms/twitching, constant vertigo/dizziness, headaches, brain fog, near syncopal episodes, on and off loss of appetite (I've lost over 30 pounds since January).

19-летний студент Владимир Сало умер через несколько часов после прививки Pfizer

In the Kiev region, a 19-year-old student, Volodymyr Salo, died a few hours after being vaccinated against the coronavirus. The cause of death, preliminarily, was heart problems. A native of Lviv region was vaccinated with Pfizer, but chose not to tell his parents about his decision.

Died a few hours after the injection

In the village of Dobrosin near Lviv, the relatives of 19-year-old student of the Ukrainian Humanities Institute Volodymyr Salo cannot recover from grief. The guy was vaccinated against the coronavirus at about 14:30 on September 13, and by the evening he had a fever. At about 20:15, convulsions began, after 20 minutes the pulse was gone.

"He did not tell anyone from his family about the decision to be vaccinated. Perhaps he knew that everyone would be against and would discourage such a decision. And he was so risky by nature, he could make spontaneous decisions. He could be very limited in his desires. They say that those who were not vaccinated will not be able to travel freely, go to cafes, etc. We think that this is what prompted him," says OBOZREVATEL Ruslan, husband of Vladimir's sister.

According to a relative, the guy was vaccinated with a drug from Pfizer. Several hours after the injection, Vladimir felt well, he ate in the student canteen, and then played table tennis.

But in the evening his condition worsened sharply, he began to choke. The ambulance doctors, who came to the call, carried out resuscitation actions for about an hour, but they could not save Vladimir.

According to the preliminary conclusion, the cause of death was cardiopulmonary insufficiency, pulmonary edema, acute coronary insufficiency. Final conclusions will have to wait for about a month.

mrs.rsky Well, it's been one week since I received the covid 19 vaccine. Major side effects started Saturday (headache, low energy and high heartrate). Sunday I woke up unable to breathe, followed by my throat and mouth swelling, hives and my heartrate in the 160s (if not higher as I took my fitbit off when I left for the ER) I was monitored, blood work taken (came back elevated?), followed by a CT scan, their main concerns were a bloodclot, stoke, heart attack. Next step is to see a specialist.
My heartrate is still not back where it's always been, it's higher than it should be.

GBS - ICU - TRACHEOTOMY

Jenna Justine is organizing this fundraiser on behalf of Brandi McNeely.

On May 20th our friend and cousin Kris McNeely was admitted to Peterborough Regional Health Centre experiencing numbness in his arms and legs. A couple days later he was diagnosed with Guillain Barre (Ghee-Yan Bah-Ray) syndrome.

His body's immune system was attacking his nervous system. Within days he was paralyzed and in ICU on a ventilator. Doctors have told them it may have been caused by his COVID vaccine shot which he had 10 days prior. After several weeks of extensive medical treatment, Kris remains in ICU on a ventilator and a feeding tube.

Kris just turned 42 and is married to Brandi and has two children, Grayson (12) and Harper (11). He has a very long road ahead of him. Even when Kris is able to go home, he will need extensive care and therapy for many months ahead.

We would like to help take some of the financial burden off Kris and his family during this difficult time. Any contribution, no matter how much, will mean so much and will be a huge help in their time of need.

Thank you for your support. Please feel free to share this with others through your Facebook or Instagram timelines.

July 14, 2021

by Jenna Justine, Organizer

Hi everyone, I wanted to provide an update on Kris's condition. He is still in ICU on a ventilator, but because he has had a tracheotomy, he is awake and aware. He started to regain some small movement in his arms, and can move his head and neck but his legs are still completely paralyzed while the nerves heal. Communication is difficult because of the tracheotomy but he can spell out words using an alphabet board. He wanted to tell you all he is blown away by the support and thanks everyone for everything they have done to support our family.

Chronic Inflammatory Demyelinating Polyneuropathy

Hello.

My daughter Melissa has reached the point where she needs help as she recovers from horrible side effects of the Covid vaccine. After her 2nd shot on Jan. 22, she started experiencing tingling in her feet, which gradually moved up her legs, followed by numbness in her feet and legs, which then affected her hands and arms. Apr. 3 she was hospitalized for 5 days, and after several tests was diagnosed with CIDP, Chronic Inflammatory Demyelinating Polyneuropathy, which is a rare immune disorder. The vaccine caused her immune system to start attacking the myelin that coats our nerves. After 2 weeks in rehab, she had a flare-up that sent her back to the hospital for 2 days, then back to rehab. She was released on May. 7, in a wheelchair, just in time for Mother's Day! Due to Covid, her sons hadn't seen her in person since she was first hospitalized, only through the window at rehab. Her being home on Mother's Day was a blessing to us all.

After all of this, Melissa ended up leaving her job because she knew she wouldn't be back for a long time. Now she has to pay for COBRA insurance, which she desperately needs to continue getting the antibody infusions that have been vital to her recovery. She and Jessie are raising two sons and without her income they are struggling with this extra cost plus household expenses.

Melissa is slowly recovering some feeling in her legs, but she still has a way to go. Anything you can do to help will be greatly appreciated, even if all you can offer are prayers for her recovery.

Thank you.

LEG AMPUTATION

Lulzim Mani is organizing this fundraiser.

Kujtim Kaloshi is a father of three children and a grandfather of two nieces, he is 52 years old. On July 12, 2021 Kujtim decided to take his first covid shot. The next day while he was at a family party, his right leg started hurting all of a sudden, the pain got stronger and more sharper, and his leg started turning blue. He was rushed to the emergency room as the pain became unbearable. The doctors after evaluating his situation, decided that in order for him to be saved they had to amputate his leg from the knee and below. Kujtim now is on crutches, and is going through a lot of emotional, psychological and physical pain. He has not lost hope, and he believes that one day he'll be able to go outside and have a normal life again. There is an option for him to attach a prosthetic leg, but that costs him a lot of money. He can not afford it on his own, as he is not able to work now. He is hoping that the generosity of many of you in this world - will help him get back on his feet. Every penny counts, and he knows that one day he'll pay it forward and help the next person that's needs him, today he needs you. To check his story and the credibility of his claim, you can reach out to the Lodi Hospital of Milano Italy, and make a phone call asking if Kujtim Kaloshi was treated there on July 2021, and was amputated a leg. Once again he thanks each one of you for helping him.

SMALL FIBER NEUROPATHY

Jessica HeLal

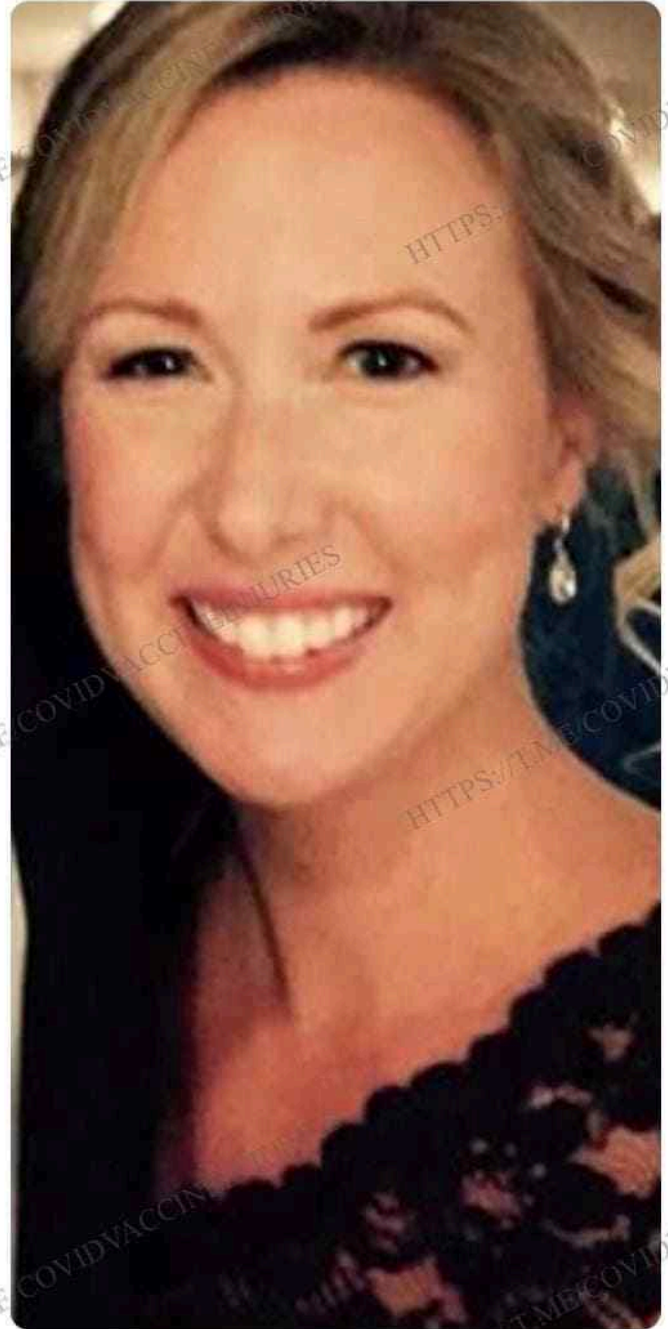

Yesterday at 5:38 PM · 🌐

1. I am pro-vaccine & did my part.
2. 12 hours after the 2nd shot, I developed bilateral muscle pain and tingling. 5 months later and this has spread to every part of my body and I have severe burning, joint pain, muscle pain, tingling, internal vibrations and vision/focus issues. I have been diagnosed with small fiber neuropathy by punch biopsy.
3. I need help and treatment. Doctors have no idea what to do with me and I'm desperate to get into Dr. Oaklander in Boston, MA, who is one of very few specialists for SFN.
4. I AM NOT ALONE. I am one of many that just want to be heard, to be believed and to be helped.

I have hesitated to post this publicly because it has felt like a "dirty little secret" that I couldn't tell anyone but those closest to me. I've stayed silent for almost 5 months and have spent the better part of that time going from doctor to doctor, getting blood tests, having scans done, procedures done, etc. and suffering with horrible pain and burning. If you don't know what small fiber neuropathy is, look it up. It hurts when I scratch my skin as though I have a full-body sunburn, 24/7. The pain doesn't stop. I'm now on gabapentin, low-dose naltrexone and about 20 other supplements/OTC meds and I'm still in major pain constantly.

The doctors have told me I need IVIG, but that my insurance will never cover it because I'm walking and talking. I was told by one doctor that no one is studying this and there are no other treatments. That "This is the state of affairs" and just sat and stared at me while I sobbed on my telehealth call.

I'm so tired of all the posts shaming people for being vaccine-hesitant. Now, it makes me physically ill seeing the mandates rolling out. It's rare unless it happens to you or someone you love. Then it sure as hell doesn't feel rare and "safe." I want my life back. I don't know if I will ever recover at this point but I will no longer stay silent about this.

Morning, FB. PLEASE BE KIND on this post. Im not looking to be dismissed or disrespected, please. I'm uploading a video of a side effect I've been having since receiving the second dose of my Pfizer vaccine (17 Sept). It has been a major annoyance and it started the morning after my second shot. Along with a few monster headaches, I've been fighting this eye twitch that worsens when I'm talking or exhausted. This video is a MILD example of how bad it's been getting. My heart and mind are both in agreement this a side effect of the vaccine. FB might ban this, I don't know. Please watch and make a decision for yourself, but please be kind to me. I've been praying for a healing and I have faith God is going to eventually take this away. Please pray for me that it doesn't get worse. Again, this is mild. It's always like that when you want to show people something. I'll try to keep recording so I can show how bad it gets.

MODERNA - ISSUES SINCE MAY

Kelly Gehner Mackeprang

Yesterday at 12:17 AM · 🌐

Since May, when I received my second dose of moderna covid vaccine, I have developed a lot of weird symptoms that I'm still trying to sort out with my PVP and now my new cardiologist. Within a day, I had the "normal" side effects feeling like I flu symptoms. The exhaustion stayed after everything somewhat subsided. Within a couple of days, my heart was racing and beating hard and erratic. It was very random but one thing that stood out was that it very prominent when I would go from standing position to laying down position. It would be so hard. I talked to a doctor at my office over the phone. He said it should subside within few days. It came and went. We blamed stress, a lot going on, exhaustion, allergies, asthma. Finally in late June, I was sleeping constantly and my glands were swelled in my armpits and I ached. When I say I was exhausted, I mean I could not stay awake to even walk to the bathroom. My head would drop to fall asleep and my eyes wouldn't stay open. I had a telehealth Dr apt and I told the doctor I felt like I had mono. He had me tested for covid which was negative. I didn't get anything more from the doctors office. Also during this time, my trigeminal neuralgia and IBS got extremely bad. The doctors would rather talk about that because I started to ask if it could still be from the vaccine. They won't acknowledge it. So they changed my medicines. None of it helped and actually felt worse and I started blaming the fatigue on this. I gradually have cut everything down to only taking ibuprofen, Tylenol and vitamins. My symptoms continued to get worse. I have racing heart, skipped heart beats, my pulse can jump from normal 70s to 180s and down to the 30s. I have extreme fatigue, short of breath, chest, arm and back pain, extreme headaches, brain fog, dizzy, light headed, very bad vertigo, nausea, vomiting, can't walk or stand without hanging onto something or someone helping me, black out, heat intolerance, sweating, shakes, pulse shooting up or down, nerve pain, swollen glands, dissociation, auras. I've missed a lot of work, doctor office sent me to the ER once and I went another time on my own, endless doctor visits and endless tests, to which they have not figured anything out so are still going. I haven't even begun to pay those bills that will start to come, even though nothing has come from them. I've had ekg's, a lot of blood tests, an echo, a brain MRI, chest Xray, ct scan, hemostatic blood pressure checks, thyroid, parathyroid tests, nuclear stress test, and am still on a 30 day heart monitor that I've begged them to end early because I can't go that long. The doctor say they can see and hear PVC, PAC, arrhythmia on the monitors and when they listen, the alarms go off for afib and something else while they have it on. But nothing done about it yet, because "waiting on the monitor". All the while, they tell me it couldn't be from vaccine. I have went days without being able to leave my chair or bed.

In April of this year Lindsay had a severe reaction to the Moderna vaccine. As a result, Lindsay developed a condition called Deep Vein Thombrosis, in which a blood clot forms in a vein. In Lindsay's case she developed three blood clots by early September and had visited the emergency room two times.

In September, facing the danger of a pulmonary embolism, Lindsay had to pass on her goal of running the Boston Marathon. She turned her focus to her health and with support from friends, her amazing husband, Ryan, and lots of hugs from Payton and Cedar, she underwent genetic screenings, an echocardiogram, 3 ultrasounds, a CT scan and many visits to a cardiologist. Lindsay is not out of the woods yet and her care is on going. She is on a medication to ward off the condition that costs $1000/month.

6. The beginning of June, Desmond received his first COVID-19 vaccine
  7. Three days later he was in serious pain and found to have blood in his urine
  8. He was taken to Patient First and was referred to a Urologist, who prescribed more antibiotics
  9. The end of June, he received his second Covid-19 shot
  10. Four days after his 2nd vaccine, he started to get worse - fast
  11. He started coughing up blood and was in excruciating pain
  12. He was rushed to the hospital in the middle of the night, where he was diagnosed with pneumonia and given more antibiotics
  13. Desmond's health has progressively deteriorated after being wrongly diagnosed and treated for almost a year
  14. Desmond was taken to the emergency department on Tuesday, September 28, 2021, as he was coughing up blood again.
  15. After waiting nine hours, he was finally seen in the ED where physicians found that his lungs and kidneys were extremely inflamed and bleeding
  16. He continued to deteriorate and was flown by helicopter to Hershey Medical Center's Intensive Care Unit
- We don't know how long Desmond will be in the hospital this time. He is not out of the woods. He will require lifelong treatment and evaluation. The funds donated will go to the tremendous costs incurred during the past 8+ months of hospitalizations, testing, medications and misdiagnoses. It will also go to defray the cost of preventing kidney disease/failure and lung trauma, without which could result in organ failure and the need for transplant.

I didn't want to share this news until it was confirmed by my doctor. I've been posting happy pics but in reality I've been very sick. I was FINE before my vaccine. (Blood work NORMAL)

The Covid vaccine is officially the cause of my health problems, and my blood transfusion a few weeks ago. I see a specialist at U of C a hemotologist ASAP.

I have been extremely weak and on home oxygen and have had a nanny for about 2 months now.

I may need another transfusion so please say a prayer for me. (My blood work has been bad for about 2 months now after my 2nd shot of Covid. I've been diagnosed with a severe blood disorder.

My doctor has reported this to Health Canada. (Severe side effects from Covid Vaccine)

In fact I may be the 1st patient who has had this rare blood disorder, due to the vaccine

I will continue to post happy pics, and I've pushed through so hard for my son. This will be my last post about this..... 🙏🙏

I love god and Jesus and His people. I don't want to call this a rant, I'm just calling This the truth since no one else is telling it. ❤️

-Dr knows I've lived through hell this entire last month. Knows I got the vaccine and went down hill in days.

-dr. Tries to tell me maybe my thyroid being off did all of this to me. 🙄

- I nicely tell her I've already been diagnosed as this being vaccine induced by my cardiologist as have several of my friends.

Dr- speechless.

Dr leaves room and RN tells me that there have been a large amount of patients in just this wk dealing with the same complications after the vaccine but no one will admit that's what's causing all of this in young people. Why? Because some doctors are the ones who tell us to get the shot and now they cannot say they were wrong with all of these complications and they know the shot was not ready for the people.

I'm totally in awe of the way hospitals and drs are acting surprised by these super "rare" complications from the vaccine that they are dealing with EVERY week. Maybe we should push away the pride and recognize that the vaccine is hurting so many young people who are their patients and we should push for the vaccine to be fixed.

Do we want covid? No. Do we want to inject vaccine induced heart problems in ourselves? Also no. Fix it. Recognize it.

It's very disheartening.

This is all out of love & I hope if any of you are dealing with complications from the vaccine that you are definitely not alone and you can find a Dr who will not ignore this and help you. Don't give up! They are still out there, Praise God.

Be KIND but BE BOLD. ❤️

GUILLAIN BARRE SYNDROME- AGE 19

givealittle.co.nz

Hello brother and sisters. how are you all?
Sending you this just to see if anyone would be able to help with my Nephew's fight against Guillain-Barré syndrome.

He is just 19 years old. His Dad died because of suicide and his mum has no job. He then moved in our house as he got nowhere else to go. Unfortunately, Last Aug. 25 he had a COVID vaccine and got a side effect from it called Guillain-Barré syndrome or GBS that is causing a an ascending paralysis starting from feet to head.

The situation in Philippines is tough, all hospitals are in full capacity. We shopped around hospitals all of them are full fortunately we found one but they charge 20k pesos ($400)per day on top of his laboratories, medications and Doctor's fee. His paralysis started on his feet and now on his chest. We can stop this as per the doctor.

In early July, Chris received his second shot to be ready for ease of travel and access to venues during his tours. Unfortunately, he reacted and suffered severe inflammation of his heart (myocarditis) and was admitted to the Ottawa Heart Institute Intensive Care for a week to treat his symptoms.

Despite his excellent care, he developed severe complications in the month following his hospital stay. He was readmitted to the Heart Institute Cardiac Critical Care where he recently underwent an emergency placement of a permanent Pacemaker due to complete heart block (3rd degree) and progressive inflammation of his heart.

His road to recovery and rehabilitation will be very long. During the initial lockdown, Chris decided to pursue a childhood dream of becoming a fighter pilot and began his studies through adult education. For now, his course load is on hold and he cannot work, but the most devastating news for him is that he will no longer be able to pursue his dream of becoming a pilot and cannot drum for an indeterminate time.

Many of you know Chris Stephenson as a professional drummer, drum teacher, author, friend, family member and sometimes, FedEx driver!

At the beginning of the week of September, Jonathan had his second shot of vaccine to help end this pandemic. Being a Nursing Assistant, he took the courage to beat the virus so he could continue to work in healthcare and help those who are in need. The following week after he got his covid vaccine, he developed weakness of his legs where he had a hard time walking, and his gait had progressively become imbalanced. His significant other, MASHA GOLOVINA contacted me. I was alarmed and advised them to go to the ER to get seen by a neurologist. They went to ER, and all scans were negative. He got tested for stroke, Guillan-Barre Syndrome, Encephalitis, and Meningitis. After discharge, he was sent home again, and a couple of days later, his neuro symptoms had progressively worsened. He had trouble speaking (slurred speech), was unable to write, and ataxia had worsened. They went back again to ER and finally was admitted and was worked up for any neuro disorders. He was treated for viral and bacterial meningitis. MRI of the brain came back and was told he had a brain tumor, but they could not figure out where and how it grew. The neurosurgeon was involved, and they said they couldn't do anything about the tumor because the location is very deep, and more risk is weighed than the benefit. The infectious disease came on board and finally got an answer to their question. His brain had an inflammation caused by the covid vaccine, which is a VERY RARE condition, and it's called Acute Disseminated Encephalomyelitis (ADEM). There is no treatment except high-dose steroids. Now, Jonathan is at home and unable to felicia.binger Hier seht ihr ein Bild wie ich aussehe, mit Medikamenten. Wenn ihr nach links swiped, ohne. Ich hatte am 04. Mai abends um 20:00 in einem Impfzentrum meine erste Impfung mit Biontech. Am nächsten Tag habe ich bemerkt, dass mein ganzer Körper an verschiedenen Stellen anfängt rot zu werden, zu brennen, zu pochen. Ich konnte nichts mehr anfassen, in die Hand nehmen ohne brennenden Ausschlag zu bekommen. Jeder leichteste Druck auf meinem Körper bedeutet eine Überreaktion. Ich fing an zu verschiedenen Ärzten zu gehen und war beim vom Impfzentrum offiziell angegebenen, zuständigen Allergologischen Institut, wo ich die Tests, ob ich auf den Impfstoff selbst möglicherweise allergisch reagiere, selbst zahlen musste, weil das noch nicht im Katalog der Krankenkasse sei. Warum wurde ich eigentlich nicht vorher darüber aufgeklärt, dies testen lassen zu können? Ich war an einem Sonntag in der Praxis (Nein, die haben normalerweise nicht Sonntags geöffnet, mussten sie aber, weil sie nicht hinterherkommen sind mit den Menschen die sich meldeten, weil sie schwer auf die Impfung reagiert haben)

Das Wartezimmer war erschreckend voll und es wurde wie am Fließband gearbeitet. Ganz viele andere Menschen mit mir im Wartezimmer denen es so oder ähnlich wie mir ging. Die Testung ergab, dass ich nicht auf den Inhaltstoff in der Impfung allergisch reagiere, für alles andere müsse ich mich an meinen Hausarzt wenden.

Mein Hausarzt sagte mir, ich müsse mich ans Impfzentrum wenden, das Impfzentrum sagte mir, ich muss zum Hausarzt. Ich war bei über 15 Ärzten in den letzten 5 Monaten und niemand kann helfen oder fühlt sich verantwortlich zu Sache auf den Grund zu gehen, wenn das passiert. „Naja ist eben ein neuer Impfstoff und da kenne ich mich auch nicht aus“. Einzige Diagnose: Nesselsucht. Das Paul Ehrlich Institut führt Nesselsucht als mögliche Nebenwirkung der Coronaimpfung. Diese würde aber wohl innerhalb 14 Tagen abklingen. Falls nicht, würde der Hausarzt weiterhelfen...Fakt ist: Ich nehme jetzt jeden Tag Tabletten um die Symptome dieser Nesselsucht zu unterdrücken, die andere Nebenwirkungen mit sich bringt. 🚨 (TEXT GEHT IN DEN KOMMENTAREN WEITER) #impfschäden #coronaimpfung #impfung

Prior to all of this, Jayla was a completely healthy 16 year old. She loved playing softball and flag football at her high school. She excelled in school, as a junior in high school she was in the National Honors Society, the Beta club. Maintaining straight A's. She was fully vaccinated months prior.

Sept 13- Sore throat. Took her to urgent care, strep was negative. They gave her amoxicillin for possible infection.

Sept. 15- Started having a fever got up to 104.7, took her back to urgent care. Tested negative for strep, mono and Covid.

Sept 16- Sore throat(most painful for her), fever, fever, headache, vomiting, diarrhea, lethargic. Took her to the hospital, they admitted her and started testing.

Sept. 17- told us they didn't know what it was and wanted us to go to another hospital with bigger pediatric unit and more specialists. Transferred that evening, almost immediately they told us it was really bad and if we didn't put her on lots of support this is going to start shutting her organs down and kill her. They did a central line, arterial line, breathing tube and ventilator right away. They put her in a medically induced coma.

Sept 22- They thought that had stabilized her enough, and attempted to extubate and bring her out of sedation. She did not respond well. They went back to full support. They started treating her for MIS-C.

Sept 29 - They were able to bring her out of all the life saving support, she responded well. She went to the regular pediatric unit.

Since then, she has been improving daily. She is still being treated for MIS-C (I encourage every parent look this up!!! It's very real) she was exposed to Covid 4-6 weeks prior to this onset, but showed no symptoms. It's not common and is even more uncommon since she is vaccinated)

Medical, Illness & Healing

Knowing that I have all the major risk factors for serious illness if I were to catch COVID-19, from the start of the COVID19 pandemic in February 2020, I have been especially careful. Always masked, social distanced, avoid indoors with other people, seek good ventilation, and fully vaccinated.

When I tested positive for COVID in early September 2021 I was surprised and frightened. In only a few days pneumonia spread throughout my lungs. Could not get enough oxygen. Could barely stand let alone walk. Coughing and brain fog. Immediately the doctor had me admitted to the local hospital here in Punta Mita, Nayarit, Mexico. It is a very good private hospital with a COVID unit. Believe me you do not want to go to the public hospitals here in Mexico, because they do not have the resources for COVID treatments, and the outcome statistics are grim.

Here's the short version of how we ended up here: On Aug 31 Nick developed a cough/ fever, so he went and got tested for Covid and tested positive on Sept 2nd. Being fully vaccinated we weren't too worried. After keeping a low grade fever and feeling bad for several days we called his docs office and he was put on oral antibiotics and steroids. (I didn't know what monoclonal antibodies were at this time and his doc never offered them). A cpl days later he became short of breath and O2 sats dropped to low 80s so off to hospital we went. He was admitted to Mercy Fairfield on Sept 9th. By this time I had found out about monoclonal antibodies and knew there was only a ten day window, but since he was put on O2 as soon as being admitted to hospital he no longer qualified for the med.

We have been at the hospital ever since. Nick was in isolation until Sept 23rd. He turned 37 in hospital room alone. As soon as isolation precautions were lifted I have been at his side as much as possible. As hard as he fought his body was taking a toll. On Sunday Sept 26th in an emergency situation Nick was placed on ventilator. Nick had told me and his Mom that he thought he might need to go on the vent and rest. He was actually consoling me before it happened. He told me he was still going to be ok and I believe that.

UPDATE:

Late last night, Nick was accepted as a transfer to Ohio State Hospital in Columbus. He was air cared here around midnight. He is going to be evaluated as a POSSIBLE candidate for lung transplant. Thank you all for all of your continued support to my family and I. I am overwhelmed with emotions right now. Please continue to pray for healing. We truly love and appreciate all of you!

ISSUES FOR 6 MONTHS

Jess Finney is organizing this fundraiser.

Created October 2, 2021

Medical, Illness & Healing

Hi all,

My name is Jess, I'm setting up this Go Fund Me Page to raise some much needed funds for a dear friend of mine Ellie Webster who has been through her fair share of medical trauma and financial loss.

In March of this year at just 27 years old, Ellie's life has changed drastically and as a result has spent the last six months battling to recover her health and get back to living a normal as possible life.

After receiving a vaccine, Ellie experienced multi organ failure and spent many weeks in hospital including time in the ICU, her kidneys were operating at 4% and her liver levels were over 100x that of healthy levels. She underwent CRRT and dialysis to help her kidneys and liver recover from the damage.

Ellie has spent thousands of dollars in Medical care, equipment and appointments to try and maintain her quality of life. She has been left with permanent hearing loss, severe fatigue, POTS (causing dizziness, tachycardia, and fainting spells), ongoing allergic reactions as her immune system has been unable to settle down, and many other health issues.

Hi I'm Asheeq and I had a stroke on the 30th July 2021. I am a full-time single father to my two boys Aidan (15) and Ayman (13). I am 44 years old and have always lived a healthy lifestyle, no smoking and drinking whilst also being physically active.

Since the stroke, my right side isn't very functional and my body is covered in pains. Work has become somewhat of a myth as I struggle to take care of myself and my kids. Help me pay for my day to day costs as I recover so that I can keep a roof over our heads and hopefully not become homeless. We live in London and so costs are high and getting higher.

Jennifer Johnson is organizing this fundraiser.

Kenny is suffering from side effects following his first dose of Covid -19 vaccine he received January 2021. He has not been working since this started. After many months of hospital visits, various types of doctor visits, and numerous scans/procedures/bloodwork we finally found a treatment that can help him. We have insurance that has covered most of our medical needs, however, this treatment is not covered by insurance. This involves travel to Los Angeles and a series of treatments. Kenny has made it his mission to help others in this same position since he has learned so much along this unthinkable journey.

6 FULLY INJECTED FAMILY MEMBERS SICK

Douglas Stockstad is organizing this fundraiser.

Hello, I am Douglas. In the past 30 days my family has been hit extremely hard by Covid. In total 6 people have been affected by this. My dad (fully vaccinated), mom, brother, step-sister, step-mom (fully vaccinated), and sister-in-law all became positive. The crazy thing about this is that my brother, sister-in-law and mom live in Austin TX. area and my dad, step-mom and step-sister (was in MO is now in WV) are in the St. Joseph MO. area. My mom is recovering in Austin and looks like she will recover over time but is in need of dialysis. She also has 2 dogs that we have been trying to find help with but everyone is maxed out as far as places to take care of them so I flew down here to Austin to help my brother because he contracted COVID while trying to help our mom and in turn his wife contracted COVID and now she is fighting for her life and currently on a vent. They need to do dialysis but she is only at about 85% O2 and they worry about turning her over on to her back and that O2 dropping.

My dad (fully vaccinated) in St. Joseph was doing...ok...when I came to Austin on the 16th but now they are showing his lungs to be 'Honey combed' from the COVID, essentially scared, on the sides and the bottom and only a some of his lungs working for him to breath. He is able to breath and move around but he has to be on "Hy-Flo" O2. The doctor told us today that they will keep trying and working on my dad as long as we want but they are not super optimistic that the treatments they are trying will work and he will probably go to a nursing home that can give him HY-Flo and in end up in the end just being on hospice care.

Hey friends, anyone who knows me knows I'm not one to really ask for help, but everybody needs some help sometimes and shouldn't be ashamed to ask. I am a full-time student and single mother. I usually work on my days off from school. Back in June I lost my job due to no fault of my own. I applied for unemployment, but no one has responded to my claim, emails, or voicemails. I was unable to find a comparable position until recently, and it took all of my savings to stay afloat. Last week, my fall semester started, and I found a new job close to home. Unfortunately, I also caught covid last week, despite being fully vaccinated, and I have been very sick. This forced me to quarantine from school and postpone my start date until I'm feeling better and no longer at risk of infecting others. My daughter is good and has everything she needs for school, but another month of bills is rapidly approaching. Any amount will help, and any help to just get my head above the water would be greatly appreciated.

Her oldest son, 11, suffers from both obesity and severe autism with significant impulsivity, and her youngest, 9, is autistic with epilepsy. During the pandemic she had the impossible task of homeschooling them and working full time, often staying up long past 10pm to ensure everyone got the support they needed.

Being a single mother under ordinary circumstances is challenging, but a few weeks ago - despite being fully vaccinated and being so careful - both the boys and Sheba became ill with covid. I listened from a thousand miles away as she struggled to coordinate care for her boys while being very sick herself. So when the most recent phone call came, and I heard that small, stressed voice, I braced myself: her 190-pound 11-year-old had been admitted to the hospital because of low oxygen levels, she told me, and she couldn't be with him because of a hospital COVID policy.

No mother should have to be separated from her child, but certainly not when her child is ill and all alone in a covid isolation room.

ICU

Courtney Craner is organizing this fundraiser.

Susan Ward is an assistant at the Nampa School District Family Community Resource Centers. She spends her days helping families make sure they have food, clothes, and a place to live. She loves her students so much and often spends her own time and money to help them. Unfortunately, her job placed her in an active community setting, which caused her to get Covid-19-despite being fully vaccinated.

My mom, Susan, was admitted to the hospital on the morning of Monday, September 27th. When she arrived at the ER, they discovered that not only did she have Covid-19, but her blood pressure was low, her oxygen was around 80% and one of her kidneys had slowly started to stop working. She was immediately admitted to the ICU. After lots of medication and oxygen therapy, they were able to get her more stable.

As of lunch time on Wednesday, September 29, she had been moved from the ICU to another part of the hospital. The medical team was happy to share that she is making progress, but told us that it will continue to be slow moving. The funds from this GoFundMe page will be used to help pay medical bills and expenses that will come from her stay in the hospital. We would love for her to be able to eventually come home, when she is ready, and to have time to heal with little stress. Knowing that some of her expenses are paid for will help her relax and take the time she needs to heal.

Pawpaw, his wife and son all caught COVID around the same time, his wife and son became ill but didn't require hospitalization. After seeing how sick they got, pawpaw wasn't going to just sit around and feel crummy so he continued to be active, washing his cars and working around his property in hopes that he could work the illness out. Unfortunately one night his cough got the best of him and he couldn't seem to catch his breath. His wife convinced him to go to the hospital .... Unfortunately he never came home despite being fully vaccinated. After being in the hospital for 2 weeks, his oxygen levels still weren't improving and they moved him to the ICU and placed him on a ventilator. Unfortunately his kidneys shut down and stopped working. He was given 24-48 hours to live. He was unable to speak and was not comfortable. The Gus family made arrangements to have him be sent home on hospice in hopes that he would have a chance to see some family since ICU visitation was limited due to Covid Elizabeth Reneau is organizing this fundraiser on behalf of Cynthia Reneau.

Cindy is a loving mother, grandmother and friend to many. She does for others far more than she does for herself. Recently she has (despite being fully vaccinated and following all safety protocols) been diagnosed with COVID and, due to numerous complications, spent the last week in the hospital recovering. She is still in the hospital rehabilitating and regaining the strength to return home. Sadly, this has of course left Cindy unable to work and she will be unable to work for the coming days and weeks while she recovers in the hospital and at home. Because she was working many jobs in the gig economy she has no paid time off. Humbly, we are asking for some assistance to be able to put all of her focus on her COVID recovery.

MODERNA- HEART ISSUES

Lindsey Partridge

Yesterday at 11:20 AM

Heart update and celebrating first Christmas... yup you read that right!

On the heart side.... I'm feeling vindicated now that to date Sweden, Denmark, Finland, Ireland and now Iceland suspended use of M*** due to Cardiac issues, in Ireland and Iceland its for everyone, not just under 30. This makes me scared too... because there isn't clear diagnoses. I had Mx 2. Yes some people are diagnosed with myocarditis (thank God that's not my diagnosis because normal life expectancy for that condition is up to half of all people with it are dead in 3-5yrs).

I just had an echocardiogram and am waiting for those results, and I wait for my appointment with the cardiologist.

Just a recap... all were safe, now AZ pulled, JJ pulled, M is being pulled... so why are we as a nation being so forceful and aggressive to one's who have not taken? P is the last one standing... but I fear it's a "when" not "if" scenario it gets pulled too.

I respect your decision to take or not take.

I personally feel cheated and upset. I took the pokes because I thought I was doing the right thing for my family. Now I fear my girls won't have a mom in a few years.

I share my story because on the surface it may look like "she got poked and is fine, look she rides horses"... when reality is everyday I push through the pain.... but not too hard because I don't want my heart to be over exerted. I take several supplements and vitamins to try and boost my immune system, and I pray I'll still be here for my family tomorrow since many are being found dead in their dorms/beds which means they are dying without much warning.

It's clear there is so much we don't know. There are bad outcomes on both sides (not poked and poked).

Please stop the hate, stop the divide, stop the segregation and bullying, listen to each others stories and just maybe we can get through this.

And yes, first Christmas for Mileena because my parents will be at their Florida house this winter and away for Christmas in Canada so we celebrated early.

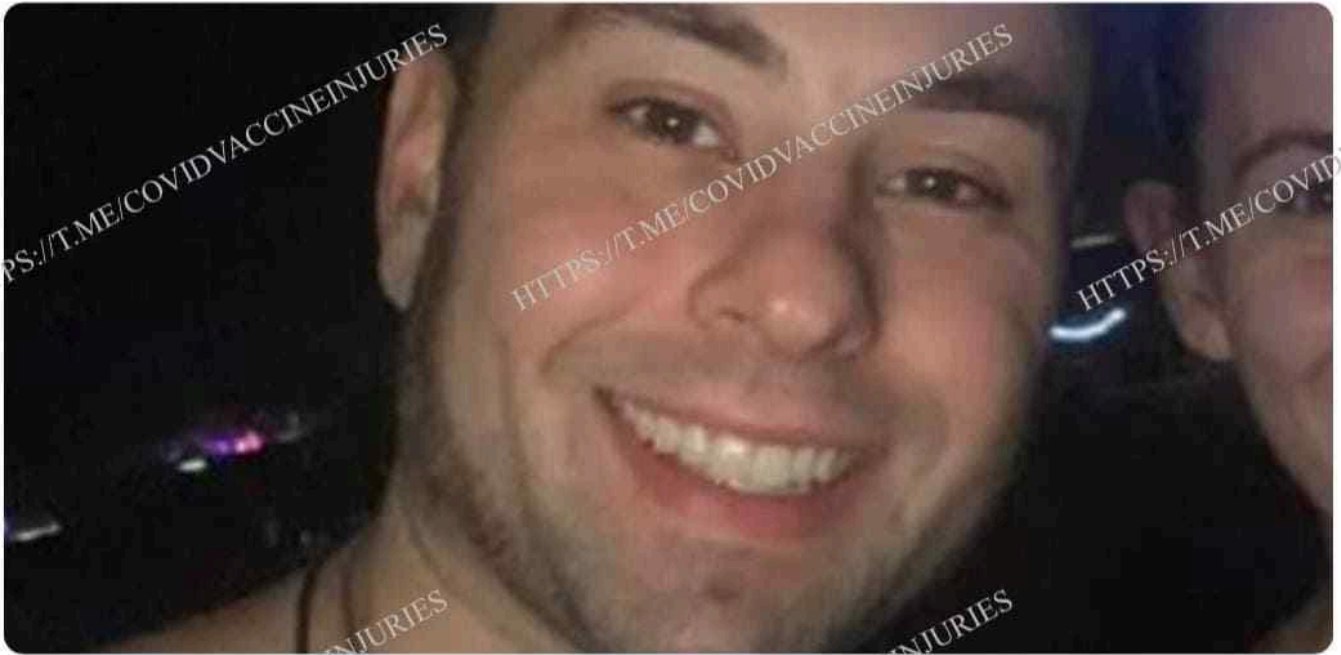

Virtual hug for everyone today.... let's spread some

I'M GONNA POST THIS TO MAKE PEOPLE AWARE:

I don't care if I get banned from Facebook, but I will share my mom's vaccine story!

She had just turned 73, because of Covid and all the pressure she kept hearing from everyone she decided to get her Moderna Vaccine. After her first shot, she was relatively fine...no side effects. April 2nd she went in to get her 2nd shot, so she did. Within 24 hours she felt dizzy, fainted and passed out. Woke up some time later, fell down again. This time cutting her forehead open, she called my brother in law. Thank God he answered his phone! Him, my sister and nephew all piled in the car and rushed over. Found her bleeding and semi-coherent. My brother in law decided to call an ambulance, the paramedics arrived and asked my mom how many times she fell. She said twice, the paramedics took her away asap. When she fell both times, it turns out those were mini heart-attacks. Sadly on the way to the hospital she had a major one, they immediately took her into surgery and placed a pace-maker in her but it was too late. She was gone. Passed away early, Easter morning on April 4th, 2021

This, among so many other reasons is why I will not get vaccinated against COVID-19.

Rest in peace to not just my mother who have fallen victim to the vaccine(s) but to all deaths covid related.

Dr said I absolutely should not be forced to take the vaccine until 6 months after infection. He said my body had a heavy immune response to the vaccine because I had Covid 3 months ago and my body had a heavy reaction because it recognized the shot as Covid. Said I should have never been forced to take it so early. I asked about the "medical exemption" and he just stared at me. Also he said he wants me to go in for an ultrasound tomorrow to rule out possible blood clots. He said I will definitely be feeling like this for another 3 days and maybe longer. Side effects may last for months because the shot takes 3 months to get out of your system.

Help! 😞 Has anyone had internal itching throughout their body after the vaccine? About two hours after my second Pfizer vaccine I started itching all over. Antihistamines didn't help nor a steroid shot. No external rash. Itching internally everywhere from head to toe. Itching and sometimes sensation like something is crawling on my skin.

I'm still suffering months later. I've had allergy tests, nerve tests, and even a brain MRI. Doctors have no idea what's going on with me. I've been put on so many medications but none have helped. The only medication that does give me some relief makes me so drowsy that it's hard to function. Even this medication is starting to lose its effectiveness. I've been miserable since March!

COVID-19 vaccines go through many tests for safety and effectiveness and are then monitored closely.

Hello,

I receive my vaccinations at the end of March and the end of April for the second dose. I got the red circle around the vaccination site a few days after my vaccinations and then a swollen lymph node in my neck. Which is still there!! I have pain in my vaccination arm every day, lost strength in it. I also have a stabbing pain underneath my bra strap which happens several times throughout the week- my bones ache a couple times a month. Also sometimes it's hard to breathe. I was a healthy 40 year old when I got vaccinated. Anyone have anything similar? Going to the third doctor to see if I can get any answers.

Naomi Pelled

I got my third Pfizer vaccine yesterday and got the craziest headache, diarrhoea and dead arm. It's got progressively worse as today has progressed. Do you know how long til these symptoms will dissipate. I don't usually take medication of any kind.

I only got the third one because I'm traveling in 13 days time but now I'm scared this has backfired on me

I received my first dose of Moderna on Wednesday. Right after I instantly felt dizzy and very nauseous, I have a stiff neck and a lingering headache that won't go away. I came home and my arm was dead and about an hour after I lost sensation in my arm like it's numb. That feeling has now spread up into my neck and onto the left side of my face. I went to the doctor today and she was zero help. My face isn't droopy or anything but she said if my headache gets worse or I have any vision issues to go to the hospital. Has anyone else experienced this? The numbness is only on my left side which is the same side as my vax.

. I never wanted this dang vaccine I will explain why I ended up getting it. This was me on September 22nd at the emergency room at the hospital in Toronto called "Sunnybrook" I was in this hospital because I was experiencing severe chest pains. It felt like a knife stabbing me. I never wanted a COVID 19 vaccination but I had dosage number 1 of Pfizer on September 10th. I was pressured into this vaccine by concerned family members and also because I wanted to be able to attend my university campus. I wound up visiting two hospitals total. My hometown hospital in Brampton and then the hospital in Toronto. I literally thought I was going to die of a heart attack, that's how much pain I was in. My chest pains have finally gone away. I ended up having an EKG, chest x ray, and finally an echocardiogram. The hospital doctors said my heart is still healthy and that I was experiencing panic attacks. I don't know what to believe to this day. I am just trying to explain my reasons for why, I won't be getting my last shot, for why I now have to quit my university class, my dreams are down the drain. More than likely, I will not be getting a medical exemption because I quote from my family doctor "your heart isn't inflamed, so I can't give you a medical exemption" I'm broken and devastated beyond belief. 🥺😞💔💔

Hi everyone, hope you are all good. Since I've been using the Headymax (this one <https://headymax.com/products/headymax>) Vaccine symptoms' intensity has really decreased, and now I can state that after 5 weeks I feel regenerated.

In my case, I especially suffered from chronic headaches (with spinning/swaying sensation), throat soreness, dizziness, brain fog, neck pain and vertigo. In short, a terrible situation.

I've waited to suggest this one even if it was suggested by my trusted doctor, but after one month, I can strongly affirm this has really changed my condition.

Hope it will change yours too.

God bless you all, and have a speed recovery

I'm curious to hear about other peoples experience and reactions with the Pfizer vaccine before I make the decision to have my second Jab.

My son went to hospital with chest pains and purple coloured skin today a week after his first jab of Pfizer, it was confirmed the vaccine gave him pericarditis on the heart. He is on anti inflammatory medication and has been told when he recovers he will have to now be given the two doses of Astra Zeneca instead. I had my first Pfizer shot on the same day as my son, 5th Oct. I had an instant reaction. As soon as the needle left my arm I had a rush of burning heat flow up my chest, through my throat and through my nose. I asked the nurse if this was normal and she immediately left me to go get my doctor. I started coughing as my throat felt irritated. My voice went husky, my mouth tasted metallic, then my tongue and lips went numb but didn't swell. The doctor stood by ready with an epipen. My whole body felt hot so they checked my temperature and it was 37.9 and my blood pressure went up to 170/100 about 45mins later my fingers swelled with fluid in both hands and my temperature dropped to 36.6 and I was shivering, the nurse touched my hand and it was cold. I was monitored for 1 1/2 hours before I could go home. The following day I had dizziness and was completely lethargic to the point of slurring when I spoke. I had pain in my eyes and a sensation of a nose bleed but it never bled. My eyes continually wept.

I had joint pain in my left elbow and right knee.

The nurse called me 2 days later regarding my appointment for my second dose, told me it would be fine to have it despite my original reaction and despite the fact symptoms are usually worse with the second dose. She told me she spoke with the doctor and she suggested to take an antihistamine before I came in.

Jen Fairbourne could use some support. She has been wrestling with an autoimmune reaction, called Guillain-Barre Syndrome (GBS), to the J&J vaccine since March (2021). It has had a devastating impact. Yet, she's continued to work as much as possible, supporting homeless youth programs in the Twin Cities. She's also worked hard every day - to carry on - despite the pain, exhaustion, and seemingly endless battle with her own body. She's got a small and mighty team of close friends/family helping her day-to-day.

Against my better judgement I had the first Pfizer vaccine shot on August 27th because I am a healthcare worker, 10 days later I was admitted to the hospital with idiopathic bilateral pulmonary emboli, better known to the laymen as blot clots in both lungs for no apparent reason. I am a relatively healthy 54 year old female, thyroid and high blood pressure, so there is no underlying condition to have created blood clots. I am wondering if anyone else has had this experience? If so, how long after your shot were you diagnosed. Did you report this to the CDC or VAERS? If not, please do so, the doctors are not reporting it as a vaccine side effect.

On August 30th my sister Courtney received the J&J vaccine. The following days she noticed her legs felt a little tingly from time to time but didn't think too much of it. On September 6th she was rushed to Westchester Medical as she was paralyzed from the chest down. Courtney was diagnosed with Guillain-barre Syndrome which is a rare side effect of the Covid vaccine.

Courtney is currently at Northern Dutchess Hospital in Rhinbeck NY and receiving OT and PT rehabilitation. She is just 35 years old and is unable to work. We are unsure when she will be able to return to work at this time. If you could please help in any way it would be greatly appreciated! Thank you!

After nearly Seven months, during which I have shared some details in private to some of you , I have finally decided to share and make it personal public information: I had extreme reactions to both doses of the COvid vaccine_ (MOderna), which I received on March 17, 2021 then June 17, 2021:

Both have badly harmed my health. I was completely healthy prior to the shot. Worked full time, own a farm, rescued dogs, active, no health issues, clean overall bill of health (except some neck/back pains here and there).

I am an avid outdoor woman, that loves being active. I have travelled around over 35 states within the US, camping, hiking over National and State parks, travelled to over 7 different countries in Europe, by myself backpacking. I am brave, strong person, and I wont let this 'injury' take me down.

As of now I appear to have an unnamed mysterious disorder (variation of Gillian Bare?) which causes overall nerve inflammation. One week I have vestibular migraine. The other hemiplegic migraine. Another POTS, and the list goes on. The extreme inflammation (cytokine storm) affects my brain: how I think, how I speak, how I walk. Slowed me down completely. I can't even drive. It makes basic tasks hard to understand, hard to accomplish.

Hi, my name is Crystal Savage, I am funding for my friend Theresa Hague, who is recovering from a severe autoimmune reaction to the Covid-19 vaccine. She became ill Feb/March 2021 and after receiving the 2nd vaccine she was hospitalized. She remained in the hospital from March through June due to a diagnosis of Guillain Barre Syndrome (GBS) as a result of the vaccine. During this time she also developed atrial fib, CHF, as well as, suffering multiple strokes. This along with GBS caused weakness and numbness in her legs which resulted in her being confined to a wheelchair. Unfortunately, at the end of her 12 week FMLA leave her place of employment let her go which resulted in no income.

Kenny is suffering from side effects following his first dose of Covid -19 vaccine he received January 2021. He has not been working since this started. After many months of hospital visits, various types of doctor visits, and numerous scans/procedures/bloodwork we finally found a treatment that can help him. We have insurance that has covered most of our medical needs, however, this treatment is not covered by insurance. This involves travel to Los Angeles and a series of treatments. Kenny has made it his mission to help others in this same position since he has learned so much along this unthinkable journey.

Hi. My name is Jane and my grandma's currently in the hospital due to her critical condition. She has what they call the Guillain-Barré syndrome. It's a condition where tingling and weakening sensations can occur and may lead to paralysis.

My grandma's got the worst case of Guillain-Barré which she started to experience paralysis that proceeded to her entire body which she is now entirely paralyzed and receiving tube feeding. She cannot move her body and cannot be in a wheelchair either.

She is in a Korean hospital where the law does not allow any of her family members to visit her due to the extreme risks of spreading covid in a populated hospital. She started showing these symptoms 5 days after taking the Fizzor vaccine. We tried to see if Korean government officials can help us financially, but because she got the vaccine voluntarily, they said there is nothing they could do to help.

Here is the link for her Korean news article on a Korean medicine news website.

Vaccine did not go so well for me

On Thursday Sept 9 I got my first Phiser shot, went well I didn't even feel the needle ..felt fine all day afterwards

Sept 10 felt under the weather, arm hurt pretty bad at injection site, overall feeling poor, I had flu like symptoms for a couple of days but they cleared up.

About Sept 15 I noticed some discomfort in my left inner ear, I assumed it was maybe a ear infection from wearing headphones too much working out, each day this feeling got worse and worse till the point I had to go see a doctor Friday the 17, my whole side of my head was now aching and I was feeling like I must have had a pretty substantial infection based off how it felt..Very much like the day before a really bad flu breaks, where if you lean forward or move your head too quickly you get hit with a instant reactionary migraine, I could even feel my footsteps..each step created a wave of pain in my head. My family doctor doesn't work Fridays so I had to go to a walking clinic.. doctor there said I must have pulled a tendon in my neck working which made no sense to me.

Saturday I woke up with a bad headache and took some tylenol, went into work and was doing OK till right after lunch when I got violently sick, coming out both ends at the same time.. I had to leave work and was barely able to make it home. By this time my head was killing me and even talking was causing irritation so all I could do is sleep it off with a few magic cookies

Sunday was the same thing, pressure in my head..and reactive migraine to almost anything..walking, laughing, coughing..the light from my computer monitor was making me nauseous and triggering vomiting and retching.

Monday went to my family doctor at 3PM, she looked me over and said no infection but most likely inflammation from the vaccine, based off my history of reactive allergy and immune system issues she says my body isn't liking the antibodies the vaccine response is generating.. only thing we can do is take Tylenol and let it run its course and if it gets really bad to go to the ER. extreme caution against second vaccine shot

Today I'm starting to feel more normal, the reactive nausea is gone and the headaches are only 30% of what there were at the worst..

Left side was more affected because its the side of the shot, you can track the inflamed/painful tissue right from the shot site all the way up my neck into my temple area, back of my jaw was really bad at one point and it was even making my teeth hurt...felt like a massive infection in my head.

I was unable to do much of anything, couldn't work out, couldn't surf the web or watch TV without wanting to puke..definitely a very unpleasant experience that's caused me to miss a whole pile of work

Neal Smith

September 27 at 11:26 PM ·

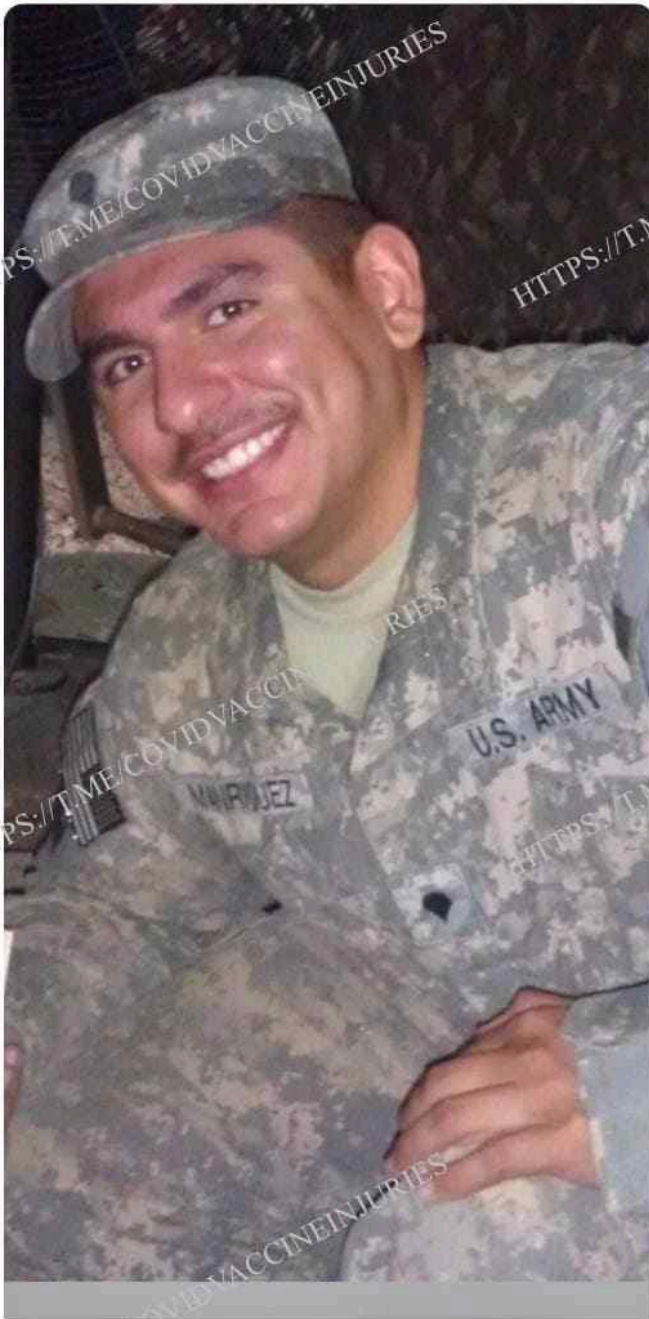

Well I'm still not 100% from my first Phiser shot... I keep getting sunlight activated migraines with a whole pile of Tinnitus .. I went to work today but after a few hours in my window office my head was killing me and I was starting to feel sick. I got the shot Sept 9 and have been not right every since...I've had other health issues over the years but never headaches and migraines, or at least not chronic like this where its day after day for 2 weeks straight. When it hits my eyes tend water and its difficult to focus my vision on anything and I tend to just put my face into my hands to block the light out. I have been vocal against these shots and have been since day one, myself I did not want to take this shot due to the fact I felt it would react badly and sadly it has. Even as I type this I have a serious buzzing in my ears that just wont go away.

Funds raised will be used to help my brother Jose and his family get thru a difficult and uncertain road to recovery ahead. My brother is a 7 year veteran of The Denver Police Department and a 12 year veteran of the Army National Guard but his most important job is taking care of his 4 children and being a loving husband, son, brother and uncle. My brother was given the mandatory COVID vaccine required by the City of Denver. The mandatory mandate stated either get the vaccine or face termination from the job he loves so much! He received the mandatory vaccine on August 22, 2021 and immediately started having a bad reaction. Since receiving the vaccine he has not been able to return to work and his future is uncertain as we do not know how long his road to recovery will be. As the sole income provider for his family of 6. He was very involved with all of his children's sports and activities. After receiving his vaccine my brother has developed severe tremors, he has trouble sleeping due to the amount of pain in his legs, he can't walk without the worry of falling due to his legs giving out and has actually fallen a number of times. Any funds raised will be used to help in his medical aid so that we can look to outside doctors for examination as his workmen comp doctors may not be able to help. In addition funds will be used in the event that he is wrongfully terminated due to his current health issues. Please consider a donation in any amount and all funds will go directly to Jose and his family. We thank you very much for your time and prayers! WE GIVE THANKS IN NAME OF THE LORD AMEN.

On Sunday, October 3rd, 2021 at 3:08pm, my children's father Steven L. Bradley, my friend and my ex-husband who I was married to for 23 years, suddenly passed away.

He passed away suddenly while dealing with a sinus infection and he was diagnosed weeks prior with covid. They are looking into the possibility that he passed away from an embolism after having the first covid vaccine shot. At this time, we still don't know the cause of death however.

Steve passed away at home in front of his children. They are traumatized by what they saw.

Steve was a Firefighter since he was age 18. He started on Limestone fd, then went on to Herscher FD, then he went on to Western Springs FD as a full-time Firefighter/Paramedic, he then joined Reddick FD and finally Dwight FD.

His children are Steven (23), Chase (10), and Adalynn (7). As well as Erica who is Steven's fiance. The money raised will be used for funeral expenses and expenses for his 3 children.

Thank you from the bottom of our hearts for donating!!! We certainly appreciate it more than you know!!

Brother in laws new electric wheelchair which has had to be funded through a just giving page. Thank you to all who contributed. Just a pity it couldn't be provided for him after becoming paralysed through no fault of his own after having the vaccine.

Ben is due to be home from hospital at some point next month after spending the last 8 months in there.

. Back to a totally unsuitable house to meet his needs. He will be living and sleeping in the only downstairs room they have apart from the kitchen. He will not have access to the toilet which is upstairs or running water. It's just so unfair that he and his partner and 3 children will have to live in separate rooms, kids upstairs in main bedroom which will become their lounge, wife in the kitchen preparing meals, collecting water for Ben and carers popping in a couple of hours a day.

Ben was perfectly fit and healthy till he had his vaccine.

No one wants to know, no one can help.

Please share. I may be risking getting into trouble for this post but why, oh why should it be swept under the carpet? Maybe Ben isn't alone!

13-year-old Region One boy dies two hours after 2nd dose Pfizer vaccine; Investigation launched

By News Source Guyana on October 4, 2021

The Ministry of Health has confirmed the death of a 13-year-old Moruca boy, two hours after he was administered a second dose of the Pfizer vaccine that is being used to vaccinate children against COVID-19.

A full investigation of the teen's death has been ordered and a post-mortem examination of his body is to be conducted.

According to the Ministry of Health, the young boy was administered the first dose of the Pfizer vaccine three weeks ago.

He received his second dose of the vaccine at 2:00pm today. He was observed for 20 minutes after taking the vaccine and there were no complaints. He was allowed to go back home.

Two hours after he returned home, the young boy collapsed and was rushed to the Kumaka Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

"We urge citizens not indulge in speculation and await the results of the post-mortem and other investigations.

The Ministry of Health has extended sympathy to the family of the young boy.

Guyana started administering the Pfizer vaccine to children close to a month ago. There were complaints of children falling ill after receiving their first dose, but the side effects were not fatal.

My dear friend, buddy and guitar tech for 20 years, Fran Stueber died yesterday suddenly of Covid. Both on and offstage I depended on him for so much. My family loved him as did I. He was so proud of his wife and 3 boys as they were of him. I'm numb.

Funerals & Memorials

Hey everyone! Thanks for visiting and taking the time to read this. My dad recently passed away from complications of Covid. He was fully vaccinated and begin having complications shortly thereafter. In July, he begin a string of Emergency Room visits. When they thought he was getting better, he took a turn for the worst. His last days were spent hooked up to machines. The hospital released him after being in there for over six weeks straight. It was only hours after his release that he complained of respiratory issues. He couldn't breathe. He collapsed in his living room and died. He had to be resuscitated via CPR by my sister, Allison. He was taken to the ER for the last time and was resuscitated three more times before he finally let go. My sister is having the hardest time dealing with the loss of our father at this time. Not only does she need therapy for what she personally saw and had to do, she also needs help coping. I am a single mom and flight attendant and not always able to be by my mom and my sister's side living miles away from each other. This weighs heavy on my heart.

Hi I am andres betts and my mother died of COVID-19 on September 4, 2021, we miss her so much. I contracted COVID 19 on August 7 despite being fully vaccinated at the time, but was hospitalized for 7 days with acute pneumonia, but was out of work for 3 weeks recovering from the disease. I still have a mortgage and can't pay it due to my illness. I need some assistance until I can get back to work and pay the bills and keep my house.

HEART ISSUES & POSSIBLY GUILLAIN BARRE SYNDROME

Danielle McGee

October 18 at 7:57 PM

Little update on my mom. She is sicker and sicker. She had her first Functional medicine appointment about a week ago and then had a ton of labs done. Around 40 labs on top of the 40 she's already had. So about 80 labs. We are pretty sure that this is Guillain-Barré. She has 99% of the symptoms. As far as a test goes for that only be done by a neurologist. Last time she went to the neurologist he said nothing was wrong with her and she's fine. Today she had a cardiologist appointment. They are very worried about her heart. Her heart rate when resting is often around 120bpm which is high. It's due to pain. The cardiologist looked over all of her tests and was in shock how many infections she has. She's sick. Like very very sick. She has lost 20 lbs in a month. Trying to be her main caregiver is hard because life is insane for me right now but I am constantly trying so hard to make her as comfortable as possible. She is depressed and feeling hopeless. How could they let this happen and then turn a blind eye and call it RA and inject her with many more poisons? She's on the strongest narcotic, nerve blocker and a detox. For months she was ignored and told she's fine until we finally landed in the ER the last time and we went for another approach which is functional medicine. Now these other doctors are actually listening a little but for some reason will not give us a Gillian barre test because... 🙏 Please pray for her.

If you donated to her and would like a bracelet can you please message me with your address? We are going to work on them for the next few months but promise to get them out. This is literally going to financially burden her for the rest of her life but lately I don't even think she is going to make it. All the donations will help ease some of that burden. Each doctor who sees all of these tests and her condition is very concerned. She's to the point where she is having to sleep on the couch because she can not get back upstairs scares me so much. Pray that we can get her life back. My kids are already devastated about their late Gigi to cancer as we are too and losing another mother and grandparent would crush us. If you have no clue what I'm referencing to, she had The Pfizer vaccine and got an injury from it. This has been devastating and I just wish i could fix her. Pray that god has a good plan. Thank you to all that ask for updates. Send her a message or anything if you'd like. She needs all the positive she can get because she is in a very rough spot mentally. ❤️ #protectmyfamily #protectyourfamily

DIED AFTER FIRST DOSE

Update, my mom has passed. Watching this poison slowly shut her body down was one of the hardest things I could have seen. She passed away in our home, no took her final breaths in no pain, just comfort as I held her and told her it was ok to go. I am deeply thankful for our nurse that was with us the last couple of days, making sure medications were right and assuring us we were doing best by her. My mother hugged me with her own will forever the last time Tuesday night. I lost her to just sleep and breathing after that. 10/6 @ 840pm she passed away. This is the last phot I have of her with me. I will cherish this hug, it means more as she tried to hold me and comfort me, she was scared but came to because I was crying, she heard me and held me. I never want to see anyone go through this. Vaccine or not it's our choice and this vaccine killed my mother.

Hello! I haven't given many updates with my health lately. So while I can focus on what I'm doing, I thought I would let you all know. Everything you see below (previous status), is still going on (see below if not sure what I'm talking about).

It's going on 10 months since I had Covid. The long hauler symptoms didn't stop (head pain, brain fog, fatigue & neuro pain). All of the problems I'm dealing with now has been going on since April when I got the vax (hopefully Facebook doesn't shadow ban me again for certain keywords) I'm still dealing with all of the side effects / symptoms. I did drive a car for the first time a couple weeks ago. My wife and I got caught in the rain, so I told her let me try driving to come pick you up (2 blocks). Well my response time was way off and I didn't feel comfortable at all driving. I feel I did okay, but really scared me. I honestly don't know if I will ever drive again. It just takes one trigger and I black out/dizzy/stunned (tinnitus). The last few weeks have been so rough. There have been days where I spent the whole day in bed because of head pain / confusion. There are days like yesterday where I feel like I'm dealing with ADHD. I wander off and don't tell anyone. My family will tell me to stay inside and relax. I will lay down for what feels like hours (reality 5 minutes) and head back outside. I don't remember anything that is told to me when in that state of mind. Most days I don't remember the prior day. The memory loss / confusion is really bad. I have noticed that more people are coming forward with issues related to the vax. Especially Project Veritas. They went undercover and exposed their practices. I try to research as much as I can, but my brain can't process reading long paragraphs. I would have a hard time reading this message back & remembering what I read. What has been making me sad is I'm missing out on so much in life. My life has changed drastically and my family is my caregivers. I hate having to ask my them for help. It also makes me sad seeing all of this unrest in the nation. So much dividing going on with the vax and non vaxxed. You have corporate airlines lying about their employees / vaccine mandates (Southwest). I don't like the shunning that is taken place. Not everyone can be vaccinated.

ISSUES FOR 10 MONTHS

My health seems like lately has been declining due to Covid/Vax. I have good moments, but haven't had a good day health wise since December. I push myself every single day, but the same side effects and symptoms take over my life. This has been hard on my whole family. I'm thankful for my wife & kids who had to step up and be caregivers. During all of this my wife had a full hysterectomy done & is still in the healing stage. So she could still use your prayers.

I never thought I would share my story, but here I am. As I sat and thought about the vaccine, and talking to my Husband I was nervous and didn't really want to get it. After seeing everyone else get it and be okay, I decided it was okay to receive it. On December 21st, 2020 I received my first dose of the Pfizer vaccine, later receiving my second dose on January 11th, 2021. I had a sore arm from the first one and got sick on the second, it seemed to be the trend with my Coworkers at the time so I just thought it was the normal for everyone. Fast forward to March 27th, 2021 I was at my normal weekend shift at my job as a Respiratory Therapist, I texted my Husband that I did not feel well and that he was my emergency contact in case something were to happen. So I walked myself up to the ICU, where my coworkers sat. I asked one of them if they minded taking my blood pressure, so she did. It was a little on the soft side. She went to the back room and got me some juice and a string cheese. I ate/drank those, but still felt limp. Next thing I knew I was in the emergency room, nurses coming from all over. I was told I was having seizures and that they needed to transfer me to a larger hospital. I had a total of about 25 seizures while in my 3 hours in the emergency room. They got me out pretty quickly, and in the ambulance I went. I had three seizures in about a 10 minute span, the EMT called the larger hospital I was on my way to and was told to intubate me. As a Respiratory Therapist, that is not a good thought for me. The EMT asked to try one more thing and if it didn't work then he would intubate. Well the tranquilizer the EMT gave me worked (thank goodness). I was sent to the larger hospital's ICU, after two and a half days in the ICU a normal EEG with seizure activity and a normal MRI later I was sent home. After getting home, I went from being an independent and healthy 22 year old to being quite dependent on my Husband for care. Never in my life did I think a shower chair would have to be used at my age. My Husband having to help wash my hair because I was so weak, him physically having to hold me down so I didn't throw myself off the bed at 3 in the morning, or having to grab my arm and help walk me around so I didn't fall down. After visiting the larger hospital I went to two more even larger. Everyone still giving me the same answers of unknown cause, unknown cause, and once again unknown cause. After months and months of pain

Description

He was in his usual state of good health. 5 days after receiving the vaccine, he complained of brief unilateral shoulder pain (unclear to family which shoulder), which the family attributed to a musculoskeletal source. No chest pains, shortness of breath, or palpitations. He was playing with 2 friends at a community pond, swinging from a rope swing, flipping in the air, and landing in the water feet first. He surfaced, laughed, told his friends "Wow, that hurt!", then swam toward shore, underwater as was his usual routine. The friends became worried when he did not re-emerge. His body was retrieved by local authorities more than an hour later.

This ain't normal. This is a nightmare. I wish my son and I were the same again. We were fully vaccinated. We never had COVID symptoms. I don't have anymore doubts that the vaccine damages the heart muscle. I used to run 4 miles almost everyday. I had good blood pressure before. I don't know if we ever going to recover from this. Makes me mad that I took the vaccine and made my son, mother and father get it too. My father and my mother seem to be fine so far. This is torture.

PERICARDITIS & DVT

Shelly Sytsma

October 13 at 9:06 PM · 🌐

So I've had a lot of questions about symptoms of my DVT. Two days after my second dose of the vaccine I ended up in the hospital with pericarditis. They ran blood work and I tested positive for the D-dimer. This is a marker for a blood clot. They did a ct scan of my lungs and ruled out a dvt and sent me home. A month later I went for my normal run and when I got done I felt this immediate heaviness and pain in the back of my calf. It didn't feel like a muscle strain or a break and was unlike any other running injury I've ever felt. But we were to fly to Alaska the next day and I didn't have time to go see a doc. While in Alaska we hiked higher elevations and climbed flights of stairs and I kept saying that this calf pain was unlike anything before. A week later we flew home and when we returned the calf pain worsened. I work at a physical therapy office and when I returned to work I had my boss look at it. There was no redness or swelling but she said she wouldn't touch it without ruling out a blood clot first and encouraged me to go to the doctor immediately. I didn't go that day but the next morning my calf had a red spot and was hot to the touch. I called the doc and they did an ultrasound immediately and it was in fact a dvt. They sent me home with blood thinners that day but suffered a pulmonary embolism the next day and another one the following day. In a world pre covid they would have put me in the hospital and given me blood thinners iv immediately and monitored it. Now with short staffing and so many beds being used up...they sent me home with those blood thinners and clearly it wasn't enough. So...looking back, if you test positive for d-dimers have them rule out any dvt's before sending you home. If you suffer any heaviness in the calf or arm or leg that wasn't warranted from an injury, rule out a blood clot immediately. Don't wait as long as I did if you are suffering any of those symptoms. If there is any redness or swelling, assume it's a blood clot. Also check into family genetics to see if you are predisposed for blood clots. There is a protein they can easily test for. Just call me "lucky"! #protectmyfamily #protrctyourfamily #vaccinesideffects #lucky Crazy how quickly I went from a super healthy 19yr old kid who's never had any form of health issues ever. Working a full time job, training, and riding horses everyday. To having it all taken away from me after my second Pfizer vaccination. My lungs are full of blood clots & hearts under stress. My new normal of now having a pulmonologist dr, cardiologist dr, blood tests, full body scans, ultra sounds on my heart & lungs. Over vaccination I got to do the right thing- & I never wanted to get because I was genuinely scared of running the risk. I wish I had never gotten it & I could have my health body back.

JOSEPH MISHKIN

Renée M. Grossman is with Rosa Mishkin and Just Joey

October 12 at 10:12 PM

It is with a heavy heart that I share the passing of my nephew— Joseph Sidney Mishkin, a completely healthy 35 YoA, hard working single father of twins. Joey, as he was called, suffered a massive heart attack hours after getting the #pfizer vaccine. Joey didn't want to get the vaccine but he also did not want to get fired from his job for not getting it, so he did.

Hours later, while chilling by the pool at his new home, his heart stopped. The condition, which the vaccine is reported to cause, is know as #myocarditis, which inflames, enlarges, and weakens the heart muscle to the point of sudden death.

Rescue arrived and restarted his heart but it failed again on the way to the hospital. Upon arrival, it restarted; failed; and restarted again.

Joey remained unconscious and on a ventilator for several days before doctors pronounced him brain dead.

In an effort to honor his wishes, Joey remained on a ventilator while the hospital arranged to donate his organs; however, his heart gave out a final time before being able to do so.

I pray that Joey rests in peace and his Neshama has an Aliyah. I also pray that his parents, children, fiancé and her children survive the loss; and their void is filled by the love and support of those near and far. Towards that end, would you pls reach deep down in your heart to donate to the GoFundMe account set up in his name, which you can access by clicking on the following link? <https://gofund.me/b8d8af61>

I was a healthy, 31-year-old athlete, successfully attending law school I moved to from across the country. But then, on September 6th, my life took a sudden turn.

I suffered a stroke on Labor Day, three days after the second dose of the Pfizer COVID-19 vaccine. Doctors said it was a "freak accident." I had no preexisting conditions.

Among other problems, I cannot eat or drink, I use a stomach tube, I have to walk with a cane, and my vision is doubled.

These events are forcing me to withdraw or suffer bad results in the law school I started this year. I have to spend a lot of time on my recovery, which means I don't have enough time to succeed in the rigorous environment of law school.

Hey guys! So anyone that knows me .. knows my mom. If you know her, you know how she lives life to the fullest. Sky diving for her 61st birthday, constantly traveling to experience new cultures, hiking, working at a job she loves, selflessly helping others whenever she can, taking road-trips to see me...all of this has been stripped from her. Since she got the Pfizer vaccine back in April 2021, her life completely flipped upside down. It wasn't but 45 minutes after her second shot that her body started attacking her. Diagnosed with Guillain-Barré Syndrome and CIPD she now lives in constant pain, tremors, loss of memory, inability to speak sometimes, stutters, migraines, nausea, muscle spasms, numbness in her feet to where she can't even walk sometimes without someone helping, balance issues, comprehension and concentration issues...this is her life now. My mom, battling and surviving breast cancer and a pseudomonas infection, has never experienced the pain and suffering she has endured during these last 6 months. She has overcome before and I need her to overcome again. We have been blessed to have found a Regenerative Medical Facility that's been successful in treating others in the exact same situation as my mom within one or two treatments that have immediate results. After seeing specialist after specialist, we finally have hope. Of course insurance doesn't cover this course of treatment so all costs are out-of-pocket. In the course of these months without treatment, she has already paid close to $10,000 out-of-pocket.

Woman dies 30 minutes after getting second dose of vaccine

BENGALURU, DHNS

A 36-year-old homemaker collapsed and died on the road under mysterious circumstances in Hegganahalli, Rajagopala Nagar, in North Bengaluru, on Friday morning.

Dinesh, husband of Mangala, a resident of Laxman Nagar near Kamakshipalya, has filed a complaint expressing suspicion over her sudden death. Police have registered an FIR on the complaint and are investigating the death.

In his complaint, Dinesh said Mangala had been to the Hegganahalli Government Health Centre to get the second dose of Covishield.

Mangala was back home at 11.20 am after vaccination. Police said that five minutes after returning home, she met a family friend at the marketplace to pay chit fund dues.

"Halfway through, she collapsed. Locals immediately rushed her to the nearby hospital, where she was declared brought dead," a police official said.

In his complaint, Dinesh said: "My wife was healthy and doing fine. Within half an hour of vaccination, she died of complications. I suspect Covid vaccine may have caused her death and request a thorough investigation."

A senior police official said the exact reason of the death will be known after autopsy.

80,000 'vaccine-hesitant citizens' get jab

BENGALURU, DHNS: Nearly 80,000 people who hadn't taken even a single dose of the Covid vaccine were covered during a special drive on Friday.

Municipal authorities are also focusing on people skipping the second dose. While 86% of the eligible population in Bengaluru has received the first dose of the vaccine, the percentage of fully vaccinated individuals is just 52%.

"We have been reaching out to eligible individuals due for the second dose (12 weeks or later). We are holding camps to ensure that the eligible people get the second dose on time without fail," said BBMP Chief Commissioner Gaurav Gupta.

The civic body chief expressed satisfaction at the falling numbers of Covid hospitalisation (it's down to just 10 a day now).

"We have been watching the situation and have stepped up surveillance. We are also monitoring sewage for the presence of viruses. Our aim is that there should not be any third wave of Covid-19," he said.

Vaccination of kids

With the Centre granting emergency-use authorisation to two vaccines for children, the BBMP is awaiting orders on their supply and distribution.

Gupta said that they were given to understand that there shall be separate vaccination centres for children. In the first phase, children in the 12-17 age group will be vaccinated. The later phases, if any, will cover younger children, he added.

I am 22 years old and always was a healthy young woman...

I had my doubts about this from the start, but never imagined my body would react to it this way.

On June 24, I got my first Pfizer. Besides some minor cardiovascular complaints, I didn't feel much different.

However I had a bad feeling about the whole thing when I went to get my second shot on July 16.

Turns out my intuition was right.

Shortly after this second dose it all started, first diarrhea and feeling very limp. Then burning sensations all over my skin and full body muscle twitches.

I visited the emergency room as well as a neurologist; no one could help me.

The symptoms kept coming - including sleeplessness, earworms (stuck song syndrome) so loud that I couldn't properly follow conversations, tinnitus, dizziness and extreme fatigue, shaking muscles in my arms and legs, skin rashes, panic attacks and general muscle pain.

I am still dealing with these symptoms daily - my life has been flipped upside down completely.

Hi, my name is Cindy and I'm fundraising for my medical Bills and other expenses. I lost my part-time job in the hospital that plays a vital role in my life to make ends meet. I keep 3 jobs and work 7 days a week to keep myself afloat and live decently until I have the Moderna Vaccine that turns my life upside down. An adverse effects from the first dose were breast swollen, red and itchy. Spontaneous Bruising shows up randomly all around my body, blood clotting though small in size but visible. Lymph nodes swollen in my breasts, left shoulder up to my neck near the base of skull. Also, I have nodules in my lungs which the size increases after the COVID infection. My immune system seems hay wired at this point with my Anion Gap is so low. I had a lot of doctors visits and more to come like x-rays and mammogram diagnostics due to the sudden changes of my breast that warrants the doctor to order such breast exam. As I am dealing all these adversities I ask an exemption for the 2nd dose/vaccine but it was denied due to "No immediate Anaphylactic Shock". I wrote a letter to the CDC making a plea to impose a law that gives an excuse to those who experienced an adverse effects but said they do not control the exemption rules. I made an appeal at my work hoping that they will approve my exemption citing that if they really are concerned of our well being, why wait for anaphylactic shock to happen when there will be a risk of life that involves in the process and why gave exemptions to those of Religious Beliefs that against it and most of all there is no risk of life whatsoever and no immunity either. Yet, the reason was the same and it was denied. Then ordered me to take a second dose to continue my employment

I had a bad reaction to the Moderna vaccine. 10 hours after taking the 1st dose on March 20th 2021, I developed fever of 103.5 degrees which lasted for 3 hours from 11 PM to 2 AM. At 3 AM, my temperature was normal but both of my hands swelled up. This lasted for 1 hour and then went back to normal. The next day when I woke up, I just felt generally crappy. At 11 PM that night, the 103 fever came back again. It lasted for 3 hours. This happened every night until 4/17/2021. I informed my doctor as to what my experience was four days before the second dosage was due on 4/17/2021 and asked him what he thought I should do. He said "Definitely take the 2nd shot, that I would be sick for 2 to 4 days and then everything would be great after that point." On 4/17/2021, I got the 2nd dose. At 11 PM that night, I had a fever of 104.9 that lasted for 2 days. Then, the fever dropped to 104.2 that lasted for 2 more days. Then, stayed between 99 and 103.5 for 10 to 20 hours a day ever since. I feel very fatigued, severe joint and muscle aches, shortness of breathe, increased seizure activity, lack of coordination while walking (like I'm drunk but without the joy of inebriation) and some short term memory loss. I have been unable to work for almost 6 months now because I cannot walk the required 2.5 miles for my security job. The best I have been able to do so far is 1 mile in a day, but I feel nauseous, dizzy and in a great deal of pain afterwards. I basicly get about 2 to 3 hours a day where my temperature drops down to near normal where I am somewhat functional. Unfortunately in the state of CT, the mininum an employer is allowed to schedule you for is 4 hours per shift. This rules out even trying to get a part time position while trying to live with all of my symptoms. So far, the medical community including the CDC and Moderna have been useless. They don't even return phone calls or emails. Even tried contacting WFSB and NPR, they didn't respond. Tried reddit but no one else has my symptoms or any good advice on what to do. I am in the process of trying to apply for short term disability but this too could take over a year to complete. Meanwhile, financially things are getting a bit rough. Would greatly appreciate any help you guys could give. Thank you very much.

Sincerely ill,

Hi my name is Peter Aiello from Manchester New Hampshire. In February 2021 I broke my neck and compressed my spinal cord in a fall. After Emergency surgery I was making a good recovery until the first dose of the Moderna Covid-19 vaccine caused secondary swelling of my spinal cord. The majority of my healing has regressed leaving me in pain with weakness in my legs, spasms in my back and arms and numbness in my hands and feet and chronic fatigue. With your help, I can heal better, and live the simple life I once enjoyed.

The treatment I'm seeking is called an intrathecal injection of mesenchymal stem cells. The cells are injected into the spinal canal and rush to the damaged spinal cord and repair some of the damage.

PARALYZED

My Sergeant (Zachary Larue) was recently paralyzed from the tailbone down in July after taking the Johnson and Johnson vaccine on deployment under threat of separation, and soon after treated for several blood clots during emergency surgery. He has received exceptionally poor treatment from the army, and next to zero support from his superiors. After seeing the conditions he is being forced to live in, and the army sweeping his condition under the rug, the only thing I am able to do at the moment is try and raise some money to upgrade his wheelchair, physical therapy, and help to outfit his house with more accessible features. He was an absolute beast in the gym before this happened and one of the most confident people I have ever met. I want to see him in his prime again. Anything helps

HEART FAILURE-CLOTS

Brandon York is organizing this fundraiser.

I took the Johnson and Johnson Covid vaccine on May 13, 2021. It started with symptoms after 2 days. I developed pneumonia in both lungs and my heart function slowed to only 10 percent. This allowed for a very large thrombosis (blood clot) to form in my lower heart. I am constantly being monitored. My blood pressure will drop due to certain meds and my heart rate stays elevated mostly. It is a constant fluid build up in my body which causes me to swell. When too full, I can't breathe hardly. This battle they tell me will go on for up to a year before I will see much improvement with my heart function. I will no longer be able to work and make a living during this year. I will apply for disability, but they tell me that's 6 months plus away, even if approved. I need help supporting my needs during that time. Any help would be welcomed, even if my pride is hating this, and it would be appreciated. Thank you for your support and love and prayers. God bless!!!!

I'm currently in Lourdes Hospital in Paducah. One of my cardiologists may send me to Vanderbilt in Nashville.

MYOCARDITIS

Charlene had her second COVID 19 vaccine on June 11th and on June 13th was rushed to to the hospital in the middle of the night. She was experiencing shortness of breath, heart pain, blue tinge to her finger tips and lips, completely lethargic and a fever of 105. NRGH was amazing and immediately took all precautions and ran immediate tests accordingly.

She was shortly diagnosed with Myocarditis and Pericarditis, including a small hole in her heart. This is a rare occurrence that has been found in some people with complications of the vaccine. Charlene had a previous under-lying heart condition, born with a heart murmur.

I plan to spend hours here to read everyone's stories, but before I do I should share my son's story and would be so grateful for anyone's input on similar situations. My 25yr old son in the Navy, who works out every day, never drinks alcohol, eats healthy, no meds, no history of medical problems or migraines at all whatsoever, etc had his 2nd shot 2 weeks before he went to the ER and then was admitted to the ICU.

it started as a strong, painful headache with vomiting. By the time he got to the Navy hospital ER he couldn't speak although fully conscious and wanted to speak, face drooping on one side, and body fully limp on entire right side, requiring his roommate to carry him inside to the ER. When my son wasn't calling me (because he couldn't) the doctor spoke to me, said that the CT wasn't showing anything obvious, spinal tap negative for meningitis, and that he was just about to get an MRI.

At some point they must have changed their minds about getting an MRI - never explained why, and when he was back to speaking and functioning normally the next day they released him. After everyone urged him to see a doctor so that he could get the MRI, the Navy doctor told him that it wasn't necessary 😞 He was referred to a neurologist though "to ease your anxieties," she said - gaslighting him. I will be flying to San Diego to go with him for his 11/30 appointment to make sure he gets the testing he needs to rule out anything that the CT didn't show.

For the following week after the attack, he felt 'pressure' in his head, dizzy, odd sense of smell - smelling bubble gum instead of pungent odors, and memory issues. He's still having memory problems and vocabulary issues (he's very smart normally) but the other symptoms have subsided. He normally never complains and never has health issues so I'm so worried about him.

Has anyone had or heard of a similar story? I thank you

Seven month update. 3 days a week I get painful injections and hooked up to all crazy machines, on top of PT twice a week and numerous other appointments just to be able to function. This is all to hopefully improve the small fiber neuropathy but there is no guarantee i will ever be completely pain free. For those asking I will not be getting a booster, but I fully still support whatever you choose for you're own body! I grieve every day my life 7 months ago, and pray I will be able to resume some normalcy. #realnotrare

ISSUES SINCE APRIL

April 6th, I woke up ecstatic. The day I had been waiting for since the first "two week" shut down. I ran out at lunch got my J&J vaccine, posted my Instagram selfie and then resumed a normal workday. The dream of returning to the office, going to happy hours, seeing my friends was giving me an overwhelming amount of joy. B 5pm I had a 103 fever and laid completely motionless on my bathroom floor. The large swelling is gone down but the sores keep crusting over ( because I pick them to release the clear fluid because it hurts and burns)

Im dubious, I had neurological problems after my second jab, was hospitalised, no reason for what happened was found, but they couldn't say it was the vaccine either. I also caught covid, and I currently have pneumonia and a possible blood clot on the lung...so I don't feel like the vaccine has even helped

Pfizer Vaccination Nightmare!

Follow up on effects on Pfizer second shot given April 9th 2021. Beaumont forced my sister to leave hospital even though she was approve to stay longer and get admitted into hospital until April 30. They did not contact Pfizer while she was in their care to let them know the bad side effect from the second Pfizer injection & still do not know how or what to treat it with!

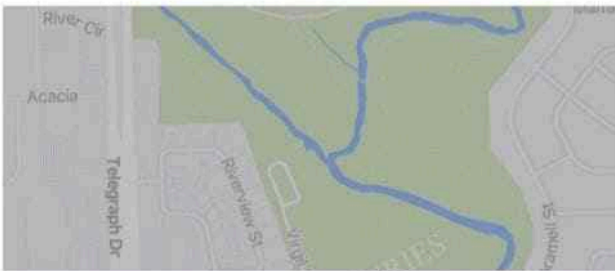

My sister has been back and forth to specialist's since being release from observation at Beaumont Hospital Royal Oak with still burning & opening wounds to her body from last injection!

We need to go public with this because others are experiencing same and people need to know before getting vaccination and not knowing the serious injuries it can cause with no hope of getting help!!!

We've contacted everyone from the CDC, VARS, MI Infectious Disease, Pfizer etc...

Detox IV treatment part 1.

Throwing the kitchen sink at this bitch! Peace out pain!

6 weeks after pfizer I had a massive burning pain in my left hand randomly. A vein in my became so enlarged and painful I thought I was gonna pass out. It went away as quickly as it came, so never got to take a picture. After that incident, the veins all in my hand all have been really swollen and painful.. and sometimes itchy. It started with just my thumb, then palm, and now other veins in my fingers. So weird, but not debilitating. Anyone have anything similar? Never dealt with this before

I want to make it clear, I am not an anti-vaxer or a conspiracy theorist, I just want healing and I believe that the more I share about my experience, the more I become connected with people that may help. I have seen so many doctors since my 1st episode in April, I've been given 6 potential diagnosis, Followed by a slew of Med recommendations (I have not taken a single thing prescribed) I'm actually terrified to add medication to my body. On a weekly basis, I do: IV treatments, physical therapy, red light therapy, acupuncture, see a chiropractor, just to seek relief. Daily, I have at least one episode of extreme muscle pain, neck pressure that penetrates to my ears and head, it feels like my ears are going to explode, like I have lack of oxygen to the brain and then, like I'm going to pass out. I've been told that I have autonomic dysfunction and my only desire is to find a way to reverse the nerve damage. I assure you, this is no "quality" of life..I just want HEALING!!!

Now let's go slowly so I can explain some things..... My advice to all people and acquaintances.. is that you don't get vaccinated for covid-19, why... Because here I am one of those who are with that garbage what I got vaccinated picked up and deep vein thrombosis on my right leg, they found two clutches that created abnormal leg rubbing from groin to foot washed with such severe pain that there I did uploaded my nose and mouth pain pills, who picked up the last drug addict and part of the pills scent hoping to get better... with there still possibilities of picking up jackpot but then examinations show theirs, and for the end DIFFERENT BRAVE CALLED EMPLOYERS, DON ' T LET THEM MAKE YOU VACCINATE.... AND FOR THIS SCUM FROM POLITICIANS, QUASTS DOCTORS IMMUNOLOGY, ETC.... SO THEY ARE SOLY TO GET VACCINATED AND BEATED TO YOU ALL THE SAME BITCHES WITH WHICH BEAUTIFUL PEOPLE ARE INSTEAD OF PHYSIOLOGICAL SOLOGIES OR HOLY LEADERS THEY RECEIVED..... WELL, LET'S SEE IF THERE WILL BE ANYTHING FOR YOU..... THE TEAM DOESN ' T GET vaccinated! Ps I would tag this bastard from our leading politicians, so maybe some portal etc... just for them to read too.....

A week ago today, my beautiful 42 year-old cousin did her traditional victory shot after a Husky win. Little did we know it would be her last one. The next morning Karissa Sherman had a pulmonary embolism and passed away.

I haven't posted anything—mainly because I just didn't know what to say. Karissa and I were part of the Branom clan via her grandpa and my grandma. We knew each other from various family gatherings but didn't really get to know each other until Facebook. Here we found a similar love of all Seattle sports and various other things (our cat kids!). I kept thinking I needed to meet her for drinks, dinner-something so we could chat in person. (The lesson here is DON'T WAIT). My heart goes out to all her friends and family. Especially Beth Ith, Sue Warter, her sister Kimberly, all Branoms, and especially her mom, Jeanne Elaine Branom, to who I will always be Krissie. 🥹 RIP, Karissa. Last Sunday I texted my cousin Karissa Sherman to let her know Kamden had just turned in his college application to UW that day. I knew she would be so proud and happy because she loved her Huskies!! But little did I know that Sunday would be the last time I would ever talk to her.

On the morning of October 25, 2021 Karissa suffered a pulmonary embolism and passed away. The sorrow and grief that I have felt this week is indescribable. To say she was my cousin is to simply state that we were indeed blood relatives. But Karissa and I were more than that. Being only 6 days apart, we literally grew up together. We would have joint birthday parties, weekend sleepovers, she danced for a short time at my mom's studio, she was one of my bridesmaids, and we were each other's "buddy" at all family gatherings. Fast forward to our lives today and Karissa was one of the closest people in my life, like a sister or best friend. She loved her football, so we went to many Seahawks games together and I truly enjoyed that time with her. We even began sharing the same hair dresser and tattoo artist.

Funerals & Memorials

Betty Jo unexpectedly passed away Saturday October 23 from complications of the Covid vaccine. The family is asking for donations to go towards her celebration of life which will be held on her birthday. Betty impacted so many and sprinkled her love on everyone in her life. We would love to send her off with a memorial she's very deserving of. Thank you
